Put on the armor.

If you feel you are going down hill in point of health, if your strength, manhood, ambition and vitality are waning, if you are troubled with malaria, dyspepsia, constipation, kidney and urinary disorders, liver complaint, nervous debility, or any other indication of premature decay, arm yourself against the coming danger with the great vitalizer and restorative tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Beginning at the stomach, the seat of all vigor, the bitters renovates and invigorates the entire system, purifies the blood, corrects its errors, and sets it coursing at work. The digestive organs in turn, emerging from a state of inactivity, resume their functions, and the liver, separate from the blood the noxious matter which the blood has deposited therein. This is the secret of the bitters' power to build up the system. It is an all-strengthening, health-restoring tonic, invigorating the weak, giving appetite to the dyspeptic, and nerve to the nervous. Try it. It will do you good. Ask your druggist or grocer for it. Use it regularly, and you will be well, a healthy man, a happy man, a man who can do his share of work and enjoy the fruits of his labor. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a most valuable medicine for those who are recovering from a long spell of sickness, for it restores the appetite, gives strength to the weak, and sleep to the wakeful invalid. It is also a most valuable medicine for those who are about to become invalids, for it prevents the inroads of disease by fortifying the system against the attacks of malaria, rheumatism, kidney and urinary troubles, and nervous debility. It is also a most valuable medicine for those who are in the prime of life, for it prevents premature decay by keeping the system in a healthy condition. Ask your druggist or grocer for it.
