LAUNCHING OF STEAMER ARROW

Preparations Made for Initial Voyage.

Vessel Will Probably Make Its Dive Next Saturday---Fastest on Pacific Coast.

The mystery which surrounds the new steamer Arrow will soon be explained.

Preparations are now being made for the launching of the vessel, which will probably occur Saturday, January 31. The exact date has not as yet been set, but the builders expect to have the boat off the ways by that time.

The finishing touches are now being made to the machinery and the new vessel will be ready to take to the water as soon as it is sufficiently high. The river will have to be at least four feet higher before the launching can occur.

The Arrow is being built at the shipyard of O. P. Graham, near the foot of East Oak street. The building of the boat has been under the supervision of Captain James Cochran, who represents the at present unknown owners.

DIMENSIONS OF BOAT.

The Arrow is 165 feet in length, 22 feet in breadth and has 7-foot draught. The boat is equipped with three triple-expansion engines. Two Taylor boilers with a capacity for 1,200 horse power each will give the motive power for the operation of the boat.

The new vessel will be strictly a passenger boat and only has enough freight capacity to carry its fuel and passengers' baggage. The builders expect the vessel to make a speed of at least 20 miles an hour.

There is no doubt that the Arrow will be used on one of the Sound runs. This much at least has been said by Captain Cochran. The exact route will, however, not be known until the day of the launching. A number of routes have been guessed at as the probable route of the Arrow, the most likely of which is between Seattle and Victoria.

STILL A MYSTERY.

This run, according to steamship men, is one of the most profitable in the Northwest. There is no opposition there at present, and many improvements may be made to the service without being very much noticed by the public.

The Arrow is one of the most handsome crafts ever constructed on the Coast and is also one of the speediest. It will cost, when completed, about $50,000. It will be about a month after the boat's launching before it is ready to be put on its regular route.

DANGEROUS WELLS

Montavilla Residents Appoint Committee to Remedy Matter.

At a former meeting of the Montavilla Board of Trade held some time ago, a committee was appointed to see the county omcials in regard to the large number of open wells that abound in that section. The committee appeared before the county body several times and was promised the necessary relief, but up to this time no action has been taken.

There are about two dozen of the open wells and cisterns in the vicinity of Montavilla, and a number of fatal accidents have been narrowly averted. Several times children have been rescued from the deep pits just at the time that they had about given up all hope of getting out alive. A number of horses and cattle have also fallen into the open holes and several of them have been shot on account of having their legs broken. Most of the wells are on property owned by the county.

SCOWS A MENACE

District Reeking With Filth and Disease---Will Be Cleaned.

A number of complaints have been made to the health authorities concerning the sanitary conditions abounding in the scow district on the river bank between the Morrison and Burnside bridges.

The dwellers of this section are not over-careful in their sanitary arrangements and the smells arising along the entire East Side water front is sickening.

A number of contagious diseases have spread over the confines of the scow district, and steps will shortly be taken to have that section thoroughly disinfected.

Has But One Officer.

Since the closing up of the gambling houses on the West Side, the East Side police force has been reduced. The force at its greatest was but a small fraction of what it should be to patrol one half of the district. In the morning hours, there is only one lone patrolman stationed on the East Side of the river.

Small Chimney Fire.

A defective flue caused a roof fire in the residence of J. W. Singletary, corner East Thirty-third and Belmont streets, last evening. The Sunnyside Fire Department, in the shape of one man, responded to the alarm. The damage was nominal.

Finishing Water Main.

The work of laying the 8-inch water main on East Burnside street from East Eighth to East Twenty-eighth street is nearly completed. The new main connects with a larger main on East Eighth street.

Old Pioneer Stricken.

Amos M. Roberts, a California pioneer of 1849, has been stricken with paralysis. Mr. Roberts resides about two miles north of St. Johns, where he has lived since about 1856. His condition is serious.

HOUSE IS BURNED

Residence at Tremont Place Destroyed Last Evening.

The explosion of a gasoline gas lamp caused the destruction of the large residence of Mr. Roberts at Tremont Place last evening. The flames soon spread and it was with the greatest difficulty that the occupants could escape with their lives.

Assistance was rendered the family by all the residents of the suburb, but the lack of sufficient water handicapped their efforts. Everything in the house was destroyed with the exception of a parlor set. The loss will amount to about $3,000. It is said that insurance for about $1,000 was carried.

OLD FOLKS' PARTY

Inmates of Home for the Aged Celebrate Silver Jubilee.

A reception was tendered Archbishop Christie in honor of his silver jubilee at the Home of the Aged on East Thirtieth street last evening. The entire faculty of the Columbia University were in attendance with the Archbishop, and the evening was spent in making the old folks happy. During the evening the Archbishop received a number of presents. The success of the reception is partially due to the work of the lady officials of the Baby's Home, who arranged the program.

NEARLY LOST EYE

Use of Slingshots Causes Trouble in Sunnyside School.

There is trouble in store for some of the pupils attending the Sunnyside School. A number of boys have been in the habit of carrying "sling-shots" and shooting at everything in sight. The other day one of the pupils nearly lost the sight of one of his eyes by receiving a charge of beans with considerable force. The police have notified the janitor of the school to arrest every boy carrying a "sling-shot" to school.

Replanking East Oak.

The old elevated roadway on East Oak street is being torn away preparatory to putting in an entire new street. All the old piles will have to be removed and new ones substituted.

SMALLPOX PATIENTS.

There are now confined at the pest house a total of 17 cases of smallpox. Dr. Biersdorff, of the city health department, says that before the week expires a number of these will be discharged, cured.

CIVIC LEAGUE TO RESUME ITS WORK

Hunt, As Chief, Will Assist It.

The New Charter Will Permit of Much Being Done to Better Portland.

The Civic Improvement Association, acting under the new charter for the City of Portland, will at once take up the work of cleaning streets and forcing the removal of obstructions from sidewalks and business thoroughfares, as well as the general improvement of the city. There is no intention in this connection to interfere either with the rights of the city or with individual privileges, and it is announced that on Front street, where merchandise and freight is landed from the river boats, no objection will be raised to the street and walks being used for storage purposes, so long as room is left for pedestrians on the walks and for vehicles in the streets.

"No, we are not dead; neither have we been asleep," said Thomas McCusker, president of the Civic Improvement Association, when interviewed regarding the inactivity of that organization. "We have been just waiting till the clouds roll by, and they seem to be moving along in a satisfactory manner."

"How do you like the announcement of appointments made by the Mayor?" was asked.

MAYOR IS PRAISED.

"They are very satisfactory; in fact, it would be difficult to select a more representative lot of men, and I think Mayor Williams has used excellent judgment in his selections.

"I believe that every man on the board has the interests of the city at heart, and we may expect a great improvement in municipal affairs."

"How does the selection of Mr. Hunt as chief of police suit you?"

"It suits me exactly; in fact, was my first choice, and whenever the opportunity offered, I advocated his selection. He is a man of large experience and will lend dignity and character to the force."

"What do you think will be his attitude toward your association?"

HUNT WILL AID WORK.

"I believe that there will be no friction between us, as Chief Hunt's duty will be to see that the laws are obeyed, and this I believe he will do in a conscientious manner, and as the object of our association is to better the conditions which prevail here, there is no reason we cannot work in harmony.

"Furthermore, the Mayor is in accord with our work, and I feel confident that we will be in a position to accomplish something. I want it understood, however, that we have no desire to in any way interfere with the duties of the police force, and will not do so, as there will be plenty of work for us to do, and I have every confidence that Chief Hunt will handle his department in a manner satisfactory to every law-abiding citizen."

"Do you expect to have a special officer for your association?"

"That is something I can not answer. We hope that in the re-organization of the force an officer may be alloted to us, as I feel quite certain the best interests of the city could be served by giving us such an officer."
