THE CANADIAN STRIKE TO END

W. R. Apperson Has Received Private Advice That Arbitration sl to Be Resorted to to End Trouble.

Agent For United Brotherhood of Railway Employes Will Leave Tomorrow on Organizing Trip in Valley.

W. R. Apperson, business agent of the United Brotherhood of Railway Employes, says the Canadian Pacific strike will soon be settled. He will leave on Wednesday for points up the valley on an organizing trip. He expects to go as far as Junction City. He makes a trip of this character once every three months.

Mr. Apperson says he has received private advices to the effect that the strike on the Canadian Pacific Railway will be settled next week in favor of the men. This strike has now been in progress for upward of three months, and until lately the officials of the road are said to have spurned all offers made by the strikers to have the differences settled by arbitration.

"At last the officials are coming to their senses," said Mr. Apperson, "and are wanting to know of the men upon what conditions they will return to work. Next week the trouble will be all over, and the men will get what they demand."

George Estes, president of the international union, is now in Denver, where he has been attending the A. L. U. convention.

Lathers Still Members.

The lathers are not, as is generally supposed, out of the Building Trades Council, although it has been reported they have withdrawn from that organization. At their last meeting they voted to withdraw, but their secession is now held to be unconstitutional.

"It was in violation of one of the clauses in our constitution, as well as contradictory to our international bylaws," said Secretary C. S. Burch, "and we will meet Thursday night to reconsider the action taken a week ago. There is a way by which we can withdraw from the council, and it is possible that this course will be taken. However, until Thursday night the lathers will remain members of the council."

New Commissioner.

O. P. Hoff, the new State Labor Commissioner, has not entered actively upon his official duties as yet on account of the serious illness of his son. He received his commission about a week ago, and will leave for the Capital City to take formal possession of his office just as soon as his soon is out of danger. The latter is in the hospital where he recently underwent a very dangerous surgical operation.
