There are more white shirts and a greater number of clean cuffs and collars worn in Portland upon the persons and necks of Portland gentlemen, and more white linen upon the persons of Portland ladies, that pass through our steam-heated linen ironer, than is turned out of half a dozen ordinary laundries. The steam heated polisher never "yellows" or burns the linen—and the public has found it out. Union Laundry, Second and Columbia.

The crowned heads of Europe send direct to Minneapolis for "Pillsbury's Best" flour, fearing that otherwise they would not get the genuine. Our Portland citizens have the genuine right here at home, and those desirous of knowing what the crowned heads eat have an opportunity to do so at small expense. This flour is the product of North Dakota No. 1 hard wheat, the best grain grown anywhere on the planet on which we live. Nottingham & Co., distributors, Front and Alder.

Sunday is to be a great day on the river—above the city. Magoon's Park will be a veritable beehive. The Foresters' of America will have their annual picnic there, and have made elaborate preparations for a royal time. The Journal newsboys will be given their first annual outing at that place also, and to accommodate all these steamers will leave foot of Taylor street every hour from 8:30 a. m. to 6:30 p. m. Every man and his mother-in-law ought to go up there tomorrow—for a good time.

The steamer Bailey Gatzert, that palatial water craft so endeared to all Columbia River travelers, will make a special trip to Collins Hot Springs tomorrow. These springs have recently been opened up as a health resort by Capt. Belcher, until a little while ago one of the owners of the St. Charles Hotel in this city. It is intended to make this one of the most enjoyable of the many most enjoyable summer trips of this magnificent steamer, and those who fail to take advantage of it will miss a rare treat. The boat passes through the $4,000,000 locks built by the government, requiring 18 years time in which to complete them. The renowned Wind Mountain may also be seen from the steamer's deck—as it passes by them.

Do not miss the Special Round Trip of the steamer Bailey Gatzert next Sunday to Collins Hot Springs, Captain Belcher's new health resort on the upper Columbia; it will be an excellent opportunity for visitors and Portland people to view the magnificent scenery of the Columbia River as far as Wind Mountain, also giving everybody a chance to see the government $4,000,000 locks at Cascades in operation. Passengers can go up Saturday morning, at 8:30 o'clock, on the steamer Regulator, if desired, and return Sunday evening, thereby securing one day's bathing at the Hot Springs. Music by the famous Nineteenth United States Regiment Orchestra. Steamer leaves Alder-street wharf Saturday, 8:30 a. m.; Sunday, 9 a. m. Special round-trip ticket, $1.50. 'Phone Main 914.

A cruel crime was perpetrated upon Roy and Beasley Miller, the young sons of Superintendent Miller of the Ladd farm, Thursday. While the boys were playing in the woods near the Ladd farm two unknown toughs met them and after overpowering the little fellows held them over heaps of black powder which they ignited. The resulting flashes burned the faces of the innocent and helpless victims and their eyesight is seriously injured. Blindness may result, while their faces are painfully burned. The children are confined to their beds. There is no trace of the inhuman fiends who committed the outrage, as they hastily made their escape. The men were evidently hunting. After capturing the Miller boys they discussed the methods of torture, finally deciding upon the plan employed. There was no reason for their cruel act.

GROUNDS SELECTED FOR CELEBRATION

Labor Day to Be Observed by Unions of Portland with Games, Sports, Etc.

Hawthorne Park and the National Baseball grounds have been secured by the Federated Trades Council in which to hold the Labor Day celebration.

It was decided at a meeting of the council last night to dispense with the parade feature of the celebration, and spend the day in rest and recreation. Games and sports of various kinds will be indulged in, however, for the entertainment of the visitors. Among the attractions will be a game of baseball, a tug of war contest and foot-racing, to the winners of which cash prizes will be given.

An effort is being made to induce two or three prominent members of the executive board of the American Federation of Labor to attend, and make short speeches. Invitations have already been extended to a number of them, and early replies are expected. Admission to the grounds for women and children will be free, but men will be charged 25 cents.

The following sub-committees were appointed last night to assist in making preparations for the event:

Grounds—Reed, Cole, McClark.

Concessions — Stanton, Trummer, Grassman.

Program—Gram, Gurr, Jones.

Advertising—McDonald, Duke, Lawton.

Speakers—Duke, McDonald.

PERSONALS.

Dr. G. W. Tape of Hot Lake, Or., is in Portland.

George S. Lang, a timberman, is at the Portland from Tacoma.

D. Wilson, a Spokane mining man, is registered at the Portland.

Sol J. Baum, a prominent Pendleton business man, is in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Callender were in Portland yesterday from Knappton.

Miss Nettie Ross returned this morning from a three weeks' visit at Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McBroom of Spokane are in Portland. Mr. McBroom is a banker.

Eugene Tausick, a Walla Walla fuel dealer and laundryman, is registered at the Perkins.

Contracting Freight Agent H. W. Rowley of the Harriman lines is in the city from Seattle.

R. M. Hall, advertising agent for the O. R. & N. Co., has gone to the seaside for a day or two.

William Harvernick, manager of the Oro Fino Trading Company of Oro Fino, Idaho, is visiting here.

Engineer J. B. C. Lockwood of the Port of Portland Commisison is in Portland from Seattle.

Miss Minnie Paul and Miss P. Maxwell of Walla Walla are in Portland on their way to the coast.

Judge D. W. Standrod of Pocatello, Idaho, who has been visiting in Portland, returned home yesterday.

J. J. Griggs, O. R. & N. agent at Wenatchee, is in Portland on his way to the coast. He is accompanied by Capt. J. D. Miller and R. W. Thayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watchorn of Montreal, Canada, are registered at the Imperial. Mr. Watchorn was formerly engaged in life insurance work in Portland.

A. N. Bohn, editor and proprietor of the Pacific Journal, Ilwaco, Wash., is in Portland for a few days' recreation. He says that the surveyors are hustling along with the North Bank railroad survey and that it is only a question of a little time when Long Beach will have direct rail connection with this city. Mr. Bohn is a friend of the chief engineer of the survey, and probably knows what he is talking about.

FORESTERS' PICNIC

A grand family outing will be given at Magoon's Park, Sunday August 2. Concert by the band; dancing, lawn tennis, croquet, swings for the little ones; general good time for all. Ice cream; all kinds of soft drinks; cakes; sandwiches. Three steamers—Dixon, Altoona, Pomona—leave foot of Taylor street every hour from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. Round trip, 25 cents. No liquors on ground. Citizens invited. Park free.

Journal friends and readers when traveling on trains to and from Portland should ask news agents for The Journal and insist upon being supplied with this paper, reporting all failures in obtaining it to the office of publication, addressing The Journal, Portland, Ore.

BOLD BURGLARS PLY THE JIMMY

Enter the Winter Garden Early This Morning and Rob Two Cash Registers of Some Small Change.

Robbers Evidently Familiar with the Premises—Overlooked a Sack of Change Under the Bar—No Clues.

For the first time in many weeks, the holdups took a vacation last night, probably spending the fruits of the recent good hauls from H. H. Bancroft and John Whitney. No outrages of footpads were reported at the Police Station, or at least none were given out from that source.

Burglars were however at work, and the Winter Garden, at Third and Morrison streets, was broken into during the early hours of the morning and some small change taken from the cash registers. The robbery was similar to the one of the night previous at the Peerless saloon at Third and Ash, with the exception that there the burglars were more successful and made away with $74.

To gain entrance to the Winter Garden the burglars used a "jimmy" in breaking the lock to the basement door. They first disconnected the heavy iron rod which is placed across the stairway at the Morrison street entrance. This they carried with them to use as a lever or a weapon of defense in case of a surprise. The robbers were evidently familiar with the premises and the time the night watchman made his rounds. They opened two cash registers but only succeeded in getting some small change which did not amount to over a dollar.

A sack containing about $20 in change had been thrown under the bar when the night man closed the place. It is thought that this was the prize they were after, as they thought that the change would be left in the cash register. Manager Green stated: "The burglars probably took a few cigars and could have taken several bottles of case goods without it being missed. The police are working on the case, but nothing will probably come of it as the men left no clues for the detectives to work on. I have some suspicions of my own as to the guilty parties but have no evidence to back them up."

BADLY BATTERED IN SIDEWALK FIGHT

Joseph Simpson Has Encounter on Street and Is Arrested This Morning.

A desperate fight occurred shortly before 2 o'clock this morning on the sidewalk near Fifth and Alder streets. Two men were striking at each other viciously while a dozen others looked on and watched the encounter. When Patrolman Nelson appeared, attracted by the noise, the man who was on top quickly made his escape. The under man was placed under arrest and at the police station, where he was charged with fighting, he registered as Joseph Simpson. He is said to be an employe of a Portland hotel. Simpson was badly handled in the fight, for his face presented a fearful sight and his wounds bled freely. He was released on bail but freely. He was released on bail but could not appear in the Police Court, whereupon the case was continued until Tuesday.
