TAKEN FROM SICK BED TO CAST VOTE

Rather than not cast his ballot at the election yesterday, J. L. Rathbun insisted on being taken from his sickbed and conveyed in a carriage to the polls. His relatives and friends besought him to forego his intention, but he refused and cast his ballot at precinct No. 61, Mount Tabor. It is said that he voted for Word and Manning.

Mr. Rathbun is a Grand Army veteran and has taken a prominent part in politics. He has lived at Mount Tabor for 25 years. No ill effects have followed the carrying out of his desire to have the privilege of voting.

A PILOT'S PROTEST.

Portland, June 1.—To the Editor of The Journal—An editorial appeared in this morning's Oregonian about bar pilots starting to agitate for an increase of pilotage on the Columbia river bar. I wish to deny this and state that there has not been any such question discussed among the pilots. We wish that the papers would stop writing us up, especially the Oregonian. At the commencement of our season's work this paper publishes an article detrimental to our service. We have the best service, or as good as any in the United States, and everything would go along smoothly if the person who writes these articles would let us alone and mind his own business. BAR PILOT.

A BETTER DEMAND FOR POTATOES RULING

POTATOES SHOW A BETTER SALE

MARKET CONDITIONS ARE IMPROVING BOTH IN THIS CITY AND IN SAN FRANCISCO—STRAWBERRIES CHEAPER AGAIN—WOOL BOOMS—EGGS FIRMER.

Front Street, June 7.—The principal features of the Portland wholesale markets today are:
Veal market is bad shape.
Eggs are quoted firmer.
Strawberries sell good at cut price.
Demand for potatoes springs up.
New celery is coming.
Flour market improving.
Wool is selling higher.
Small demand for chittem bark.
Asparagus becomes scarcer.
Onion are quoted lower.
Better demand for loans.
Poultry market is quite weak.

Demand for Potatoes Springs Up.

It is apparent to all that there is an improved tone in the market for old potatoes, the local demand being greater, as also is the call in San Francisco. In the bay city the demand has practically cleaned up the large surplus which that market has held for several weeks and fair prices are being obtained. Dealers in this city are not now adverse to buying stock of fair quality and some few sales by growers were made yesterday afternoon and today. Those members of the combination who felt a little groggy a short time ago are recovering their spirits and a 2-cent market is considered one of the possibilities before the close of the season. Although new potatoes are arriving in better shape from California they are not of that stock which would demand a large sale. With the larger production of new stock in the southern state there will also be a large demand for old Oregon potatoes from seed and this demand alone will be sufficient to help the market to a higher plane.

California Onions Are Cheaper.

The receipts of California onions are still showing an increase and the quality is becoming better. The demand is quite large but the arrivals are too high to keep the prices up. A slight decline in quotations is noted today.

Strawberries Selling at Cut Price.

The receipts of strawberries are simply immense and although the demand is very large ruling quotations are ruling. This is especially true of fruit that arrives in late in the day and clean-up figures are quite a bit under the regular lists. Hood River berries are practically out of this market on account of the competition of nearby fruit and lower prices. Hood River is now devoting her energies to shipments to the north and to the east. If the receipts increase at their present ratio the various canneries will soon resume operations. Today's prices on berries rule from 5 to 6¼c per pound.

Veal Market Is in Bad Shape.

It seems that the veal shippers will never learn the lesson that it does not pay to ship poor-grade stock into the market no matter what the condition of trade is. During the past few days the Front street markets have been simply covered with the receipts of very poor quality meat and in some cases the arrivals had to be sent to the creamatory in order to preserve the health of the street. Fancy veal will most always find a fair demand and this is true of the present market.

Flour Market Is Improving.

There is a constant improvement in the flour market and several of the small mills of the Willamette valley will resume operations during the next few days after a suspension of about two months. New inquiries are coming from the orient and local millers are of the opinion that it will not be long before the flour trade with that section will reach its normal standing, if nothing else.

Wool Is Selling Higher.

Conditions are very active in wool and all through the market higher prices are ruling. In the Willamette valley fine wool is being snapped up with all possible speed at 19c, while the coarse to medium wool is quoted from 17 to 18½c.

A Small Demand for Chittem Bark.

Just now there is a small demand for chittem bark at prices ranging from 4 to 5c per pound. Throughout the state the woods are filled with chittem gatherers who were induced to gather the bark by the very high figures of a year ago. Dealers in this city are not over anxious to purchase, but sales at 4 and 5c have been reported during the past day or so.

Better Demand for Lemons.

With the early approach of the warm spell there is an increased demand for lemons and large sales are reported with the market looking higher. Oranges are ruling firm with stocks of good fruit small. Asparagus is scarcer with but a few arrivals from the valley.

Poultry Market Is Quite Weak.

The poultry market is quite weak with the receipts still too large of old hens. Springs are now so plentiful that they are being quoted at 20c per pound instead of by the dozen. Large, young geese and ducks find a good demand, but old geese seem to be off.

Eggs Are Quoted Firmer.

The egg market is quoted firmer with the receipts and the demand about equal.

New celery is now arriving from California and is quoted at 75c per dozen head.

Merchants' Opinions on Today's Market.

W. B. Glafke Comapay—Strawberry market very weak with lower prices ruling; butter remains unchanged as far as the price is concerned.

W. T. Turner & Co.—Egg market is steady; too much poor-grade veal coming; chickens are lower this week.

Bell & Co.—Car bananas and car oranges on street today; ctrawberries lower.

Chatterton & Co.—Fancy veal ready sale; hogs show slow call; chicken market easier; eggs firm at market quotations.

Dryer, O'Malley & Co.—Potato market looks better; city trade is improving and advices from Frisco say a better feeling is ruling there; berries are considerably lower with the receipts large and demand good; chicken market sagging a little; veal is slower.

G. S. Smith Company—Potato market again firmer; chickens weak; veal is bad both in quality and price.

Malarkey & Co.—Salmon continues scarce; plenty of Columbia river shad now coming.

D. E. Meikle—There is a good demand for good strawberries; market ruling from 5 to 7c.

Davenport-Thompson Company — Strawberry demand is fairly good; Oregon cherries coming faster; eggs are firm; butter firmer.

Everding & Farrell—Veal is improved for the better class of stock; chickens weaker all the way through; eggs are firmer at quoted price.

Tott, Hine & Co.—Everything in our line moving along satisfactory.

McKinley Mitchell—Seems to be a better tone in the Frisco potato market, but there is nothing positive as yet; wool is showing a great demand.

STOCK MARKET NOW ACTS LITTLE BETTER

(Furnished by Overbeck, Starr & Cooke Co.)

New York, June 7.—Logan & Bryan say: The action of the stock market is a little better. It does not seem likely there will be anything in the candidates or platforms of either party that will disturb confidence, but it is a dullness that comes from conservative and not overstrained resources. It is a conservatism on the part of the consumers and distributers which is not likely to last indefinitely. Crop prospects on the whole were never better. With local and temporary exceptions the conditions are all favorable. We have no doubt had the brunt of the gold exports. All these conditions, we think, must tell in time and with patience it may not be too soon to begin to anticipate them.
