him in the neck in proportion to the greatness of the founder. In extreme cases you may bleed him as long as he can stand up. Then draw his head up, as is common in drenching, and with a spoon put back on his tongue strong salt, until you get him to swallow one pint. Be careful not to let him drink too much. Then anoint round the edges of his hoofs with spirits of turpentine, and your horse will be well in one hour. A founder pervades every part of the system of a horse. The fleam arrests it in the blood, the salt arrests it from the stomach from the feet and limbs. I once rode a hired horse ninety-nine miles in two days, returning him at sight the second day, and his owner would not have known that he had been foundered if I had not told him ; and his founder was one of the deepest kind. I once in a travel of seven hundred miles foundered my horse three times, and I do not think my journey was retarded more than one day by the misfortune, having in all cases observed and practiced the above prescription. I have known a undered horse turned in at night on green feed ; in the morning he would be well, having been parged by the green feed. All founders must be attended to immediately .- S. W. Farmer.
