BUILDING BOOM REACHES ASTORIA

NEW HOSPITAL TO BE ERECTED BY SISTERS OF ST. MARY—PROPOSAL ALSO UNDER CONSIDERATION FOR BUILDING OF NEW SCHOOL—COURT HOUSE PROGRESSING.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Astoria, Or., Oct. 18.—The Sisters of St. Mary's hospital have announced that a new modern hospital will be erected in Astoria. Work will be begun in the spring, and by January 1, 1906, it is expected the hospital will be ready for occupancy. The present institution has accommodations for 50 patients, while the new one will be able to care for 100. It will cost $75,000 to $80,000, be of four stories and built of stone and brick. The public will be asked to assist financially. The sisters believe many outside patients will come to the new hospital on account of the unsurpassed and healthful climate.

A proposal is also under way for the erection of a new hotel. The company is to be organized shortly. It is purposed to put up a five-story building, to cost about $100,000. The company in charge will be made up of local capitalists.

Work on Court House.

Work on Clatsop county's new $150,000 court house is progressing favorably and the basement is nearly finished. This structure will be two stories in height, but the basement will be above the level of the street, giving ther building a three-story appearance. It will be one of the finest public buildings in the state, with ample vault room.

The new city hall is also well along. This structure is to cost $50,000. It will be located at Sixteenth and Exchange streets and will fill the present needs of the municipality.

Big Building Boom.

Astorians never before experienced so extensive a building boom as is on at present. Scores of new structures are being put up all over the city, and scores of others will be erected as soon as carpenters can be found to do the work. Manager Hedrick of Hedrick's theatre has been striving to have his playhouse enlarged, but has been unable to secure carpenters here or at Portland. Despite the building boom, which has been on for nearly a year, there is constantly increasing clamor for more homes. Astoria's population has increased 25 per cent in the last six months and trade conditions were never before so gratifying. It is confidently expected the state census will give the city a population of nearly 20,000. The remarkable growth is attributed to development of local industries.

Yours for Nothing.

Before you finish reading the paper you'll probably see the Saypo advertisement calling your attention to the unusual offer The Journal is making to its classified advertisers. It tells you about a valuable premium, namely Saypo Washing Powder, which is being given away absolutely free with cash "want ads," for either the daily or Sunday Journal.

This powder is a home product manufactured in Portland, and like The Journal "want" columns wants more and wider publicity. They're two good things and you'll say so, too, if once you acquire the habit of their use. The Journal ads bring quick returns and furthermore, lots of 'em. The washing powder is peerless. It contains no harmful ingredients and will not injure the hands or the finest fabrics. It does its work thoroughly, too. You know the want ad rate—21 words for 15 cents.
