WEATHER REPORT.

The storm central yesterday over Kansas has moved northeastward and is central this morning over the Dakotas. Another disturbance is central in the Great Salt Lake basin.

Unsettled, showery weather has prevailed during the last 24 hours in the Pacific coast states except in western Washington, where no rain of consequence has occurred. Good rains have fallen in the upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys and in the upper lake region, and scattering showers are reported along the south Atlantic coast.

It is cooler this morning throughout the middle western states; elsewhere in the United States temperature changes have been small and unimportant.

The indications are for partly cloudy weather tonight and Friday.
