DECORATE GRAVES OF THE SLAIN

Anniversary of Red Sunday Passes Quietly in Russia—No Rioting Mars Day.

FACTORIES ARE CLOSED IN MEMORY OF MARTYRS

Extraordinary Precautions Taken by Authorities to Prevent Outbreak Have Their Effect—Workmen's Homes Draped in Black.

(Journal Special Service.)

St. Petersburg, Jan. 22.—Extraordinary precautions were taken by the authorities to prevent disorderly or riotous demonstrations today, the first anniversary of Bloody Sunday, when hundreds of strikers were shot down by the military when they attempted to present a petition to the czar. In memory of the day all the factories, mills and other industrial enterprises remained closed. Houses of the working people generally had the windows draped in black. Large bodies of troops were held in readiness and no crowds were permitted to congregate on the thoroughfares.

Due to these precautions the day passed without serious disturbance. Socialists and workingmen generally observed the day by prayers and decorating graves of their murdered comrades. The theatres are practically all closed. At the Preobjansk, Smolensk and other cemeteries graves were decorated with wreaths and red ribbons, while mounted police and Cossacks watched the proceedings.

PEACEFUL IN BERLIN.

Demonstrations Pass Off Quietly in Spite of Rumors of Violence.

(Journal Special Service.)

Berlin, Jan. 22.—Although many rumors were afoot that the Socialist demonstrations of yesterday would result in disorders of a serious nature, the opposite resulted. In this city as well as other parts of the empire the demonstrations passed off in a most orderly manner. The government, however, had taken extra precautions and in the immediate vicinity of every meeting large forces of police were stationed in adjoining buildings ready to act on a moment's notice.

HEBREWS PARADE.

Fifty Thousand Jews of the East Side March New York Streets.

(Journal Special Service.)

New York, Jan. 22.—A monster parade of Hebrews marched through the streets of the east side today in honor of the memory of those killed during the riots in St. Petersburg a year ago. It is estimated that the paradere numbered 50,000. Conspicuous among them were a large number of refugees who had escaped the Russian massacres.

IMPORTING ITALIANS TO REPLACE NEGROES

(Journal Special Service.)

New Orleans, La., Jan. 22.—With the arrival of the Italian Royal Mail liner Vincenzo Florio, which is due here tomorrow from Palermo with 806 Italian immigrants, there shall have been taken the initial step toward increasing immigration to the United States through this port. The steamship company will maintain a bi-monthly service and it is estimated it will bring to New Orleans about 6,000 Italian immigrants annually. The bulk of them will be distributed throughout this section and among the sugar plantations and cotton fields, where the demand for labor is daily becoming greater and more imperative.

REV. CARRUTHERS P. B. MARTIN, LL. D. Of Waverly, Texas, writes: "Of a morning, when first arising, I often find a troublesome collection of phlegm, which produces a cough and is very hard to dislodge; but a small quantity of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will at once dislodge it, and the trouble is over. I know of no medicine that is equal to it, and it is so pleasant to take. I can most cordially recommend it to all persons needing a medicine for throat or lung trouble." BLUFFED OUTLAWS WITH PISTOL

How Senator Gearin, When a Young Man, Secured the Conviction of Six.

THREATENED TO SHOOT BAND OF SYMPATHIZERS

Had Been Warned That He Would Be Killed If He Prosecuted, and Challenged Cut-Throats to Begin Attack.

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.)

Washington, Jan. 22.—The Washington Post tells the following Gearin story:

"Behind the mild manner and the Chesterfieldian bearing of the new senator from Oregon, Hon. John M. Gearin, there is personal courage and daring such as few men possess," said a former Oregonian in the lobby of the New Willard.

"Back in the '80's, when Gearin was a young prosecuting attorney, it became necessary for him to try some notorious criminals for murder. They were men who had terrorized a community, and counsel could not be engaged to prosecute them, though they were known to be assassins and outlaws. Gearin went forward with his duty handicapped with a judge who had become intimidated on account of receiving letters which threatened his life if he ruled against the defendants. Each morning's mail brought to Gearin similar communications, and on the day he was to address the court he got notice that if he dared denounce the prisoners he would be killed.

"Rising deliberately when the time came for him to talk, the young prosecutor paused, looked sternly into the faces of the criminals, gazed for a moment at their band of sympathizers, and said: 'I have received notice that if I speak of you murderers as you deserve and of your gang of cutthroats as they should be branded'—pointing toward the friends—'I will be shot to death where I stand. Now, before I proceed further, I have to say that if there is to be some shooting we will have it out now.'

"With this he drew a pistol of good caliber from his overcoat pocket, and placing it on the table before him, continued: 'I am ready, and if any of you cowards think you are going to shoot me in the back, I warn you that I shall be facing you throughout my argument, and the first man who makes a move against either the judge or myself will get a piece of lead.'

"A silence, as of death, followed, and a chill settled upon that courtroom that was hardly removed by the fervor of the splendid speech made by Gearin, the result of which was the conviction of six of them of murder in the first degree. Their hanging later was the first that had happened in that district for years, and was due solely to the courage of one man."

NOT SO MANY GO TO SCHOOL NOW

One Hundred Thirteen Fewer Pupils Attend Last Friday Than Month Ago.

The attendance in the public schools has fallen off somewhat since the Christmas vacation. According to the reports for the school month ending with Friday there were 13,762 pupils in actual attendance Friday, which was 113 less than on a corresponding day of the former month. In the High school there were 1,024 pupils present. Highland school has the largest number of pupils of the elementary schools, the number present Friday being 828.

There are three more weeks of the fall term and teachers and pupils are preparing for final examinations, which will be held the last two weeks. After a vacation lasting three days the spring term will begin. It is anticipated that there will be a large increase in the attendance in the schools, especially those on the east side. The buildings are now considerably crowded and if many additional pupils register the school board will have a serious time affording accommodations for all.

The new Irvington school will be ready for occupancy when the spring term opens and the crowded condition in the schools of the east central portion of the city will be relieved. Pupils will be transferred from the Williams avenue and the Highland school to the Irvington school and transfers will in turn be made to the Highland and Williams avenue school. Several new teachers will have to be employed by the school board for the new school. The selections probably will be made at the meeting of the board tonight.

Schools throughout the county outside the city are preparing for the spring examinations, which will take place the first week in February. A large number of eighth grade pupils will take the examinations for promotions to the High school. County Superintendent Robinson is busy visiting the schools of the county.

WILL HONOR CHARTER OF DAVID D'ANGERS

Balfour, Guthrie & Co. will load the French bark David d'Angers with a grain cargo on the sound whether she reached Port Townsend in time to save the charter or not. This announcement was made by a member of the firm today. He explained that the owners put forth every effort to carry out their part of the contract and the charterers have no intention of being capricious. So far the firm has not been apprised of her arrival but suppose she is there by this time.

Kerr, Gifford & Co. have chartered the French bark Jean Baptiste to load grain at Portland and Tacoma for the United Kingdom. Only 1,000 tons of the cargo will be taken on here.

Railroad Asks New Trial.

Arguments for a new trial in the damage case of Charles Oberg against the Northern Pacific Railway company were heard by Judge Charles E. Wolverton in the United States district court this morning. Mr. Oberg was awarded $10,000 damages for injuries received in the Elks' excursion to Tacoma in August, 1903. The railroad appeals from the award of the late Judge Bellinger, who tried the case.

BALLOTS BIG AS BLANKETS

About a Hundred and Fifty Candidates Will Be Listed at Primary Election.

EACH CAN TELL WHAT HIS PLATFORM MEANS

Voter Who Does His Full Duty Will Be Tired Before He Finishes His Contract—The Expense of Printing Also Will Be Very Great.

Ballots in the primary election which is to be held in this county next April will need to be as big as tablecloths. Scores of candidates are already in the field and many more are expected to appear before the date for filing nominating petitions. Every candidate who has filed such petition will be given a place on the ballot, which must also contain a summary of the candidate's declaration of principles.

There must be one ballot for Republican candidates and another for Democratic. The law provides that both ballots must be of the same size, although in the coming primary there will undoubtedly be many more Republican than Democratic candidates.

Nominations for 27 different offices must be made by the voters in this county if he expresses his choice for each office that is to be filled. From present indications it is thought probable that there will be an average of five or six Republican candidates for each office. Predictions are made that the number of names on the Republican ballot at the very least will not be less than 150 and will probably exceed 300. With the name of each candidate must be printed a summary, not exceeding a dozen words, of the measures or policy which he proposes to advocate.

Voters will have opportunity to express their choice for United States senator, and owing to the provisions of the direct primary law unusual importance will attach to this expression. In addition they must make nominations for state offices, as follows:

Governor, justice of the supreme court, secretary of state, state treasurer, superintendent of public instruction, attorney-general, state printer, two state senators, 13 state representatives, two judges of the circuit court, one congressman.

The county offices for which nominations must be made are: County judge, one county commissioner, sheriff, county clerk, treasurer, auditor, coroner, county surveyor, one justice and one constable in each of the four districts of the county, and one county central committeeman from each precinct.

For some offices the number of candidates promises to be small, but for others there will be a scramble. Nearly a dozen Republicans are reputed to be candidates for sheriff and the number of aspirants for the judicial nominations increases every week. The legislative bee is buzzing in the bonnets of numerous would-be statesmen and it is estimated that there will be at least 40 aspirants for the 15 places to be filled in the Multnomah delegation.

The voter who attempts to exercise his full privileges at the primaries this spring will have a serious task on his hands and the mere cost of printing the ballots promises to be a considerable item of expense.

JAP WHO SKIPPED HAS BEEN CAUGHT

Ben Osato, the diminutive Japanese who is accused of taking $600 intrusted to him to pay off laborers employed near Hillsboro and then to have fled the country, was arrested this morning at Vancouver, British Columbia, by Chief of Police North. A telegram conveying this information was received by Chief of Police Gritzmacher. The arrest was made on the strength of a circular of information, to which was annexed a photograph of the Japanese, sent out Saturday by Head Police Clerk Archie Leonard.

The complaint against Osato was signed by H. Kuipamota, a Japanese contractor, whose office is at 263 Everett street. Osato made the trip to Hillsboro, but paid nobody, and on returning took the train for the north. Detectives Welch and Hartman worked on the case and the latter will go to Vancouver after the prisoner.

TRIAL OF JEW NUN FOR MURDER COMES SOON

Deputy District Attorney Moser this morning asked that February 7 be reserved on the court calendar for the trial of Jew Nun, accused of murdering Lee Yeck Lee, which Judge Frazer agreed to do. If the case is called for trial at that date it will make two first-degree murder cases to be tried in the local circuit court next term, the other being that of D. C. Kelley, charged with having killed Thomas Flemmings on December 15. Kelly's trial has been set for February 12. J. M. Long and Alexander Sweek have been engaged to assist the state in the Chinese murder case. The same attorneys aided the district attorney during the murder trial of Louie Ferraris last fall. This morning Mr. Sweek stated that there were two out of the state witnesses remaining in Portland to appear in this case.

"It was almost a miracle. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me of a terrible breaking out all over the body. I am very grateful." Miss Julia Filbridge, West Cornwell, Conn.

August Erickson Sued.

Suit has been begun in the circuit court by Wilfred M. Farrell against August Erickson for the recovery of $166. The sum is claimed as attorneys' fees by the firm of Spencer & Davis, who transferred the account to Farrell.
