HOOD RIVER FAIR IS CLOSED

Monster Crowd Swells Receipts and Exposition Proves Financial Success.

MAY BE MADE AN ANNUAL EVENT OF THE DISTRICT

Mammoth Vegetables Shown by Ranchers Prove That Products Other Than Fruit Are Worthy of Distinction in State.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Hood River, Or., Oct. 13.—The Hood River fruit fair came to a very successful termination today with a larger attendance than on the preceding days, The Dalles having sent a delegation of over 200 to swell the crowd. The executive committee say the receipts will cover the expenses and that the fair has been a success financially as well as in other respects.

Professor Cordley of the Oregon Agricultural College and F. H. Newell, president of the state board of horticulture, were visitors at the fair today, as were also a good many others from Portland and the Willamette Valley.

The judges in examining the vegetables found that Hood River could grow some monsters in that line as well as apples. D. L. Davidson exhibited a hill of potatoes that weighed 17 pounds and a squash belonging to Charles Chandler is four feet long, a foot thick and weighs about 60 pounds. Sugar cane and Kaffir corn 15 feet high, grown by R. H. Wallace, were also on exhibition.

Display in Mourning.

The display of fruit belonging to Sears & Porter, draped in mourning, owing to the death of Mr. Sears, was a conspicuous feature of the show this afternoon.

Fruit-growers and horticulturists from all parts of the state who have been here say that the fair has been a benefit not only to Hood River, but to fruit-growers throughout Oregon, as it has thoroughly demonstrated what can be done in the way of growing perfect and cleaner fruit than tracts or experiment stations.

Growers who have been here from Grants Pass and the Rogue River country say that they have obtained most valuable information which they hope will help in eradicating scale and other pests in that section.

There is some talk of making the fair an annual one, as many orchards will come into bearing next year, and it is thought it would be successful.

DRAGGED THREE BLOCKS BY HIS RUNAWAY TEAM

After his team had run from Sherman street on Fourth to Madison yesterday afternoon J. M. Reig succeeded in catching one of the horses by the bridle. He was dragged three blocks by the frightened animals, but stopped them at Taylor street.

The team, hitched to a heavy farm wagon, was left standing at Sherman and Fourth streets while Reig stepped into a nearby store. They became frightened at a passing auto, and raced down Fourth street, with Reig in pursuit. No injury was done either to Reig, the team or the wagon.

CONTRACT IS LET FOR GRAND RONDE BRIDGE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

La Grande, Or., Oct. 13.—The Union county circuit court has awarded the contract for the construction of the new bridge over the Grand Ronde river near the Palmer Lumber company's mill, to decided that a steel bridge would be the cheapest in the long run. There will also be a railroad bridge over the river near this point.

P. S. Esterday & Co., of Fairbury, Nebraska, the contract price being $2,890. The bridge is to be of steel of 100 feet span. A large number of bids were offered, and they covered both wood and steel and mixed structures, but it was

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

Buy now; dirt never will be cheaper.

Dinna wait—now is the time.

Years ago you should have bought and increased your wealth as you know others did.

'Tis not too late; better prospective conditions than ever exist.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

You can not go wrong in buying now.

Patrick Henry, your old friend, said, "There is only one way of judging of the future, that is by the past," our only criterion.

There is no city in the union presenting such opportunities as are now knocking at your door.

Where can you find income property bringing greater net returns?
Where can you find property for investment increasing so rapidly?

See Evans if there is anything you want or want to dispose of and see Evans if you want to know how he discussed conditions with our elderly pessimist.
