WEATHER REPORT.

The Rocky mountain high pressure area has decreased in intensity and it is moving slowly eastward. Light rain has fallen in southern California, and the weather is cloudy and threatening in northern California. Fair weather continues in the north Pacific states. The disturbance yesterday over the upper lake region has diminished greatly in intensity and remained nearly stationary. A new disturbance has made its appearance north of Montana. The barometer is relatively high over the gulf states. Fair weather prevails generally everywhere east of the Rocky mountains. It is much warmer in the Ohio valley and lower lake region. Low temperatures continue in the south Atlantic and east gulf states, and a heavy frost was reported this morning at Jacksonville.

Fair weather will probably continue in this district during the next 36 hours.
