KIDNAPS BROTHER; BOTH RUN AWAY

Being an Account of Adventures of Louis and Willie, Victims of Wanderlust.

Stung by the wanderlust bee, Louis and Willie Coisinski of Portland got as far as Bridal Veil this morning when they were nabbed by an inquisitive officer, who could not understand why such small travelers, 15 and 11 years of age, but diminiutive in stature for their years, were not attended by older persons.

Louis, the elder of the two was kidnapped by his 11-year-old brother while he was on his way to school yesterday. Three times before Willie has run away, twice taking his brother with him. Once they were picked up at St. Johns, the second time at Hillsboro.

After the Hillsboro affair Louis was placed in the detention home by the juvenile court. While he was there Willie ran away by himself and reached Linnton before he was returned. Yesterday Willie intercepted his brother on the way to school and the next heard of them was a message to Chief Probation Officer Teuscher from Bridal Veil this morning, announcing that the boys were in custody there.

This evening the youngsters will be brought to Portland and once more will face Judge Gantenbein in the juvenile court. Their mother is living, but cannot control them. At times they have passed under the names of Saltman and Schwartz, hoping thus to throw pursuers off the trail.

ORGANIZE TO ASSIST THE SUPERANNUATED

Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday in the county clerk's office for the conference claimants' fund for superannuated ministers of the Methodist church. The object is to place the support of aged and infirm ministers or of those dependent upon them on a firm financial basis, in order that a permanent fund may be maintained from which yearly appropriations may be made to those who have served the church long and faithfully without sufficient recompense. This project has the full support of the church and was authorized at the last session of the Oregon conference held at Salem.

The present assets of the corporation are $3500, but substantial donations are already pledged and it is likely that a sufficient sum will shortly be realized to provide in comfort for those who have spent their best years in preaching the gospel in a new country and who in their old age are left practically penniless as the result of their self sacrificing labors.

The officers of the organization are: Rev. W. T. Kerr of Portland, president; A. F. Flegel of Portland, vice president; Theodore Fessler of Portland, secretary; Rev. T. L. Jones of Brownsville, treasurer. All of these named are trustees, as are also Rev. Hiram Gould of Forest Grove and J. I. Jones of Cottage Grove.

BUTTEVILLE GRANGE OPPOSES REMOVAL

Members of the Butteville, Or., grange at a meeting held recently placed themselves on record as being opposed to moving the state capital. A resolution adopted to this effect follows:

"Resolved, That we, the members of Butteville grange No. 74, Patrons of Husbandry, are opposed to the removal of the state capital from Salem to Portland, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the state master, Austin T. Buxton, to be presented to the state grange meeting at McMinnville May 11."

HAMILTON ESCAPES THE WHIPPING POST

Fred W. Hamilton, made a candidate for the whipping post on a wifebeating charge by reason of an indictment by a grand jury, was acquitted by a jury in Judge Gatens' department of the circuit court this morning. The prosecuting witness was Pearl G. Hamilton, his wife, who told of an assault on March 11. The charge was assault and battery, for which the lash may be imposed as a sentence by the court. Deputy District Attorney Thad W. Vreeland prosecuted the case, and John H. Stevenson represented the defendant.

ANOTHER KING IS BORN IN PORTLAND

Another king is born—King Wilhelm the Fourth. The new king is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schultz and he tips the scales at 10½ pounds. Mr. Schultz is being congratulated today by his friends in "King" William Bailey's realm, where he has many friends. William Bailey is "King" William the Second. A fine new baby buggy was the present from the boys of Turn Halle.

ZEPPELIN SHIP UP ONLY 14 HOURS

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Berlin, April 7.—Count Zeppelin's big airship, which started from Friedrichshafen at 10 o'clock last night, failed to remain aloft for 24 hours. It came to earth today after being in the air 14 hours.

Count Zeppelin did not command the huge craft, the crew being composed of German army officers.

HIDDEN DANGERS

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Portland Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here's Portland proof:

W. Jenkins, retired, 1110 E. Harrison St., Portland, Oregon, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used by myself and other members of my family with entire satisfaction. Acute attacks of backache annoyed me off and on for some time and dull, dragging pains throughout the kidney regions made it difficult for me to attend to my work. The kidneys were badly out of order and caused me additional annoyance. When Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention, I procured a box and began their use. They brought relief sooner than I expected and I continued taking them until my trouble had entirely disappeared. From that time to this I have had continued freedom from kidney complaint and I cheerfully recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers of weak or inactive kidneys."

MRS. JACOBS MAKES SETTLEMENT WITH HUSBAND'S FAMILY

At the eleventh hour, but in time to prevent the airing in court of her domestic troubles, Mrs. Suzanne D. Jacobs has secured a money settlement from her husband's family for the alienation of his affections, which she charged was accomplished by "subtle contrivance, coaxing, money inducements and threats of disinheritance."

Mrs. Jacobs' suit for $200,000 damages was to have been tried in the circuit court this morning, but the attorneys announced that negotiations looking to a compromise were in progress. Later it was stated by the attorneys that all had been settled. G. G. Schmitz, who represented Mrs. Jacobs, said that part of the agreement was that the amount she received should not be disclosed. At the same time, he said, it was a substantial sum.

Mrs. Jacobs has also had the satisfaction of obtaining a divorce from Morton D. Jacobs, although he secured a decree from her at Oregon City a few months ago. She knew nothing about the divorce until it was granted, and her attorneys had the case reopened. Then, by agreement, she was given the decree.

In the damage case the defendants were Isaac Jacobs, Clara Jacobs, Alfred G. Jacobs, Gaston G. Jacobs, Garry B. Jacobs and Lillian Lang. In this list are the father and mother, brothers and sister of Morton D. Jacobs. The latter was married to the plaintiff in July, 1899, and she alleged that they lived happily until September, 1905, when her husband was induced to leave her by the coaxing and threats of disinheritance of his relatives.

Mrs. Jacobs is a Seattle, and she married Morton D. Jacobs over the protest of his family. The husband's relatives, however, denied that they were responsible for the separation. They engaged Delph, Mallory, Simon & Geatin to defend the case and fought it through all the preliminary stages. Rather than have the matter explcited in court, the Jacobs family decided to negotiate for settlement, but did not do so until the eve of the trial.

BACHELOR RANCHER COMES HERE TO SEEK PARAGON FOR WIFE

William Doyle is tramping the streets of Portland today looking for a wife. He is a rancher from near Boyd, Or., and says he is tired of living alone. On his way to Portland he stopped at The Dalles and secured from J. M. Filloon, city recorder, the names of the Woodlawn maidens who had written to that official, announcing their willingness to say "yes" to an eligible bachelor. Armed with this list he started out from the New Western hotel this morning, declaring his intention of personally submitting a proposition of marriage to the girl who best suited him.

"I ain't going to take any chances," declared this rancher, who would submit to the bonds of matrimony. "I want a woman who can cook; who doesn't spend all her time fixing her hair according to the latest style, who won't have anything to do with these newfangled hats and styles of dresses. I want someone to take care of the chickens. I don't want her to be afraid of working on a ranch, and I don't want a woman who will nag me to death with ailments and freak notions."

Doyle is an elderly man of not extremely handsome appearance. He says he can make up in cash what he lacks in looks and that he will treat the girl right if she's the right one.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Rainier, Or., April 7.—A. B. Wright of A. J. Wright & Co., bankers of Buffalo, has spent the past week inspecting the company's immense holdings in Rainier. The company recently acquired 500 acres adjoining Rainier and 20,000 feet of water frontage, through the heart of the city.

After having spent but a half day in viewing his holdings, Mr. Wright said that Rainier was one of the most ideal places he had ever visited.

"This is my first trip to the great northwest," he said; "and all I can say is, that it is simply remarkable. Your climate here is far more wonderful than I ever dreamed of enjoying. Why, our people back east don't know—they have no idea what a grand country this is. If they did they would be flocking out here by the million. But they are going to know something about it after I get back. I'll boost Oregon for all I am worth.

"In negotiating with Mr. Thomas on this deal, he wrote me a number of descriptive letters, but they did not begin to describe the wonderful beauties and facilities of this great country. I left home about a week ago, left my home with its cold freezing spring, and came to this side of the continent to discover a paradise. Really, I am so enthused over this place that I could talk all day over it, and then not half express what I think.

"I never saw as grand a harbor in my life as Rainier has. I am glad we are first to get large holdings here. If other eastern investors but knew of the great possibilities they would be fighting to buy land here. I have many friends in the east awaiting my return. I expect when I get back home they will soon follow my tracks and visit Rainier as a prospective investment."

Wright & Co. will begin work at once on their Rainier holdings. Street improvements are now begun for over two miles.

The Wright company is a banking concern with two main offices located at Buffalo, and branch offices in Toronto, Syracuse, Rochester, Auburn and Niagara Falls, N. Y.

A. B. Wright will spend a few days visiting Portland and the Rainier mineral soap mines in eastern Oregon, after which he will return to Buffalo.

COUNTY GRAND JURY TAKES LONG RECESS

Having cleaned up all the criminal work before it, the new county grand jury yesterday decided to save the taxpayers' money and adjourned until April 19, when it will meet to take up such cases as have accumulated in the meantime. Yesterday four indictments were returned, but only three of these have been made public.

O. R. Blystone, indicted by the March grand jury on the charge of passing a forged check, was made the subject of another true bill on a like charge. The check in question was for $52.50, passed on R. C. Trengove.

Edwin Richardson is accused of stealing a gold watch from the Great American Importing Tea company. Roy Fessler, an accomplice, was sentenced to the reform school by Judge Gantenbein yesterday, his case falling in the juvenile court because he is under age. The boys are accused of engaging in several thefts in the downtown section.

William Rueddy, who was arrested while attempting to purloin 12 pounds of veal from the steamer Beaver, was indicted on a larceny charge.

DIDN'T KNOW THEY WERE STRIKEBUSTERS

Vancouver, B. C., April 7.—The longshoremen are showing resentment, now that they realize that the old experienced hands are going to be reinstated when the next big ocean freighters come in. They claim they did not know, until they were at work, that they were acting as strikebreakers. No word had reached Winnipeg of the strike and employment agencies were representing that Vancouver was suffering for want of laborers, on account of the enormous rush of shipping business. Crowds of men, including many with jobs, were planning to leave Winnipeg for Vancouver as soon as possible. The work on the Vancouver waterfront is dead, there being only one vessel in port at the present moment, and tomorrow it will leave. The next steamer will arrive Sunday. That may make a truce for both sides.

M'CORMICK RESISTS INSANITY CHARGE

Santa Barbara, Cal., April 7.—Attorneys for Stanley McCormick, son of the harvester king, are making preparations today to combat charges made by his wife, Mrs. Catherine D. McCormick, that he is mentally incompetent. McCormick, under the care of a physician, is at his country home, Riven Rock, near here. Mrs. McCormick is on her way from Boston to be present when her husband is given a hearing Thursday.

W. K. SMITH, PIONEER, IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Dr. W. K. Smith one of the pioneer business men of Portland and a large property holder, was suddenly stricken Friday with kidney trouble and so serious was the illness that he was taken to St. Vincent's hospital, where he is now said to be somewhat improved. Dr. Smith is 82 years of age and his recuperative powers are not those of a young man, but if he was removed at his home today that house are entertained for his recovery

FALLING TIMBER CRUSHES HEAD

William H. Sullivan Killed While at Work With Piledriver Crew.

While at work this morning for a pile driving crew in the employ of Bingham & McClellan, William H. Sullivan was struck in the head by a huge steel capped pile, which had been jarred from its place by the insistent hammering of the big steel driver, and almost instantly killed. The big pile was what is known as a "follower" and had been leaning against the board walk above the excavation, where the piles are being driven for two days.

Sullivan was at work on the ground below, wholly unaware of the danger so near him. With a movement barely perceptible at first, but which as it neared the ground became irresistible, the big pile toppled over, striking him squarely on top of the head. Sullivan lived but 10 minutes after he was struck.

Sullivan had a wife and a baby boy 5 years old, who are left destitute by his death. They resided in rooms in a frame building at 146 Water street.

Whether any one is to blame for the accident only a coroner's jury, should there be one, will bring out. The follower which struck him had stood for two days in the same place with nothing to hold it. There is no evidence that Sullivan was ever warned of the danger in which he was being forced to work, nor can it be said that any one was aware of the danger. Several of the eye witnesses of the accident, however, seemed to think that the pile should have been fastened in place.

FOUR MEN KILLED BY MISSISSIPPI TORNADO

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Jackson, Miss., April 7.—Four men were killed at Aberdeen by a tornado that swept this section of the state yesterday. The dead are W. C. McMillan, president of the Aberdeen bank; T. C. McMillan, a cotton buyer, and two negroes. No other casualties have been reported. The storm was one of the most severe the state has ever experienced. The greatest damage was done at Aberdeen, the county seat of Monroe county, where the four men lost their lives. The station of the Illinois Central was razed. Reports of damage done by the wind and rain in the smaller towns are coming in hourly.

Later reports from the region swept by the disastrous storm indicate that several persons were killed in the western part of the state and among the cotton plantations of eastern Arkansas. A wide belt in the western part of Mississippi has been devastated, and the loss to property is enormous.

LINIMENT BLAZES; SETS HOUSE AFIRE

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, April 7.—A rheumatic foot caused a fire that threatened the destruction of an apartment house on Folsom street today. G. E. Meyer, a painter, living in the basement of the house, was treating his foot with liniment, which became ignited from the flame of a lamp and set the building on fire. Meyer, though severely burned on the foot and left hand, fought bravely to check the flames, but was unsuccessful and a fire engine was called to save the house. The property loss amounted to several hundred dollars.

KIGHTLINGER SUIT COMES UP FOR TRIAL

(By Journal Leased Salem Wire.)

Salem, Or., April 7.—The action of U. G. Kightlinger against Dr. J. F. Calbreath of McMinnville, formerly superintendent of the Oregon insane asylum, for $25,000 damages is proceeding today before a jury in Judge Burnett's department of the circuit court at Salem. Kightlinger was a former patient and inmate at the asylum during Calbreath's administration.

Kightlinger alleges that he was detained at the asylum long after he was cured, and that his property interests as well as the personal indignities heaped upon him at the asylum can be compensated only by the sum asked for. Kightlinger also attempted to escape from the institution, and in so doing fractured his leg, for which he also blames Dr. Calbreath.

The suit was filed about a year ago, but had not previously been set down for trial.
