Convene at Estacada—The annual convention of the Clackamas County Sunday School association will convene today and tomorrow at Estacada in the Methodist church. Reports will be made on the growth of the Sunday school and officers will be elected for the coming year. An address on "Temperance" will be made by Mrs. Lucia F. Additon of Portland and one on "Elementary Work" by Mrs. J. W. Wilkins. Other addresses will be made by Rev. Charles J. Phipps, field secretary of the state association, Rev. J. L. Jones of Clackamas, Mrs. J. K. Newton of Molalla and Rev. A. H. Mulkey of Gladstone. Something like 100 delegates are expected.

In Need of City Dock.—In a report presented to Mayor Simon by a special committee of the chamber of commerce yesterday the mayor is asked to either purchase or condemn a dock site and to do so immediately. The report contains all the arguments advanced by those who advocate the $500,000 bond issue authorized by taxpayers at the last general election. The committee is of the opinion that the location which will best meet all requirments is between the Eastern and Western and North Pacific mills, extending from the harbor line to Sherlock avenue with a frontage on the river of about 880 feet.

Would Not Obey Orders.—Carl Nylen, 495 East Fifteenth street, a draughtsman, and Oscar Carlson, a plumber, ignored the request of a holdup man early yesterday morning while they were going home, and thereby foiled him in his attempt to get their valuables. The two young men left a Waverly-Woodstock car at East Fifteenth street and Clinton avenue, and were soon confronted by a man who pointed a gun at them. He told them to stop or he would shoot. The boys walked on, and the would-be robber put his gun in his pocket and walked in the opposite direction.

At Temple Beth Israel—Services at Temple Beth Israel will be held this evening at 8 o'clock and tomorrow morning at 10:30. Dr. Wise will deliver a sermon on "Caste" and will incidentally discuss the execution of Ferrer in Spain. Music for the services will be under the direction of Mrs. Rose Bloch-Bauer. The following anthems will be given: "My Song Shall Be of Thy Mercy" (Herker); contralto solo by Mrs. Rose Coursen-Reed; trio, "God is Love," Mrs. Bauer, Mr. Zan and Mr. Boyer. E. E. Coursen will be at the organ. All strangers are welcome.

Cannot Find Girls.—No trace can be found of the two girls occupying rooms at 302 East Eleventh street, where a small fire occurred Wednesday night. The girls were seen at their rooms early in the evening of the fire, but did not return to their place Thursday. Patrolman R. S. Hennessy made an investigation of the affair, and reports from the neighbors that they are at a loss to know what became of the girls. The fire was not large enough to have destroyed them, and all their belongings are still in the rooms.

Engineer Visits Portland.—Dr. J. A. L. Waddell, senior member of the firm of Waddell & Harrington of Kansas City, bridge engineers, is in Portland on a tour of inspection. The firm is at present engaged in building the new Madison street bridge. Dr. Waddell held a long conference with Mayor Simon this morning. The mayor says he presumes the engineer is here to represent his company, which would like to secure the contract for superintending the construction of the Broadway bridge.

Wants Name Changed.—J. H. Fairbrook has addressed a communication to the city executive board petitioning that body to change the name of Chautauqua boulevard. He says the name is not spelled or pronounced correctly once in a hundred times. Even the signs on the electric lighting posts, placed there by the city engineer, he says, bear the name spelled incorrectly. Mr. Fairbrook suggests "California" boulevard as an appropriate appellation.

Supplemental Mortgage Filed.—The Oregon Electric company placed on file this morning in the city auditor's office a supplemental mortgage in favor of the Columbia Trust company of New York. The date of the mortgage is October 1, 1909, and its main purpose is to secure the payment of principal and interest on the first mortgage gold bonds issued by the railway company May 1, 1908. These bonds bear 5 per cent.

Would Pave Second. — Councilman Belding will introduce a resolution at the next meeting of the city council, calling for the improvement of Second street with a hard surface pavement from Gibbs street to the end of the present paved portion of the street, a distance of about 15 blocks. The resolution will include proceedings for a steel bridge to span the Marquam gulch.

Reception at Church.—An informal reception will be held in the church parlors of the First Congregational church tonight for Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Kellog and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hinman. Mr. and Mrs. Kellog are about to embark in missionary work in China and Mr. and Mrs. Hinman have recently returned. In the receiving line will be representatives from the various departments of the church.

Wants Hassam Pavement.—B. M. Lombard this morning filed a waiver with the city auditor by which he, as sole owner of a number of streets in Olmstead Park, releases the city from all responsibility for payment of warrants provided to contract for the improving the streets is let to the Oregon Hassam Paving company without recourse to the regular procedure in authorizing street improvements.

Eugene Bosacci Dead.—Eugene Bosacci, 45 years old, a musician who had lived in Portland for 20 years, died in Skamania county Wednesday. He had been mentally deranged for some time, and had been wandering over the country. He is survived by one son, Romeo, who lives in Portland. The body will be brought here for burial.

Both Will Serve Time.—Frank Stone and Mary King, arrested last evening in a room at Fifth and Howell streets, were sentenced to 60 and 30 days, respectively, in the municipal court on charges of vagrancy.

At Congregation Ahavai—Services will be held this evening at Congregation Ahavai Sholom, corner of Park and Clay streets, at 8 o'clock. Music by the choir. Tomorrow morning services at 9:30 o'clock. Rabbi R. Abrahamson will officiate.

Eye glasses adjusted to your eyes by the latest scientific appliances. Satisfaction guaranteed, prices reasonable. Dr. George Rubenstein, optician, 189 Third street, opposite Baker theatre.

Porter Street Blaze.—A small blaze caused a damage of $50 to a home at 174 Porter street yesterday evening at 8 o'clock. The fire started from a defective fireplace.

Open River Company.—At 3:30 this afternoon a meeting of the Open River Transportation company will be held in the office of Teal & Minor, in the Couch building.

Now at First and Salmon—Charles R. Gatchet, formerly at Third and Yamhill, and Front and Ash, well known to the trade, has bought the fish department of the State Market.

Football! Football! Football!—Saturday, October 23, Multnomah Field, M. A. A. C. vs. The Dalles Athletic club. Game called 3 p. m. Admission 50 cents. Grandstand free.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

BY DRUSILLA DREW

(Social news is a daily feature of The Journal. Any one wishing to insert such news should send it signed to the society editor or telephone it before 10 o'clock in the morning.)

The largest and most brilliant reception of the autumnal season was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. William B. Biddle, complimentary to her sister-in-law, Miss Susan Biddle of Detroit. The beauty of the handsome Biddle residence was further enhanced by a strikingly artistic use of quantities of autumn leaves. The table in the dining room was centered with an old fashioned Dresden bouquet of mixed flowers in a riot of colors. Mrs. Biddle and Miss Susan Biddle received alone. Those who poured were Mrs. Gordon Voorhies, Mrs. Arthur C. Minott, Mrs. David Loring and Mrs. Henry C. Cabell. Mrs. Walter F. Burrell and Mrs. Thomas Kerr served frappe. At the punch table were Mrs. Hunt Lewis and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett. Floating about the rooms were Mrs. William L. Brewster, Mrs. William Morrison, Miss Sally Lewis, Miss Alice Strong, Miss Hazel Dolph, Miss Becky Biddle, Miss Ilse Koehler, Miss Maida Hart, Miss Frances Wilson and Miss Dorothy Morrison. Mrs. Biddle wore a gown of pale apricot soft silk with a painted chiffon overdress, cut on the new cuirass lines. Miss Susan Biddle looked charming in a Desvoux toilette from Paris of old rose liberty satin. Mrs. Walter Burrell made a silhouette of great chic in black jet, trimmed with black paillettes and wearing a bewitching black hat. Mrs. Henry Cabell was in white embroidered crepe. In a white lingerie frock over pink, Mrs. Gordon Voorhies was much admired. Mrs. Arthur Minott was in white lace and Mrs. David Loring in white brocaded satin. Mrs. Thomas Kerr wore a most becoming gown of satin in a pastel shade, accompanied by a handsome black hat. Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett was lovely in a mulberry chiffon broadcloth with black jet overdress.

UNITED WIRELESS TELEGRAPH CO.

GEORGE WOODWORTH, City Fiscal Agt., 409 Corbett Building.

MAIN 888 — BULLETIN (52) — A 8888

But, you say, "the telegraph companies will reduce their present rates to meet this new competition." Will they? The actual average cost of sending a 10-word message is 20.3 cents, according to the Western Union's own latest figures, and is steadily increasing. It cost 22.8 cents in 1892; 24.7 in 1898; 25.1 cents in 1900; 25.6 cents in 1905; and 27.6 cents in 1906. The profit on long messages merely makes up the loss on the short ones. The wire companies make their great income from the press dispatches, leased or private wires, and reporting the trains. In two years we will have a station in every town and city of over 5000 people in this country. We are now installing them as fast as men and money can do it, with three factories turning out the equipment. These stations will take the press business, for the simple reason that we can reach, by wireless, say 200 stations within a circle of 1000 miles, from one station, with one message. For the wire companies to send that same message to the same 200 cities, would require from 50 to 90 separate messages—and each of these 50 or 90 messages would cost 10 times what our one general message would cost. Do you still think they can compete?

A NEW DEPARTURE

The cost of interments have been greatly reduced by the Holman Undertaking company.

Heretofore it has been the custom of funeral directors to make charges for all incidentals connected with a funeral. The Edward Holman Undertaking company, the leading funeral directors of Portland, have departed from that custom. When casket is furnished by us we make no extra charges for embalming, hearse to cemetery, outside box or any services that may be required of us, except clothing, cemetery and carriages, thus effecting a saving of $25 to $75 on each funeral.
