FRUIT LANDS 45

YOU have been thinking for some time about owning a small tract of choice fruit land, but on investigating the various established sections you find prices of lands more than you were able or willing to pay.

Hither Hood will appeal to you being about 2½ miles east of Portland, near the O. W. P. Ry., and immediately on the Mt. Hood Electric survey. Deep shot loam soil, ideal elevation, abundance of moisture, irrigation unnecessary; free from late and early frosts. We have recently published a booklet on this famous section; it is free; ask for it. We will be pleased to take you out and look the country over. Thousands of acres of choice fruit land, in most any size tract, from $50 per acre up to $100.

CHAPIN & HERLOW,
332 Chamber of Commerce.

WESTERN HOOD APPLE LAND.

Be a commercial orchard owner, the best investment proposition on the market, and secure some of this choice fruit land while it is still cheap, one quarter the price of the highly exploited sections that are twice as far from Portland. WESTERN HOOD is only 30 miles southeasterly from the city; our free booklet tells you all about it. The closest investigation of the many advantages of this favorable apple section solicited; none better in Oregon, so claimed by horticultural experts. Over 2200 acres already sold to be developed. Buy now and be in the swim. Don't delay prices are advancing and will soon double. Call and auto will take you out.
