AND InventionCompressing 300,000 newspapers by hydraulic machinery, an Austrian genius has constructed a yacht of the material thus obtained. It is sixteen feet long, and every part, including the masts and sails, is paper.By means of ergograph measurements, M. Charles Ferre has found that one-tenth more work can be done standing than sitting, but that the greater intensity of effort during a long period in the standing position is followed at the end by more rapid fatigue.Fog dissipation by electric discharges has proven more effective when the fog contains dust or smoke than when it is water only, the solid particles seemingly to become charged and to be then repelled, precipitating particles of vapor with which they collide. With a bundle of spikes as radiator, a space of some yards can be cleared in a few seconds.About ten species of "vegetable sponges" are now cultivated in the warmer parts of Africa and Asia, especially in Algeria. The fruit is edible before maturity, but on ripening the pulp separates from the fibrous material, which then becomes an excellent substitute for real sponge for the toilet, bath room and many other purposes.
The Algerian sponges are in large demand in Paris.The snail, "the poor man's oyster" of France and Spain, is pronounced a very pleasing food when selected from clean feeding grounds and properly cooked. Its nutritive value is 100 per cent greater than that of the oyster, analysis showing that the solids embrace nearly 90 per cent of tissue building protoplasmic matter, besides which are 6 per cent of fat and 4 per cent of mineral substance including phosphates.Talking before the Institution of Electrical Engineers at Glasgow, on the unknown energy contained in the chemical elements and the prospect of making it available, F. Soddy said that the forces at our disposal compared with those exhibited when an atom suffers change are of a different and lower order of magnitude. Suppose, he said, that a way could be found in which uranium, which disintegrates to the extent of a thousand-millionth part annually, could be made to disintegrate completely in the course of a year; then from one gram of uranium 1,000,- 000,000 calories could be evolved, which, converted into electric energy, would suffice to keep a 32 candle-power lamp burning continuously through the year.
By the expenditure of about one ton of uranium, costing less than $5,000, more energy would be derived than is supplied by all the electric supply-stations of London put together.Much has been said of late in favor of the extensive cultivation of the black locust, and one railroad company is reported to have planted nearly 1,500,- 000 trees of this species, with the view of utilizing their extraordinarily durable wood. But Charles A. White of the Smithsonian Institution points out, in the Popular Science Monthly, that the black locust possesses a mortal enemy in a longicorn beetle, which bores the wood through and through. It is a native of the same regions in which the tree flourishes, and depends upon the tree for its own existence. When population flowed to Illinois and Iowa, the black locust was taken along. It flourished luxuriantly for some years, until its insect foe followed it, and now, says Mr. White, nothing remains of the great groves of black locust in the Middle West except blasted remnants.
The tree, native east of the Alleghenies, from New York to the Gulf, was also transplanted to Europe, whither its enemy has not followed it.Eggs in Georgia.
When the traveler stopped for luncheon at a small railway eating house in Georgia, says a writer in the Atlanta Constitution, a diminutive colored boy, covered with some three 'cet of soiled apron, appeared and in none too gentle a tone announced that the bill of fare was ham, eggs, corn bread and coffee.
After due deliberation, the traveler said he would like some ham, eggs, corn bread and coffee.
Such a pretentious order for one person staggered the small waiter momentarily. But he soon recovered, and as he started toward the kitchen he said:
"How'll yer hab dem eggs, boss, blind or lockin' at yer?"
"Lookin' at me," replied the traveler, feeling sure that eggs that were turned over would be likely to be cooked too long to be either palatable or wholesome.A Joke on the Speaker.
The Springfield Republican tells of a joke that was played the other day on Speaker Cannon of the United States House of Representatives. When the Speaker sat down at his desk he found a slip of paper asking him to call up number so-and-so on the 'phone. He did as requested, saying, "Do you want me?"
"I don't know," came back the answer.
"Well, I haven't time to be fooling around here; do you want me?" insisted the Speaker. "Who are you, anyway?"
"This is the government hospital for the insane," was the reply; "if you think you ought to be here, why, come along."Don't expect any man to thank you for trying to induce him to do what he doesn't want to do.
