Inventors Meet Tonight.—The American Order of Inventors has announced a meeting to be held this evening on the third floor of the Goodnough building. A chief subject of the discussion will be the purpose of the new organization to protect the inventor who has no means. "Thousands of useful inventions are never given for general use because the inventor has no money with which to begin their manufacture," said Ira J. Merrill, a director of the order, and also an instructor at the Y. M. C. A. "We intend to pass upon these inventions in our national organization and provide for their manufacture when feasible by the organization of subsidiary companies. We thus prevent, too, the hogging of inventions by greedy corporations."

Administrator Named—Letters of administration on the estate of the late Lydia Rodney were issued in the county court this morning to C. F. Adams, who was appointed her guardian some time ago. The appointment was made on the joint petition of Henry F. Rodney, her brother, and William Ellis Morris and Mrs. Mary R. Adair, a nephew and niece. Miss Rodney's property is estimated to be worth $20,000. The heirs besides the brother, are Louisa Morris, Mrs. Mary R. Adair, William Ellis Morris and Benjamin Wistar Morris, children of Hannah R. Morris, a deceased sister, and Maurice McKim, Helen McKim and Marion McKim, children of another deceased sister, Sarah Fisher McKim.

Dixie Voices. — A chorus of Dixie voices will be a feature of the rally planned for May 8 at the African Methodist Episcopal church, Thirteenth and Main streets. The chorus has been training twice each week for a month, and splendid results have been obtained. The church is in debt to the amount of $2000. The congregation has agreed to raise this money at one effort. The singing will take the form of a southern concert, with the melody of the old plantation in the setting of religious service. The program for the rally is being arranged, and will be announced early next week. A number of prominent citizens will attend the rally and participate in the activities of the day.

Routs Burglars.—Two midnight burglars were scared away from the home of Charles Hebbard, 339 East Main street, last night. They had opened a rear door with a burglar's "jimmie" and were ransacking the rooms when Hebbard heard them moving about in the home. Listening a moment, Hebbard concluded they were prowlers, and attempted to inform a neighbor and ask assistance. The two men heard him creep out of bed, and they ran out the rear door. Nothing was missed.

Clubmen Sued for Dues.—S. E. Wrenn, president and general manager of the Multnomah Trunk & Bag company at 121 East Water street, and W. J. Frost, real estate dealer in room 318 Henry building, have been made defendants in a suit filed in the justice court by the Portland Commercial club. The charge against Frost is for failure to pay for meals and refreshments, and the amount is $52.20. Wrenn is sued for his dues, which amount to $52.

Wandering Cows Start Trouble.—Mrs. Bertha Fitch, Hillsdale, has caused a warrant to be issued for Harry Dietrich, clerk of the school board of that place, in which the woman accuses him of using profane and abusive language. The woman further alleges Deitrich shot at her. The trouble originally started over the woman allowing her cows to run at large, and they got into the garden of Deitrich.

Hop Dealer Dies—A message from New York announces the death there of Albert Lilienthal, a prominent hop dealer. Mr. Lilienthal had been very active in the sale of Oregon and California hops in the New York market for over a quarter of a century. He was the last member of the firm of Lilienthal Bros., and at the time of his death was 62 years of age. A son survives him, likewise a brother.

Sale Is Approved—County Judge Cleeton this morning approved the sale of a half interest in the old Wells-Fargo building at Fourth and Yamhill streets, belonging to the estate of H. W. Goode, to Thomas Scott Brooke. The price paid in cash is $48,750, the purchaser assuming a mortgage of $21,250. The sale was made by request of the administratrix and widow, Edith F. Goode.

Cashier Held to Jury.—Miss Ida De Wolf, cashier in a Washington street restaurant, was held to await the action of the grand jury yesterday from the municipal court. She was arrested with William Bracking upon complaint of the latter's wife. Bracking has also been held to the grand jury. He is a mining operator from Wallace, Idaho.

The Best Part.

From the Kansas City Star.

Young James had never heard his papa speak in public, and it was thought time to take him to hear his father deliver a lecture. During the evening a stray dog which ventured upon the platform was disposed of as gracefully as possible. On the way home James was asked how he liked his father's lecture, and gave the answer, "It was all right, papa; but I liked the part where you put the dog out the best."
