TONIGHT'S AMUSEMENTS

[illegible]

Weather Conditions.

Portland and vicinity—Fair tonight; Tuesday rain and cooler; moderate winds.

Oregon—Fair tonight; Tuesday fair; warmer south portion.

Boys' Brigade.—The Boys' Brigade, Company 2, of Portland, will compete for its winter season this evening at the People's Institute, Fourth and Burnside streets, at 7:30 o'clock. This company was organized by W. C. Maley in 1909 and received its name, Company 2, from the fact that it was the third company organized in this city. Mr. Maley also organized the Sunnyside company and Company 3. Mr. Maley opened this company with a membership of about 40 boys. They were located then on Third street at the old Institute hall. Alexander C. Ross is president of the company this year. The company is connected with the First Presbyterian church. A Bible class is included in the company's activities, together with various kinds of athletics.

Hutchinson Funeral.—The funeral of Hiram C. Hutchinson, the mail carrier who committed suicide Saturday morning by leaping from the Morrison street bridge, and whose body was recovered from the river yesterday at 4 o'clock, will be held tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock from the Dunning & McEntee parlors. Complete arrangements have not yet been made, but it is very likely that the Mail Carriers' association, of which he was a former president, and the Masons, of which he was a member, will have some part in the ceremonies. The body was recovered by City Grappler Hugh Brady, who persisted in searching the scene of the suicide. The body is believed to have been entangled in debris at the bottom of the river.

Brakeman Badly Beaten.—C. J. Kupper, a brakeman on the O.-W. R. & N. railroad, was brutally beaten Saturday afternoon by hobos who, it is believed, he had tried to eject from the freight train on which he was working, and the unconscious man was thrown from the train between Hood River and Mitchell. Late in the evening another train crew found him there and took him to The Dalles, where for a time it was feared he would not survive the shock. Special Agent Walter Cowan arrested three men Saturday as suspects and turned them over to the Portland police, but it is not believed they are the men responsible for the crime. Kupper will be brought to Portland today.

Says Autoist Reckless. — Conductor No. 164 of the Twenty-third street car, reported to Sergeant Lyons this morning that an automobile bearing the number, Oregon 1436 ran through a crowd of high school girls as they alighted from his car at Thirteenth and Washington streets this morning, narrowly missing several. The conductor, who states that it is an every day occurrence for some autoist to speed through crowds of school children, has announced that he is willing to appear against the driver of the auto, and that the company will pay his salary while he is in court. The auto bearing the number mentioned is registered in the name of G. A. Ross, 672 Kearney street.

Tom Brown Missing.—Tom L. Brown, 23 years old, formerly in the auditor's office of the North Bank station at the Hoyt street depot, has been reported missing from his home at 69 Albina avenue and the police have been asked to search for him. The man left his position on October 5, in hopes of getting a position on the steamer Alliance, but he failed in that quest and has not been seen since. He is 23 years of age, five feet four inches tall and weighing about 118 pounds.

Inhales Gas.—Family troubles are believed to be responsible for the suicide of Alfred Straub, aged 45 years, a machinist in the employ of the Otis Elevator company, who ended his life last evening by inhaling gas, in the bath room of his home at 610 East Thirty-sixth street. Straub sent his wife and family down town in order that the members would not interfere, and then went to the bath room where he locked the door and placed the end of the gas hose in his mouth. His family discovered him after breaking down the door of the bath room. Six children and the widow survive him.

Manipulated Bank Checks Alleged.—Thomas J. Brooks, an employe of the Pacific Bridge company, charged with manipulating bank checks while in the employ of the Illinois Steel company, of Gary, Ind., who was arrested in Portland last Saturday, left for Indiana Saturday night in custody of Sheriff Grant of Lake county. Brooks came here some time ago and established a home and when taken away Saturday, turned over all his money to his wife. It is believed he will not be held as a conspirator in the offense charged if he will turn state's evidence.

Judge Tazwell Returns.—Judge Tazwell, of the municipal court, who for the past two weeks has been sojourning at the beach, returned to his bench this morning. Acting Judge Max Cohen turned over all keys and other appurtenances to the regular incumbent this morning, and is preparing for a trip to Chicago where he will try a case, and from there he will travel through the east.

Switchman Killed.—P. F. Manka, a switchman in the employ of the O.-W. R. & N. company, was instantly killed in the freight yards at the foot of Russell street last night when a freight train which was backing through the yards ran him down. He had boarded at 554 Albina avenue. No relatives reside here.

Alleged White Slaves.—Chris Lewis, alleged to have brought a woman from Walla Walla to Pendleton for an immoral purpose will be tried for violating the Federal white slave act before United States Judge Bean tomorrow. The witnesses, all of whom are from eastern Oregon and Washington, arrived in Portland today.

Station Named Nemours.—Announcement is made by the Spokane, Portland & Seattle that the Dupont Powder company's spur in Spokane county, Wash., 34 miles east of Marshall, will henceforth be called Nemours. The station is named after the head of the powder trust, E. I. Dupont de Nemours.

Hassam Paving Case Postponed.—Argument of the demurrer of the Consolidated Contract company to the complaint of the Hassam Paving company, which was set for this morning before Federal Judge Bean, was postponed until next Monday. The suit is over the right of the defendant to be excluded Hassam paving without paying a royalty.

DOCK ENGINEERS COME NEXT MONTH

New York Experts Notified to Be Here First Week in November.

The three New York harbor engineers employed to plan Portland's $2,250,000 public docks system, have been notified by Chairman F. W. Mulkey of the dock commission that they will be expected to arrive in Portland the first week in November. The engineers are W. A. Harza, M. E. Gaudineer and Charles W. Staniford.

The money for the first $500,000 installment of the public docks fund is expected to be available November 2. The Portland Trust company, purchasers of the bonds for eastern buyers, has been supplied with full data concerning the legality of the issue and this has been in turn sent to the eastern attorneys of the bond house. No question has ever been raised as to the legality of the issue.

Chairman Mulkey said today he was in doubt if the engineers would find it possible to come together. They will probably look over the Portland harbor, examine the preliminary data prepared by Engineer Hegardt and meet in New York to decide upon the site for the public docks system.

AUDITORIUM JURY MAY BE PICKED TOMORROW

The choosing of a jury to pass on the plans for the $600,000 public auditorium will be a prominent feature of the auditorium commission's meeting at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the city hall.

Many plans have been submitted in connection with the auditorium competition and the greatest architects of the country are understood to have entered the contest. Theodore B. Wilcox, chairman, and other members of the commission, are anxious that the jury may be appointed and the awards made as soon as possible in order that work may be commenced on the auditorium.

The question of a site for the auditorium will again be considered tomorrow, it is said. The Market block first chosen has been determined as altogether too small. The Zeigler amendment forbidding vacation of streets terminating in the meander line of the river operates against the vacation of Market street to the south, thus preventing, as was first planned, the occupancy of half the block south of the Market block. Whether the Zeigler amendment can be construed as friendly to the city's interests in this case of whether a new site must be chosen will occupy the attention of the auditorium commission.

Mr. Wilcox recently came back from visiting a number of eastern cities where public auditoriums are in use and it is expected he will discuss his experience and conclusions with the other members of the commission tomorrow.

MORRIS REFRESHING MEMORY ON BIG DEAL

W. Cooper Morris, the banker who is serving a sentence at the Union penitentiary, is display away at the books of the Defiance Oregon Trust & Savings bank in the office of District Attorney Clemens today. It is reported that not only is he refreshing his memory concerning incidents in connection with the sale of $100,000 bonding bonds made by the bank, out of which resulted the indictment against Louis Wilde and Morris on the charge of embezzling $10,000 of the bank's money, but that he will make a thorough investigation of the books in search of other alleged criminal transactions on the part of Wilde.

It is evident that District Attorney Clemens is much pleased with the interest Morris is taking in his investigation of the bank's books. He expects results that will materially aid the prosecution when Wilde is placed on trial next month on the embezzlement charge. It is understood that Morris will now be the star witness for the state.

According to reports received at the district attorney's office Wilde whose home is now in San Diego, Cal., is now in Omaha looking up the history of Frank H. Shaw of the Union Construction company, for whom company the telephone books were sold. It was largely on the testimony given by Shaw before the grand jury that Wilde was indicted. Just what Wilde expects to accomplish by digging into Shaw's past is not known.
