United Artisans Plan Events.—The United Artisans have planned a series of interesting events for the "hot" season. A basket picnic has been arranged to take place on the banks of the Willamette, opposite Greely station on the night of August 29. Arrangements for this picnic are being made by Frank De'Arcy of Oregon Assembly No. 1, I Carl of Piedmont and Maurice Hudson of University Park. The Artisans will also have an excursion by special train on Labor Day, September 1, to Bull Run, where a picnic, games and dancing will feature the day. There will be no charge for admission to the grounds or pavilion at Bull Run.

Will Install Muffler.—A muffler is to be installed at the Wiles paving plant in Rose City Park district, which will do away with 70 per cent of the dust, of which residents in that district have complained. At a mass meeting attended last night by 100 residents at the Rose City Park club house, East Fifty-seventh street and Sandy boulevard, Elwood Wiles, owner of the plant, said that the muffler would be put in at once. The meeting also appointed Messrs. Lovett, DeYoung and White a committee to ask the city authorities for a better sprinkling service in the district.

Cross town car lines, parks and playgrounds and other questions of interest to east siders will be discussed at the meeting. All east side clubs are requested to send delegates to the meeting. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

Mt. Tabor Club to Meet.—A regular meeting of the Mt. Tabor Improvement club will be held tomorrow night in the store building at East Sixty-ninth and Belmont streets. Several important matters, including street improvements, will be discussed at the meeting so it is urged that all members shall attend. A special invitation is extended to the women of the district. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

New Society Incorporates. — Articles of incorporation were issued from the county clerk's office today to the Polish Roman Catholic Brotherhood of St. Stanislaus B. M., a new society that is to have headquarters in Portland. The incorporators are John Jendrizejewski, Andrew Spulniak, Joseph Hhyszko and Steve Kaptur. The capital stock is $2000.

Improvements Will Be Discussed.—A regular meeting of the Montavilla Board of Trade will be held tonight at the corner of East Seventy-second and Glisan streets. Several important district improvements will be discussed at the meeting. A good attendance is desired.

Frenchman Is Sick.—Francis Bougral, one of the Portsmouth band of Frenchmen, arrested two weeks ago for frequenting an alleged immoral resort, and who were later charged with vagrancy, was before District Judge Dayton yesterday and pleaded guilty. Sentence was suspended, as Bougral was declared by officers to be suffering from a peculiar kind of stomach and intestinal trouble that has necessitated a number of operations, and which is likely to kill him at any time.

Looks Were Deceiving.—Big feet, large hands and cropped hair led to the arrest last evening of Dolly Van Dorn, upon suspicion that she was a man masquerading in woman's attire. At the police station, however, she proved that she was a woman and was discharged. The management of the Pittsburg grill, Sixth and Stark streets, first suspected the young woman and telephoned the police station. Sergeant Harms took her to the station, as she refused to discuss the subject. At the station, however, she said she had worked in the fields and had frequently worn men's clothing. Her home is in Iowa. She is 23 years old.

Shot in the Leg.—Albert Wagnor, 881 Division street, was accidentally shot in the right leg yesterday morning while hunting near Eugene. The man was walking through the underbrush, when a small shrub caused him to fall, and the weapon in his pocket was discharged. He is at the Good Samaritan hospital. Mrs. Nellie Hurt, 203 Main street, was cut about the arms and hands last evening when she became involved in a quarrel with a roomer at that number. She is at the same hospital.

Fined For Blasting.—For blasting within the city limits without a permit from the city engineer, the firm of Giebisch & Joplin was fined $50 this morning in the municipal court. Residents in the vicinity of the new work on the upper drive on Portland Heights made the complaint. It was charged that blasting caused a stump to strike a house, breaking the roof. Giebisch told the court that the work had been done against his orders.

Drowned at Bathhouse. — While repairing a rowboat last evening at the Woodward bathhouse, near Ross Island, Charles Anderson, a carpenter, fell into the water and drowned before help could reach him. The man was probably overcome by cramps. Deceased was employed at the bathing house as carpenter. He was 45 years old and unmarried. The body was recovered by the city grappler and is at the morgue.

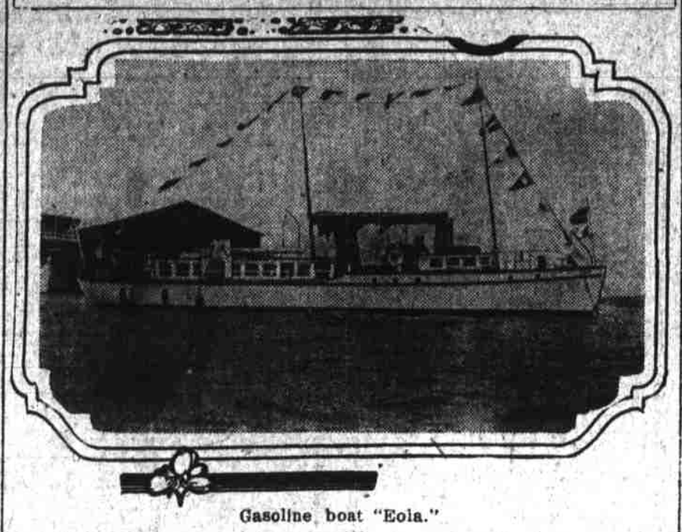
TO SPEND VACATION ON NEW CRUISER



Gasoline boat "Eola."

With his family and a few friends, Ray King will spend his vacation in his newly remodeled pleasure boat, "Eola." The craft is a twin screw gasoline cruiser, originally built to play between Portland and Alaska. She is 65 feet long, with 13½ foot beam, and able to make 12 miles an hour. The boat accommodates 10 people in sleeping quarters, with about 20 for a pleasure cruise. The owner will leave in a few days for a cruise down the coast.

SCHOOL BOARD MAY BUY PERMANENT GARDEN

The school board will decide whether to purchase the two-acre tract adjoining Woodlawn school as a permanent community school garden at its meeting this afternoon. The owner is understood to ask $20,000. This price is considered excessive. The board has received an opinion from the attorney general that for this or any other school purpose the board has the power of condemnation.

A petition asking the board to make the purchase is being circulated among the people of the district today and will be submitted to the board this afternoon. Woodlawn school won first prizes in national and city contests last year and this year. The garden has had a great educational value and has been the show feature of the Woodlawn district. A winter garden is now being prepared there.

TAYLOR TELLS ABOUT INDIANAPOLIS MARKETS

How the city of Indianapolis has made a success of its municipal market was explained this morning to the city commissioners by William L. Taylor of that city. Mr. Taylor was for four terms city attorney of Indianapolis, and for two terms served as attorney general of the state. He is in Portland for a few days and at the request of Commissioner Bigelow appeared before the commissioners.

According to Mr. Taylor, the municipal market has cut down the high cost of living in his home city 25 per cent. With the market system there he declared that groceries and other foodstuffs could be purchased 30 per cent cheaper than in Portland at the present time.

Indianapolis, through its public market receives $30,000 yearly. The building is owned by the city, which rents booths to small dealers for minimum amounts each year. His remarks were listened to with a great deal of interest by the commissioners, as several plans for public markets here are now under discussion.

MOTORCYCLE RACING AT BEACH RESORTS

Programs of motorcycle and horse races on the beach, at both Gearhart and Seaside, have been issued by the management of the hotels at each of these resorts. The Seaside people, according to advices received at the office of R. H. Crozier, passenger agent of the North Bank, have prepared a list of prizes and trophies to be hung up for the speeders of two classes beginning Saturday afternoon and continuing Sunday and Monday.

Many motorcyclists are going to attend. Some interesting contests in horse racing are promised. The Astoria Motorcycle club is conducting some races at the Gearhart Beach, beginning at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. A number of interesting contests are expected for which trophies will be awarded. James Nicol is announced to give an exhibition drill of equestrians Sunday afternoon at Gearhart at 4:30 o'clock.

COMMISSION TO GET CITY PLAN DRAWINGS

Association Decides to Turn Over Its Projects to New Advisory Board.

The Greater Portland Plans association voted last night to dedicate the drawings illustrative of the plan to the city, and to turn over to the recently created arts and building commission the leadership in promoting the Greater Portland plan. At the same time it was voted that the association retain its organization intact, holding annual and called meetings.

The drawings, which cost $21,000, are to return to the custody of the association should the city not prove an efficient custodian, or should an administration hostile to the plan come into power. The present administration, with Commissioner Dieck most active, is a strong supporter of the plan, and the arts and building commission was created to serve as an advisory board in the matter of public improvements.

Arthur Langguth, chairman of the association's legal committee, will prepare the proposition addressed to the city. A special committee composed of Robert H. Strong, Bertha Taylor Voorhorst and Marshall N. Dana will draft necessary changes in the constitution and by-laws. By a vote last night the city will be asked to enter into the regular publication of an educational bulletin devoted to promotion of the plan and allied municipal activities and improvements.

The Greater Portland Plans association succeeded the Portland Civic league which inaugurated the city planning movement in Portland. The plan was formulated by Edward H. Bennett, municipal architect of Chicago, under the direction of the league. At the last general election an ordinance was adopted making the plan the official plan of the city and requiring city officials to consider its recommendations in making all improvements.

The two years of the Greater Portland Plans association's existence have been spent in an educational campaign. To give the plan official backing so that its units of improvement may be realized in uniform and orderly way is considered the next and logical step.

President G. F. Johnson of the association, who presided yesterday evening, gave notice that he intends to resign, and that he would ask the association's board of directors to appoint another to serve until the end of the year.

A resolution was adopted approving the plan to use the roof of public dock No. 2 on the east side as a recreation pier for adults. The matter was initiated by the playground and recreation committee, and was presented last night by L. M. Lepper. New York, Antwerp and other cities follow a similar plan, it was pointed out.

POLICE CALLED TO DISPERSE GREAT MOB

Bargain Crazed Throng Go Wild at Opening of Big Sale Today

A hurried call for the police was sent in from Second and Washington streets this morning at about 8:30 o'clock. They were called to disperse great mobs of people, who were literally swarming that section of Washington street. Between Second and Third streets on Washington the crowds were the greatest, the street being almost totally blocked, causing a blockade to streetcar traffic and pedestrians. These people were attracted to this section by the announced opening of a big ten days' selling out sale of the Wright Shoe Shop at 244 Washington, today being the opening day of the sale.

The crowd began to gather at this point as early as 7:30 this morning, notwithstanding that the advertised hour of opening was nearly two hours later. From this time on until 9 o'clock and after, the crowd was still gathering and congesting the streets, the doors having not yet opened. Some of the early arrivals became impatient at the apparent delay of opening, and when a false call of "Doors Open" was given a rush was made for the doors, and a jam ensued that came near resulting fatally to those who were in the thick of the mob and only a hurried call for the police, who were promptly on the scene, saved scores of women from becoming seriously injured. As it was, many were more or less bruised, but no one was seriously injured. The thoughtfulness of the store people in placing a barricade in front of the windows is all that saved them from total destruction.

At the time of going to press the crowds are still great but orderly, and are being handled perfectly by the police and the people who have charge of the store.
