SMITH IS TO RETIRE FROM MOTORBOATING AS SPEED MERCHANT

Rainier Builder and Nervy Son Come in for Compliments With Vamoose and Kid.

During the motorboat racing season of 1913, Milton Smith of Rainier, Or., announced that he would retire from the game as soon as he defeated one of Johnny Wolff's boats. This feat was accomplished in three races during the 1913 season, and Smith has kept his promise. The man who built the Oregon Wolf craft that put Oregon on the map in the eyes of the motorboat followers of the country will do his future riding in a pleasure launch.

Much credit is due Smith for his wonderful little 20 foot speed boat, which defeated the big eastern racers in various regattas throughout the east during the summer.

In passing praise to Smith, his 16-year-old son, Wilbur, who steered the Vamoose, Smith's 1913 racer, and the Oregon Kid in all its races on the Pacific coast this season, must not be overlooked. The little lad showed wonderful nerve by driving the powerful Oregon Kid through the rain and drift at Astoria on the last day of the 1913 regatta.

Smith started motorboat racing during the 1909 season with the Happy Heinie, which was a 16 foot boat. It was during this season that he got the idea that he wanted to defeat Johnny Wolff in a real speed race. He kept the Happy Heinie during the 1910 season and won a number of races with it, and then discarded it in 1911 for the Indian, which was more of a runabout than a speed boat.

Last year Smith constructed the Vamoose and it was defeated several times by the Oregon Wolf II and once by the Crazy Wolf. Smith found out that his engines needed overhauling and he sent them east. At the same time he bought a set of blue prints from John Hacker of Detroit and constructed the boat, which was named Oregon Kid, in honor of his son, who was to be its pilot during the season.

When the engine was returned from the east the Oregon Kid was not completed. Smith installed the engines in the old Vamoose hull and defeated the Oregon Wolf II in a 12 mile race at Wilsonville. He repeated this victory at Oregon City and then took the boat to Rainier.

The engines were then installed in the Oregon Kid hull and its first race resulted in a victory of Johnny Wolff's racer at Astoria. The Oregon Kid easily defeated every entrant in the free-for-all 26 foot and 20 foot class races.

Wilbur Smith, Milton Smith's son, who will be 16 years old next March is probably the youngest pilot in the United States. During the 1912 season he guided the Vamoose through every race that it entered and handled the Oregon Kid when it won the Pacific coast and Puget sound championships this year.

Centralia Loses, 10 to 0.

(Special to The Journal.)

Centralia, Wash., Oct. 25.—The Centralia high school football team was practically eliminated from the championship of Southwest Washington this afternoon when it was defeated by Hoquiam, 10 to 0. All scoring was made in the first half on a drop kick and a touchdown. Centralia was on defensive most of the game, losing its only chance to score when a drop kick was blocked in the last period. Playing of Levi of Hoquiam and Orr and Watson of Centralia were features.

Corvallis High Wins.

(Special to The Journal.)

Corvallis, Or., Oct. 25.—Corvallis high school eleven walloped Eugene high team 27 to 0. By a series of end runs, forward passes and flashes of speedy football, the Corvallis lads made large gains on the lads from the university town. Archibald, full back of the Corvallis team tackled a long end run, had his arm broken and was taken to the Corvallis hospital.

Class Game Tie.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Or., Oct. 25.—The junior-senior class game in the interclass series today resulted in a tie. "Hal" Bean of Pendleton captured the seniors and Ernie Vosper of Portland headed the third year men. Another game will have to be played between the two upper classes to play the sophomores, winners of the underclass "mixup."

West Gets Collarbone Broken.

In the preliminary game on Multnomah field yesterday afternoon between the Multnomah second team and the Oregon Law school eleven, player West of the Law team had his collar bone fractured.

The game resulted in a 7 to 0 victory for the club players. The playing of Humphries and Eddie McAllen featured the game.

Hoodoos Win Third Game.

The Sunnyside Hoodoos defeated the Piedmont team yesterday, 12 to 0. It was the third straight victory for the Hoodoos. Bay and Lakefish made the touchdowns.

CHICAGO WINNER BY 6 TO 0 SCORE IN HARD BATTLE WITH PURDUE

Quarterback Russell, Stagg's New Find, Is Stellar Player and Staves Off Defeat.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Playing true to the dope, Chicago won a desparately fought battle from Purdue this afternoon and took place as the probable western conference football champion for 1913. The final score was 6 to 0.

The short drop kick for goal, executed with machine-like precision by Russell, Stagg's new find at quarterback, gave the Maroons their score, after the full power of Stagg's back field had failed to penetrate the Boilermaker's line at crucial periods. In a wonderful spurt in the last ten minutes of play, Purdue carried the ball to the Maroon six yard line by a series of brilliant forward passes, but Russell intercepted another pass and dashed the visitor's hopes of a tie or possible victory.

Twenty thousand spectators jammed the new stadium.

Three factors gave Stagg's men the victory. One was Russell's stellar work, not alone in the kicking department, but in his ability to carry the ball. Captain Norgren's long punts staved off the Boilermakers' rushes toward the Maroon goal. Frequently he sent the oval spiraling over Finn's head, and on an average he out-booted Oliphant and O'Brien twenty yards to the kick, one punt going for 70 yards.

But to the Maroon's ability completely to box up the dashing Oliphant, was the defeat of Purdue due, as much as to either of the other causes. Stagg had trained his men all week to block the Purdue star, whose long gallops proved so disastrous to Wisconsin hopes. They followed instructions and Oliphant was so closely watched that he showed nothing spectacular. O'Brien and Applegate were the offensive stars for Purdue.

The Maroons mixed line plunges with off-tackle and end runs to good advantage with Russell the open field star, and Captain Norgren and Gray giving able assistance. Purdue's line resisted the Chicago plunges savagely and Stagg's forward passes were not great ground producers.

Until the last quarter, the visitors made most of their gains through the Maroon line, tearing and driving their way through the guards. When they finally unboxed the new football in a series of accurate passes, the Maroons were plainly puzzled, and only Russell's capture of the oval, standing on his own six yard line, staved off a tie and possible defeat.

Vruwink, Chicago's all-western end, was put out of the game in the second period for rough work, and Huntington took his place.

O. A. C. Freshmen Win.

(Special to The Journal.)

Albany, Or., Oct. 25.—The fast O. A. C. freshman team defeated the Albany high school team here this afternoon on the gridiron by a score of 55 to 0. Superior coaching and heavier weight had practically all to do with the result of the game. The Albany lads put up a good game nevertheless but were unable to overcome the fast team work characterizing the visitors.

Albany Loses to Halsey.

(Special to The Journal.)

Albany, Or., Oct. 25.—Albany college this afternoon at Halsey lost its first football game to the Halsey Athletic club by a score of 6 to 0. The Halsey team was composed of old time stars such as Dunlap and Kirk, were superior in weight and put up a good game. The collegians, however, kept the club men guessing.

Nebraska Wins.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 25.—Nebraska retained an untarnished record, winning from the Haskell Indians 7 to 6. Straight football in the first period put Nebraska within the scoring zone and Rutherford went around the end for the last 15 yards. Towle kicked goal.

In the third period straight football and a penalty allowed the Indians to approach the Cornhuskers' line and a long forward pass from Artichoke to Powell went over.

OREGON GOLF STARS WILL PLAY BRITONS

Two of the best golf players in the northwest who will compete against the world famous Harry Vardon and the scarcely less noted Edward Ray, British professionals, on the links of the Waverly golf club next Wednesday, October 29. They are Chandler Egan of Medford, former national champion and one of the greatest golf players that ever cut with a mashie, on the left, and Harry B. Davis of Portland, one of the stellar players of the northwest.

That they will make the foreign experts go some, is the opinion of the enthusiasts are cordially invited to witness the playing of the British professionals against the Oregon amateurs.

Egan has been here for a couple of days practicing up and as he went around the course in 69 last summer without previous practice, don't be surprised if he happens to put one over on the visitors. The Journal photographer caught Mr. Egan in one of his happiest moods yesterday, as the lower photograph reveals.

BAKER IS STAR OF WORLD SERIES FOR LAST 10 YEARS

John Franklin Baker, the great third baseman of the Philadelphia Americans, winners of the world's championship in 1910, 1911, 1913 and runner up in the 1905 championship, is the leading batter of the inter-league series since the 1903 season. The Trappe, Maryland, phenom has played in three world's championship series and has faced the pitchers 66 times. He has lined out 27 safe bingles, including five doubles and three home runs for an average of .409.

Eddie Collins, regarded as the greatest second baseman in the history of the game, ranks second to his teammate, Baker, with the average of .377. Collins has played in 16 games and has lined out 23 hits.

The wonderful duo of Philadelphia players is topped by several other participants who have not yet played in as many games. Catcher Larry McLean, former Beaver, is hitting .500. McLean played in but five games. Pitcher Hall of the Boston Red Sox is hitting .750. He secured three hits in four times up in the lone game that he pitched against New York last season. Hendrickson, the Boston Red Sox utility player, has a perfect average, getting one hit in a like number of times up.

Sebring Follows Athletics.

Sebring, the Pittsburg outfielder, who played in the Boston-Pittsburg series of 1903, follows Collins, with the average of .366. Schang, the Philadelphia catcher, is next with .357. Frank Schulte, great Cub outfielder, has the average of .309. Schulte has played in the greatest number of games. Chief Meyers follows Schulte with the average of .308.

Baker leads the run getters with 15. Collins is second with 14 and Dan Murphy is third with 12. Chance, Schulte and Leach have each scored 11 times.

John Barry, the Athletic shortstop has lined out the greatest number of doubles and Tommy Leach is the best triple hitter. Baker, of course, leads the home run hitters with three. Fred Clarke of Pittsburg and Pat Dougherty of the White Sox have each made two home runs. Both home runs by Dougherty were made in one game in 1906.

Frank Chance leads the base stealers with 10. Hans Wagner and Eddie Collins are tied for second place with nine steals each. Harvey Steinfeldt, the Cub third sacker, has made the greatest number of sacrifice hits.

The individual averages and the number of series (enclosed in parenthesis) each man has played, are:

PRINCETON OARSMEN DEFEAT YALE CREW

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 25.—The Princeton varsity eight oared crew defeated the Yale eight by two lengths in the race over the one and three-eighths miles course of Lake Carnegie today. The time was nine minutes 39 1-5 seconds.

The Tigers rowed an American stroke, while the Elis used the English stroke which has brought defeat to several Yale crews in the past few years.

Referee Joe Pendleton says that Streit, the Princeton back, reminds him of Ted Coy as a hard man to tackle.

SENIOR AND JUNIOR GAMES BEGIN TODAY

Games in the senior and junior divisions of the Archer-Wiggins Football league will start today. Six teams are entered in the junior divisions and four teams in the senior section.

The following games are scheduled in the junior division: Albina vs. Sunnyside; South Portland vs. Brooklyn and North Portland vs. F. E. Watkins. The East Portland and Albina teams will play the only game scheduled in the senior division. The other teams in the senior section are Oregon City and Lents.

WASHINGTON ROLLS UP 47 TO 0 SCORE ON OREGON AGGIE TEAM

Doc Stewart's Heralded Team Is Trampled Upon Even by Dobie's Second Players.

(Special to The Journal.)

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 25.—Exhibiting none of the weaknesses to which a crippled college team is supposed to be heir, playing smashing, ripping football throughout, outfighting their husky opponents and showing the true Washington come-back spirit, Dobie and his warriors this afternoon won a decisive victory over the Oregon Agricultural college. Washington piled up a score of 47 and Oregon failed to come close to tallying.

The fact that the visiting team is reputed to be the strongest ever turned out at the Oregon institution, and that its defeat today was by the largest score that has been recorded against any of its previous teams, shows the class of football that Dobie's men were playing.

Washington discovered that the team had a punter in Miller, who clearly outpointed the touted Blackwell.

Washington's line failed to show any of the weak spots that had been expected. During the entire game Oregon failed to advance the ball 20 yards.

Oregon tried a couple of plays from the back field in the early part of the game, and every time they were thrown back for a loss.

Thrown For Loss.

Oregon tried just twice to make use of the forward pass. Once Smith intercepted it, then again it looked as if the Aggies were trying to imitate Dobie's successful triple pass, but it failed, and they returned again to kicking whenever it fell to their lot to carry the ball.

In the last period Dobie pulled out most of the regulars and gave the subs a chance to work. The second team men continued to sweep down on the visitors' goal, and were not in danger at any time.

Everett May, the Oregon player whom Graduate Manager Horr had protested, did not appear in the lineup. During the intermission, May and Stewart ran the team up and down the field in a signal practice, but it failed to avail anything and Washington's gladiators came back even stronger in the last half.

Lineup of the teams:

Washington.		O. A. C.

AT THE Y. W. C. A.

The Harriers held their first meeting last Wednesday night. Over 15 athletes were present. Another meeting will be held in the near fututre and officers for the 1913-14 season will be elected.

Tommy Booth and A. C. Fleming, two of the best athletes of past seasons, will not be with the association team this year.

Three new swimmers have been added to the association. Steele, a former Olympic club swimmer of San Francisco; Wisdom of the Hawaiian islands, and Huetter of Chicago, are the new ones. Steele is a splendid all round swimmer. Wisdom, who has been swimming in Hawaii for a long time, is a distance man. Huetter is a Portland boy, but has lived in Chicago for the last three years. He is a fancy diver and a speed swimmer.

The association swimmers are not playing the same kind of water polo game as the Multnomah club swimmers. Instructor Smith says he has not received any challenges from Multnomah, but if he does will accept them, with the proviso that he will not have to change his style of game. Multnomah is really playing water basketball.

Basketball will start about Thanksgiving. P. W. Lee will coach the Y. M. C. A. teams and he has hopes of developing a bunch that will win the city title. He has an abundance of players lined up. The Y. M. C. A. House league will play again this season.

Indoor hockey is attracting a great deal of attention from the association members. The game is played like the outdoor one with the exception that the players are not allowed to lift their sticks from the floor. The shins are protected by guards.

Volley ball is also attracting a great deal of attention. There are 16 teams playing games now and it is expected that six or eight more will be formed by the end of next week.

The association will also have a team in an ice hockey league if one is formed in Portland when the ice rink is completed. Many new arrivals from Canada have taken up membership in the association and it is possible that a strong team could we lined up.

The high school students' class has been reorganized and will meet Wednesday and Friday afternoons. The first athletic meet of the season will be held November 7.

The junior classes will start taking athletic tests for emblems during the week.

The seniors will give a "spook" party on Halloween eve. It will be on the order of the "fake" track meet of last year.

Michigan Aggies Win.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 25.—The Michigan Aggies defeated Wisconsin, 12 to 7, here this afternoon. The Aggies scored early in the game on end runs behind an interference that bewildered the Badgers completely. The second touchdown came like a flash. Wiscon-

YALE IS FOUGHT TO SECOND TIE OF YEAR

Washington and Jefferson in Scoreless Game on a Muddy Field.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 25.—Washington and Jefferson fought Yale today to its second scoreless tie of the season. A heavy rain fell with the exception of the third period throughout the game and the field was muddy and dotted with puddles. Under these conditions ground gaining was uncertain and it was difficult to punt the water soaked ball.

Yale reached scoring distance three times but lost the ball three times on quick placement tries and once on Cornish's fumbles, on all of the occasions at the Washington and Jefferson 20 yard line. The visitors believed they had won the game on the second scrimmage of play when Braden blocked Knol's punt at the Yale 10 yard line and picking up the ball rolled over the line for what seemed to be a touchdown. Umpire Fulz dashed the hopes of the W. and J. contingent by ruling that they had been holding in their line. He disallowed the score amid a storm of Washington and Jefferson protests.

Harvard Defeats Pennsylvania.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 25.—Harvard defeated Pennsylvania State by a score of 29 to 0 in the stadium today. The field was ankle deep with mud and the rain fell in torrents throughout and marred any chance for sizing up the relative merits of the two teams. Pennsylvania State was defeated because it had no defense that would hold Brickley in his smashes through the line, nor could they stop Mahan in his long runs around the ends.

The playing of Miller, the Pennsylvania State quarterback, was the feature of the game. His handling and running back of punts and his work with the forward pass was superior to anything seen in the stadium this season.

DESCRIPTION OF MULTNOMAH-W. S. C. GAME

First Period.

Striebig kicked off to Foster, who made a large gain before he was downed. Washington State made no gain on the first and second downs. On the third down, Hickson tackled Foster for a loss of five yards. Coulter punted 15 yards, the ball going outside. Multnomah took possession of the ball on W. S. C.'s 41 yard line, but fumbled on the first down, Alvord recovering the ball. Vance and Foster advanced the ball five yards on two cross buck plays. Coulter punted on the third down to Rodes, who was downed on the club's 40 yard line by Satterthwaite.

On the first down, Rodes skirted around W. S. C.'s left end for a 18 yard gain. On the third down, Keck punted 30 yards to Gaddis, who fumbled, but recovering the fall. The ball was put in play on the 25 yard line.

Dietz missed an excellent chance to score a touchdown, when he failed to grab Foster's long forward pass. Unnoticed, Bender's left end slipped over to the side lines and when the signal was called the ball was passed in his direction. He caught it in his arms, but it bounced out. Had he caught the ball he would have had a clear field. On the cross buck play, Foster made yardage.

Keck tackled Gaddis for a loss of one yard and on the second down Alvord fumbled. The ball was recovered by Conville.

Keck carried the ball for five yards on the first down and on the second down Rodes annexed four yards. Keck made two yards through tackle, giving Multnomah yardage for the second time. McRae on the next down carried the ball for a one yard gain and Rodes squirmed through the line for three yards. On the third down, McRae was stopped before he hit the line. Keck tried to make a place kick from the 20 yard line, but it was unsuccessful. The Washington Staters, after the ball was put in play on the 20 yard line, began a 35 yard march down the field. Coulter started the march by making 9½ yards on a cross buck. Foster followed with a gain of 12 yards. Vance annexed two yards, and in two consecutive downs Foster gained four yards. Foster failed at a forward pass. Gaddis and Foster on the next two downs annexed five yards each, and on the third down Striebig blocked the march of the Pullman eleven by intercepting Foster's pass on the 40 yard line and returning it to the middle of the field.

Keck punted to Gaddis, who returned the ball to the 20 yard line. Striebig tackled Gaddis on an end run for a five yard loss. Washington State was penalized 15 yards for holding, which put the ball on their five yard line. The quarter ended.

Second Period.

Coulter punted out to the middle of the field to Rodes. On the quarterback run, Rodes gained five yards. Keck punted 25 yards, Gaddis allowed the ball to strike the ground and when it bounced up Satterthwaite grabbed it and gained over six yards. Gaddis fumbled and Striebig recovered on the 40 yard line. Keck gained one yard on the next down, but this was offset when Rodes lost five yards on the next down. Multnomah was penalized 15 yards for holding, putting the ball on their 40 yard line. Keck punted 25 yards. On the first down Foster made 11 yards.
