Weather Conditions.

The north Pacific storm has moved to southern Saskatchewan, and is being followed by a high pressure area, which is now moving inland over the Pacific coast. The Texas disturbance has moved to the Lake region and upper Ohio valley, and high pressure now obtains over the southern Rocky mountain, southern Plains and Gulf states. Precipitation has occurred in the northwestern states, western Canada, the southern Plains states, and northeastward in the lower Lake region. Freezing temperatures have come to extend practically as far south as the central Mexican border. The weather is fair and mild in most Pacific states west of the Rocky mountains and on the Atlantic slope. It is cooler this evening in the southern Rocky mountain central and southern Plains states, and lower Mississippi valley. Storm warnings were ordered lowered this morning at 5:45 o'clock. The highest wind velocity reported within the last 24 hours was 32 miles from the south, at the mouth of the Columbia river, and 28 miles, southeast, occurred there during the night.

Today's Forecast.

The conditions are favorable for generally fair weather in this district tonight and Sunday, except that snow may be expected in southeastern Idaho tonight; winds will be mostly western.

Southern Idaho and vicinity—Tonight and Sunday probably fair; westerly winds.

Oregon and Washington—Tonight and Sunday, generally fair; winds mostly westerly.

Idaho—Tonight, generally fair, except snow southeast portion. Sunday, generally fair.

River Forecast.

The Willamette river at Portland will continue to fall for the next two or three days.

Woman Gets Into Her New Machine Before Breakfast

Mrs. J. S. Siegrist, 1539 East Thirtieth street, wife of J. S. Siegrist of the Westinghouse Airbrake company, is one of the happiest women in Portland today. When she woke up this morning she found that Santa Claus had brought her an automobile.

"She was so interested in the gift, I couldn't get her to breakfast," said her husband. "She got into the machine and refused to get out. Of course, she's happy."

The machine was a Dodge sold by the Covey Motor Car company.

at salaries from $2.00 to $2500 a year. For further information and application blanks, apply to M. K. Wigton, Postoffice building, Portland, Oregon.

Funeral of H. C. Bohlman — Funeral services for Henry C. Bohlman were held Thursday, December 23, at 1 o'clock p. m., at Finley's chapel, Montgomery at Fifth. Services were conducted by Rev. G. Hafner. Quartet composed of Miss P. Bohlsjaeher, Mrs. G. Hafner, Mrs. S. Schmidsen, Mr. H. Raz, sang "Only Remembered." Deceased was a member of the Knights of Pythias, Ancient Order of United Workmen and was secretary of the German Aid Society. Honorary pallbearers were Mr. John Reisacher, Peter Wagner, C. H. Meussdorffer, A. Schnas, C. Gritzmacher and Fritz Ehlers, active pallbearers were Raymond Jahntz, Henry Martzloff, Henry Raz, William Isensee, Charles J. Schnabel, Samuel Hess. Interment was made in Riverview cemetery.

Funeral Set For Monday.—Funeral services for Arthur C. Zwicker will be held on Monday, December 27, at 1:30 p. m., at the establishment of J. P. Finley & Son, Montgomery and Fifth streets. Mr. Zwicker was a native of Germany, aged 55, and resided at 61 Pettygrove street. He had lived in Oregon for the past 35 years and in Portland for the last five years. He was a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. Mr. Zwicker is survived by a widow, Mrs. Emma Zwicker.

Auto and Wagon Damaged.—In a collision of an automobile driven by T. Taylor of 582 East Sixth street North with a Spring Farm dairy wagon, driven by Robert Wenger, at Union avenue and Ivy street at 8 o'clock last night, both vehicles were considerably damaged, but no one was injured. According to the report of Patrolman C. L. Spaugh, Taylor claimed that the milk wagon had no lights on it.

Play Proves Entertaining — A two-act play entitled "Mr. Bobs" was successfully rendered last night in the City Hall by the students of the Milwaukie High school. Each character carried his parts well. The play was produced under the direction of Miss Agnes D. Campbell and Principal Robert Goetz. The comedy was well received by the large audience, who applauded the performers throughout.

Portland Boy Is Winner.—Harold C. Bean of Portland is the winner of one of the four honor awards in the medical department of Johns Hopkins university. He is a graduate of the University of Oregon, class of 1912, and is a son of Robert S. Bean, judge of the United States district court for Oregon.

Laborers Arrested — Two Russian laborers, having in their possession a diamond bracelet, attracted the attention of Patrolmen Swanks and Fitzmorris yesterday, and they arrested Richard Stanton and James Smith. The bracelet, whose owner has not been found, is a fake affair, and each diamond set with a "Lake" diamond.

A Big Hit—Harold Lockwood, famous American star, in the screen sensation, "The House of a Thousand Scandals," a stirring drama of the heart. Fascinating May Allison plays the part of the heroine. Home for Christmas; Insane, Says Wife

Salem, Or., Dec. 25.—(U. P.)—Truant Officer Mrs. Eva Pickett is evidently taking no holiday on Christmas, as she swore out a warrant and had her husband, Charles H. Pickett, locked up in the county jail today upon his return home after several months' absence. Pickett is a commercial traveler and is well known on the coast. His wife preferred a charge of insanity against him when he returned home to spend Christmas with his family in this city.

GRAND JURY PLAYS A CHRISTMAS PRANK ON INNOCENT ATTORNEY

Joe Hammersley on Receiving End of Comical By-Play in Grand Jury Room.

NEAT WATCH FOB GIVEN

Prosecutor Abused by Chief and Jurors and Then Given Christmas Gift; Investigators Appreciated.

Deputy District Attorney Joe Hammersley was on the receiving end of a real surprise yesterday.

The grand jury called District Attorney Evans into consultation, and when Hammersley, who handles all work before that investigating body, returned from lunch he found Evans there.

"I have a private matter of great importance with the grand jury," said Hammersley's chief, and the deputy sat down outside to wait for Evans to leave.

"The grand jury wants you to come in," called Evans later.

Every member of the jury and Mr. Evans wore most solemn looks as Hammersley entered.

"The grand jury has called to my attention the fact that some very important matters have found their way to outside ears," Evans began. "This is most serious, for all matters must be kept secret. I am assured no grand jury member has told these things, and as you and I are the only others who knew these matters, the leak must be in your direction.

"This is indeed most serious," Evans went on. "To show you just how serious it is, the members of the grand jury have asked me to give you this little token of their regard."

Evans handed him a watch fob with an elk tooth as a charm inscribed with the number of Hammersley's home lodge in Gold Hill, Or., and with the compliments of the October, 1915, grand jury. Hammersley was too overcome for a few moments to express his thanks.

Santa Claus Visited Little Girl After All

Spokane, Wash., Dec. 25.—(P. N. S.)—Unable to overcome the longing to possess for her own the gaily-dressed doll which caught her fancy, a little ragged girl yesterday slipped the doll under her frayed coat and started to leave a local department store. Her theft was discovered and she was turned over to Probation Officer Parkes.

The officer investigated and found the girls home to be a hovel, where a careworn mother sought to keep together a brood of ragged, hungry little ones. He reported his business to the owner of the store who promptly turned Santa Claus and sole to the girl and her brother and sister a box of toys.

Pioneer at Forest Grove Passes Away

Forest Grove, Or., Dec. 25.—Mrs. Lethera E. Blank, oldest resident of Forest Grove, died at her home last night of paralysis. She would have been 85 in February. Her husband died about two years ago.

Mrs. Blank was the last member of the large McMillan family, who were among the earliest pioneers of Forest Grove. They crossed the plains from Illinois in 1850, coming from Illinois, where they came from New York. The father was a native of Scotland. Before bringing his family to Oregon, he made a trip here via the Isthmus of Panama.

Mrs. Blank was the aunt of Mrs. Jane McMillan Gedway, who lives at Hammersley Court in Portland.

Men Poisoned by Liquor in Tacoma

Tacoma, Wash., Dec. 25.—(U. P.)—Ten men are patients at the county hospital here today, two of them suffering from severe scalp wounds, as a result of being poisoned by liquor they drank Christmas eve. The men fell unconscious in the streets at different points and several of them were painfully injured by striking their heads on the pavement. The police think they drank "doped" whisky, but have not learned where it was dispensed.

Predicts Disclosures About Minnesota

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 25.—(P. N. S.)—Startling disclosures concerning the trouble which caused the steamship Minnesota to turn back to San Francisco after reaching a point well down the Lower California coast, are yet to be made if the prediction of Robert Fay, a water tender on the ship who is in Seattle today, is fulfilled. Fay declares his belief that the federal investigation has just begun and that important developments are certain to occur.

Insurance Fraud Alleged.

Long Beach, Cal., Dec. 25.—(P. N. S.)—Charged with attempting to renew a delinquent insurance policy on the life of I. E. McCaren, who disappeared from Long Beach in a canoe and supposedly was drowned, Thomas De Coe was arrested today and charged with suspicion of a felony. Deputy Sheriffs Van Fleet and Burns declared that De Coe had posed as McCaren in an attempt to renew the policy.

POSTAL CLERKS HAVE HUGE DAILY TASK CLEARING AWAY VAST CHRISTMAS MAIL

Regular Force Augmented During Holiday Rush to Keep Things Moving.

Scene at Station E, where mail is dumped in by carload through the holiday season.

More than 1000 sacks of Christmas mail were piled up at postoffice station E, Fifth and Glisan, this morning.

The regular force of handlers, augmented by many helpers, tackled this mountain of mail like a hydraulic against a gravel bank, and before noon had everything ready for the afternoon rush.

As well as segregating the sacks for their trains, outgoing, and the stations, incoming, a large part of the mail is sorted into sacks at station E.

Men working at ordinary speed would not accomplish the tasks that are required of men in the postal service in the pre-holiday rush, but the Christmas spirit in one of its forms takes possession of the workers, and they perform "prodigies of labor." Many of them work overtime, receiving extra pay.

LITTLE STORIES OF SANTA CLAUS' VISITS

Lillian Russell Plays Santa.

In honor of her husband, Alexander P. Moore, Pittsburg newspaper publisher, Lillian Russell, the well known actress, gave a Christmas party in the royal suite of the Multnomah hotel last night.

About 20 friends were present, autographed photographs of Miss Russell being used as souvenir menu cards. A beautifully decorated Christmas tree and other decorations used will be given to the poor today.

Old Soldiers Remembered.

Members of the Soldiers' Home at Roseburg were made happy on Christmas day by 30 jars of fruit, and also candies and tobacco, sent by Blackmar Circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., of this city.

The Best Gift of All.

Christmas is stay-at-home day for the city officials.

Every one of the city commissioners is at home with his family. Auditor Barbur is doing it, too. Same thing.

Prisoners Have Feast.

Silence was the only thing on the job at the Courthouse today, with the exception of the jail. The 200 prisoners enjoyed a Christmas feed of roast veal, gravy, nuts, candy, apples, oranges and pie.

Schnabel Distributes Gifts.

Attorney Charles J. Schnabel yesterday played Santa to the office force of County Clerk Coffey's office, sending two boxes of fine apples and a box of cigars for distribution among the deputies.

Telephone Girls Are Remembered.

Many subscribers of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company remembered the telephone operators today, even though in some instances it was only a cheery "Merry Christmas" wished the girls over the telephones. Many boxes of candy were received by the girls.

Planing Mill Is Host.

Officials of the East Side Planing Mill were hosts to their 35 employes at a turkey dinner given in the Y. M. C. A. cafeteria last night. Each year the company entertains its employes.

PROGRESSIVES WILL WAIT TO SEE WHAT THE G. O. P. WILL DO

National Committee to Meet Next Month to Set Date of Convention.

The Progressive national committee will meet in Chicago January 11 to decide on the date for holding the next Progressive national convention. T. B. Neuhausen, state chairman for Oregon, is of the opinion that the convention will be set for the last week in June, so it will come after the Republican national convention.

Progressives want to wait and see who the Republicans nominate before they hold their convention, he said. If Hughes or Borah or some Progressive of their type is nominated for president by the Republicans the Progressive convention no doubt will indorse him and the two parties will be merged once more.

"But if a man like Root or his type is nominated," said Mr. Neuhausen, "the Progressives will put up a candidate of their own and make a hard campaign for him."

The question of whether Colonel Roosevelt's name shall be placed on the Progressive party ballot in the Oregon presidential primaries has not been discussed, according to Mr. Neuhausen. However, he says he thinks there is no doubt that it will go on the ballot.

Patrolman Shoots To Stop Stolen Car

Officer Recognizes Machine Containing Party of Joy Riders but Fails to Bring It to Halt.

Recognizing the machine as one reported stolen, Patrolman S. S. Shoemaker fired two shots at a party of joy riders in an automobile belonging to Arthur Dickinson of Oswego about 3:30 this morning at Thirty-ninth and Division streets, in a vain effort to stop the car.

Shoemaker first was attracted to the car by the noise of the occupants, four women and two men, and called repeatedly to them to stop. Half an hour later Shoemaker found the machine abandoned at East Sherman and East Thirty-seventh streets.

The car was stolen from in front of the Hazelwood. Mr. Dickinson, who is head of the Dickinson Fruit Preserving company, was inside with friends. The machine was not damaged, and was driven to headquarters by the police to await the coming of the owner.

Heroic Mother Fails In Effort to Save

Mrs. Ellen J. Polihronis, a survivor of the Titanic disaster, had another escape from death late yesterday when she tried to rescue her son, George, 5 years old, from the path of an Oregon Electric train at Multnomah station. She was thrown aside by the train, but the boy was run over and probably fatally injured.

Mrs. Polihronis, the wife of a track foreman, was standing with the boy at Multnomah station, where they live. The boy started to run across the track as a train approached. Mrs. Polihronis ran upon the track after him, and grasped him by the waist band, but was too late. The train knocked her from the track and ran over the boy.

Both were taken to St. Vincent's hospital by an Ambulance Service machine and attended by Dr. R. C. McDaniel. The boy has concussion of the brain and a broken leg. Mrs. Polihronis is suffering from three broken ribs and many bruises.

American Foreign Trade.

As early as June 30, the state of American foreign trade showed a balance of exports over imports of more than $1,000,000,000. This was a new experience for the United States.

"Coppers" Provide Christmas for Tot Who Misses Train

Just because little 10-year-old Chester Morgan, an orphan, was away from home last night was no reason that he should not enjoy the privileges that comes to all youngsters, of getting present on Christmas Eve.

Chester was brought into the police station by Patrolman Van Valkenburgh, when he found that his connections by train from Orenco, Or., to Scappoose, were such that he had to stay in Portland overnight.

Lieutenant Harms bought the lad a dinner. Matron Sampson took him to the Mutts headquarters, where he was given an overcoat, a pair of shoes, a hat, a toy auto and some books. Last night he slept in a nice clean cot in a private room in the emergency hospital.
