Today's Forecast.

Portland and vicinity—Tonight and Wednesday rain; southerly winds.

Oregon—Tonight and Wednesday rain west, unsettled, probably rain or snow east portion; southerly winds reaching gale force near the coast.

Washington—Tonight and Wednesday rain west, rain or snow east portion; southerly winds reaching gale force near the coast.

Idaho—Tonight and Wednesday rain or snow flurries north, fair south portion; cooler southeast portion tonight.

Weather Conditions.

A marked disturbance is central near Prince Rupert and southwest storm warnings were ordered displayed at 6:30 a. m. today at the mouth of the Columbia river and all seaports northward, small craft warnings were ordered for Coos Bay. The eastern storm is now over the lake region moving rapidly northeastward. A large high pressure area covers the Pacific slope and extends northeastward to central Canada. Precipitation has occurred in northern California, Tennessee, most of the northern states and Canada. Winds of gale force occurred in southeastern Idaho and on the northern Washington coast. The weather is warmer from southern California northeastward to Montana, in western Washington and in the Gulf and Atlantic states; it is cooler from the Mexican border northeastward to Canada.

The conditions are favorable for rain tonight and Wednesday in western Oregon and western Washington and for rain or snow east of the Cascade mountains, except in southern Idaho. Southerly gales will obtain near the coast. THEODORE F. DRAKE, Assistant Forecaster.

TOWN TOPICS

Benjamin Longenecker Buried.—The funeral of Benjamin Longenecker, who died in this city March 5, was held this afternoon from the East Side funeral directors' conservatory chapel under the auspices of the G. A. R. and Sumner post, of which he was a member. Interment was in the G. A. R. cemetery. Mr. Longenecker was 72 years of age and served in the Thirteenth Illinois volunteer infantry, Company D, during the Civil war. He was a native of that state and had resided in Oregon for the past three years. A son, Joel V. Longenecker, and two daughters, Mrs. George Link and Mrs. William McPhee, survive him.

Railroad Advertises Coast.—An illustrated folder, "Four Gateways to the Pacific Coast," has just been issued by the passenger department of the Southern Pacific company. The new publication gives a description of the Southern Pacific routes through New Orleans, Ogden, Portland and El Paso, and the text is set off by 80 engravings. A feature of the folder is a two-color map which shows the scenic and other attractions of the western country, bearing out the slogan, "All the Pacific Coast is a Show Place." The new folder is printed in orange and black. It is to be given wide distribution throughout the east.

Man Dies, Leaving Estate.—Thomas Anderson, a Norwegian, said to be wealthy in lands in Minnesota and Oregon, died yesterday of heart disease at 362½ East Morrison street, where he had been staying. No relatives in Portland were found by Deputy Coroner Smith, who will take up the search in Anderson's former home in Minnesota. Anderson was 55 years old.

Western Life Will Be Shown.—Mrs. L. B. Downey-Bartlett will present a play depicting western life, during former Indian days, at the rooms of the Portland Press club under the auspices of the State Women's Press club, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The play is for members and friends of the club. Mrs. Bartlett's dramatic students constitute the cast.

Sellwood Board of Trade.—The regular meeting of the Sellwood Board of Trade will be held this evening at the Sellwood Y. M. C. A. Reports will be made by a committee, of which A. N. Wills is chairman, and which had been appointed to investigate the proposed municipal golf course.

Walter Jewell Dead.—Walter Jewell, age 32, of Enterprise, Or., died last evening at the Sellwood general hospital. Mr. Jewell had been a patient of the Sellwood institution for about two weeks. The body will be shipped to Enterprise for burial.

Str. Twin Cities, for Lewiston, Kennewick, Pasco, Umatilla, Arlington and way points. Leaves Taylor Street dock March 8, 11 p. m. Main 613. Adv.

Funeral of A. D. Barker.—The funeral of A. D. Barker, who died in this city on Sunday night, March 5, will be conducted at the Holman parlors tomorrow afternoon at 2 p. m., by Rev. William Graham Moore, pastor of the Mt. Tabor Presbyterian church. Interment will be made in the Masonic cemetery at Albany on Thursday. Mr. Barker was 72 years old, and had been in the employ of the Southern Pacific for more than 40 years. He came to Oregon in 1864. Two sons, B. J. Barker of Portland, and J. A. Barker of Dixon, Cal., and one daughter, Mrs. Margaret Gilchrist, survive him. He was a member of the Maccabees and the A. O. U. W.

Be Loyal to Oregon.—The articles now publishing in The Journal under the heading: "There Is Nothing the Matter With Portland" are a revelation to most residents of Oregon, and if heeded as they should be, will build Oregon into a great manufacturing state. You are helping to cut down salaries; you are helping to make unemployed; you are helping to make times harder generally for yourself and other Oregonians when you send money out of the state for anything that is produced within the borders of this commonwealth, and you do not display the best type of citizenship when you follow such an unbusinesslike course. Life insurance premiums paid to other companies drain Oregon of more ready cash annually than any other commodity, with but one exception. Serve your own interest by keeping Oregon money in Oregon and placing your insurance in Oregon Life, Oregon's successful life insurance company. We invest all funds in Oregon securities exclusively and furnish superior service to policyholders. Best for Oregonians. Home office, Corbett building, Portland. A. L. Mills, president; L. Samuel, general manager; C. S Samuel, assistant manager. (Adv.)

Frederick Brandshagen Dies.—Frederick C. Brandshagen, who died in this city yesterday at his residence, 964 Vancouver avenue, was 38 years of age, a veteran of the Spanish-American war and a letter-carrier. Mr. Branshagen served in Company L, Second Illinois, enlisting in 1898. He was a member of Scout Young camp, S.-A. W. V., of this city. His widow, Mrs. Alma L. Brandshagen, his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Winkler, and brother, Rudolph Winkler, survive. Funeral arrangements have not yet been announced.

Preparedness to Be Discussed.—The subject of preparedness, particularly with reference to establishment of a naval base at the mouth of the Columbia river, will be made a special order for discussion by the members' council of the Chamber of Commerce next Monday. Ralph R. Duniway put the proposition of national defense before the council today and Wallace R. Struble urged the discussion. Chairman E. L. Thompson instructed Mr. Duniway and Mr. Struble to prepare a program for the day.

Credit and Its Uses.—Professor Don C. Sowers of the school of commerce of the University of Oregon, will give the fourth of his series of lectures to the members of the Portland Association of Credit Men in Room B of the public library on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. His subject will be "Credit and Its Uses." These lectures are open to the public, although arranged especially for those interested in the study of credit extension.

To Discuss Rose Culture.—"Rose Culture for Prize-Winners," will be the subject of J. A. Curry's address at a meeting this evening of the Hawthorne District Rose association, in the auditorium of the East Side library, East Eleventh and East Alder streets. This will be the first 1916 rose culture lecture. J. O. Convill, superintendent of city parks, will lecture on "Availability of Laurelhurst Park for a Section of the Proposed Portland National Rose Garden."

Victor Hudson Buried.—The funeral of Victor P. Hudson, who died in this city March 5, at his home, 386 Sixth street, was held this afternoon from the chapel of J. P. Finley & Son. Mr. Hudson was a native of New York, aged 61, and lived many years in Nebaska, coming to Oregon four years ago. He is survived by a son, Ray Hudson, and a daughter, Mrs. Florence Allen, both of this city.

Woman Painfully Hurt.—Dodging behind one streetcar and stepping in front of another from the opposite direction, Mrs. Jessie Vestal of 708 Water street was struck by a North and South Portland car at Second and Grant streets last night and painfully injured. She was taken home in an ambulance. E. D. Woods was motorman of the car and A. A. Lyle conductor.

Rev. Mr. Olson's Father Ill.—Rev. J. Richard Olson, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran church, Nineteenth and Irving streets, is at the bedside of his dying father in Holdrege, Neb. Mr. Olson received a message at 5:30 Saturday afternoon informing him of the serious turn in his father's illness, and left at 6:15 for his parents' home.

Odd Fellows to Meet.—Odd Fellows, City View lodge, No. 201, will meet this evening to practice team work in Wall's hall. A social time will follow the practice, with refreshments completing the evening.

Steamer Jesse Harkins for Camas, Washougal and way landings, daily, except Sunday. Leaves Washington Street dock at 2 p. m. (Adv.)

To Lecture on War.—"What Is War and the Nature of War?" is the subject of a lecture to be given tonight at 8 o'clock at the Multnomah Athletic club by Lieutenant Colonel D. J. Baker, U. S. A. This is the first of a series of lectures planned to be given every two weeks by officers from the army post at Vancouver, Wash.

Duncan A. McLean Dead.—The death of Duncan A. McLean is announced from Los Angeles. He had been in ill health for several years. Mr. McLean was born in Astoria in 1873 and was secretary of the firm of Gray, McLean & Percy of this city, wholesale bakers' supplies. He is survived by his mother and two brothers, all of Hood River.

Birth Control Will Be Discussed.—"Birth Control and Some of Its Consequences" will be the topic of discussion at Albina branch library on Knott street, near Union avenue, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The meeting is open to men and women and is under the auspices of the Birth Control league.

Reed Extension Lecture Tonight.—Professor W. F. Ogburn will give the fifth lecture in his extension course on "The Story of Early Man," this evening at 8 o'clock at the Ainsworth school, Portland Heights. His subject will be "Customs and Manners," and the lecture will be illustrated with lantern slides.

Hear Miss Elizabeth Woodbury, the noted dramatic reader, at the First M. E. church, Wednesday evening, March 8, at 8 o'clock, when she will give the book everybody likes, "The Great Divide." Assisting will be Miss Goldie Peterson, soprano, and Hartridge Whipp, baritone. Admission 25c.—Ad.

Ad Club Luncheon Tomorrow.—The Ad club will turn from the serious to fun and frolic at a luncheon program at the Imperial hotel tomorrow noon. Theatricals will be featured. Charles F. Berg will preside.

Circles Will Hold Meeting.—Circles Nos. 2 and 3 of the East Side Christian church, will meet on Wednesday, March 8, at 2 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Emma Haws, 1087 East Washington street.

Lecture-Recital Announced.—Max P. Cushing will give the fourth lecture-recital in his extension course this evening at 8 o'clock in the Reed college chapel. He will play organ numbers by Rheinberger.

Dr. De Busk to Speak.—Dr. B. W. De Busk of the University of Oregon will speak at the public library tonight at 8 o'clock on "The Measurement of General Intelligence."

South Dakota Society.—Thursday evening the South Dakota society will meet in the Cotillion hall at Fourteenth and Washington streets. Former residents of South Dakota are invited.

Sacramento Division Gets Highest Marks

Southern Pacific Announces Result of Last Annual Inspection of Pacific System Lines—Many Medals Given.

Vice President and General Manager W. R. Scott, Assistant General Managers D. W. Campbell and H. V. Platt and Assistant Chief Engineer J. Q. Barlow of the Southern Pacific company, have announced the results of the last annual inspection of Pacific system lines.

The Sacramento division, of which J. H. Dyer is superintendent, received the highest number of "perfect" marks, the Sacramento district, of which J. O'Donnell is roadmaster, received the highest number of the roadmaster's districts, and the "best" section was declared to be No. 8, San Jose district, coast division, of which L. B. Stacy is foreman.

Roadmaster O'Donnell received a gold medal for his district, and Section Foreman Stacy received one for the maintenance of his section. Silver medals were awarded to 48 section foremen, 47 station agents, 21 pumpers at pump houses, 7 pumpers at fuel oil plants and 11 engineers at power plants.

Better Baby Week.

Sandy, Or., March 7.—Better baby week will be observed by the Women's club of Sandy with a program on Wednesday evening at the Methodist Episcopal church.

OXFORD GRADUATE IS HELD ON CHARGE OF PASSING BAD CHECKS

Arrest of George Whitfield Bares Extensive Plan in Alleged Irregularities.

A graduate of Oxford and a past professor in Latin in a number of American educational institutions, George T. Whitfield of Philadelphia, alias Melville R. Moore, was arrested at the Imperial hotel by Deputy Sheriffs Phillips and Ward this morning, following a series of bad draft operations in leading hotels from Canada to the Mexican line.

Arriving in Portland Sunday from Victoria via Seattle, Whitfield registered at the Imperial hotel, where he cashed an order for $25 yesterday.

Operatives of the William J. Burns International Detective Agency followed him all day to watch his movements and learn his methods. He was about to leave for Seattle on a midnight train when stopped, but was permitted to remain at the Imperial overnight because of ill health, not being formally arrested until this morning.

Equipment Is Elaborate.

Carrying specially prepared and watermarked bank check paper, Whitfield had a supply of drafts printed here yesterday on the Girard Trust company of Philadelphia. At another printing establishment they were crossed in favor of the Park National bank, New York.

Next they were stamped with serial numbers up in the thousands. Going to the office of a typewriter company, Whitfield next borrowed a machine and filled in his drafts. Then he visited Gill's, ostensibly to look at protectographs, but really to use the device on his drafts. His forms were too large for the machine at Gill's, however, and the detectives observed him spoil half a dozen drafts there. He was more successful with a protectograph at Kilham's.

One draft on his person was filled in for $25, and this is said to be the amount he invariably used.

According to Francis S. Alkus, resident manager for the Burns agency, Whitfield presented his drafts with a self-written letter on the stationery purporting to be that of the Girard Trust company, the letter forming an identification.

The signature on the drafts and on the letters found in his possession is the same, being "A. W. Baker, assistant treasurer."

Letter Addressed to Self.

His letter, addressed to himself, speaks of business negotiations being carried on for him by the trust company and concludes with a statement that four drafts for $25 each are enclosed, according to his request, to be charged to his account.

Whitfield confessed to Mr. Alkus that he had passed his drafts on the Empress hotel, Victoria; Tacoma hotel, Tacoma; Washington hotel, Seattle; Travelers' hotel, Sacramento; Nattick hotel, Los Angeles; U. S. Grant hotel, San Diego, and Stockton hotel, Stockton.

Whitfield is 54 years old and states that he taught Latin in a number of sectarian schools until deafness made teaching very difficult. Among the schools in which he has taught are St. Mary's college, Techny, Ill.; Sacred Heart college, Sacred Heart, Oklahoma, and Holy Cross college, Holy Cross, N. D.

Cards found in his possession give an address of 530 Walnut street, and "Oklahoma oil lands" as a business.

A muffler to lessen the noise of a motorboat exhaust permits the waste gases to expand and cool before reaching the air.

To Discuss Naval Base, Preparedness

Plans for Personal Service Campaign to Come Before Members' Council of Chamber of Commerce Monday.

Plans for personal service in the campaign for United States preparedness, and for the securing of the naval base at the mouth of the Columbia river, are to come before the session of the members' council of the Chamber of Commerce next Monday at noon.

"Oregon's Relations to Military Preparedness," will be the subject of discussion by speakers, headed by Ralph R. Duniway, while Wallace Struble and a delegation of Astoria's most prominent men will elucidate "A Naval Base at the Mouth of the Columbia an Essential Unit of the Pacific Coast Program."

War Stops Shipment Of Oriental Rugs!

THE CARPET TRADE REVIEW says: "Oriental rug importers say it is impossible to obtain accurate information of the whereabouts of the goods owned by them in Persia. The last arrivals in New York from Persia were a month ago, having started from the interior some eight months previously."

While the situation as outlined above will naturally result in higher prices, Portland will be the last city in America to feel it on account of the fortunate position she occupies in the possession of the enormous collections representing the Grand Prize-winning exhibit at the Turkish Pavilion and Palace of Varied Industries.

NOTE—Both of our collections assembled at the P.-P. I. E., combined with our regular stocks, will continue on display and sale at no advance in prices until further notice.
