SEALS PILFER DOZEN SACKS AND THE GAME; BATTERIES NOT THERE

It Wasn't That the Bay City Lads Were Clever Thieves, but the Prey Was Soft.

THE SCORE WAS 9 TO 5

The Sad Story Is Told in the Summary, Which Doesn't Let Anyone Get By.

By R. A. Cronin.

Boss McCredie might just as well have gone into the umbrella splotched bleachers, stuck out his freckled forefinger, and repeated to himself:

"Eenie, meenie, minie, mo."

With batterymen thus selected he could have fared no worse in his pitching and catching than with the conglomerate mass that performed in the points for the Beavers.

And as for Louie Sepulveda — the Seals swiped everything he had but his nationality.

Oh, my, yes; it was a glorious exemplification of the national pastime.

Sad for the Ancestors.

Al Spalding, Nick Young and Abner Doubleday must have turned over in their vine-covered mausoleums while the Beavers were attempting to play the grand old game they gave to the world.

Have a peep at the summary of the box score—enough said.

About the only happy set of men in this part of the country is the Seals and they are glad because they won the series, three games to two, and that they are escaping a rain-soaked section.

It even became such an uproarious farce that Umpire Billy Phyle, in announcing Pinchhitter Babe Pinelli, grunted:

"Pinelli, hitting for Harrington—no, I mean batting."

The Batteries Were Battered.

The Beaver regulars made enough runs to win an ordinary ball game, but the deceivers and the receiver as promptly put the Seals in the lead. Once, however, they had the help of Babe Borton, who gently lobbed a ball to the catcher in the fifth for a dead out with two down. It arrived too late and after that two runs were tallied.

Briefly, this is what happened: Rodgers' single, an out and Farmer's single, the first of three hits, scored for the Beavers in the first.

Hits by Schaller and Downs, Koerner's flyout to center and Corhan's double gave the Seals two in the second off Penner.

Fitzgerald's single, a stolen base and Maisel's single scored another in the third.

Two Secured in Fourth.

Walks by Farmer and Borton off O'Doul, Williams' single, another walk by Sepulveda and Pinchhitter Stumpf's sacrifice fly scored two for Portland in the fourth.

Downs' walk, a stolen base, a wild pitch, a walk by Maisel, a double steal and Schaller's double tallied two for the Seals in the fifth off Leake. Had Borton put a little speed on his throw to the plate on Downs' steal, no score would have been made, as two were already out. With one down, the Seals counted again in the sixth, Corhan stealing second and scoring on Baker's hit.

Farmer's double scored Rodgers and Willie came in on Corhan's error in the seventh.

Corhan Stole Four.

A walk by Oldham, Fitzgerald's double and Pick's single gave two more in the eighth.

Fitzpatrick, a San Francisco busher, pitched the ninth for Portland. Downs' single, a wild pitch, Koerner's flyout and a double steal with Corhan, who walked, gave the ninth counter. It was, by the way, Corhan's fourth steal on his old teammate, Spanish Lou. Altogether, the Seals stole about a dozen bases. The score:

Tigers Blank White Sox.

Chicago, April 30.—(I. N. S.)—Cobb and Mitchell defeated the Chicago White Sox, 3 to 0, Sunday. The Georgia peach leaned on the ball for a triple and did some fancy fielding. Mitchell allowed only five hits. Faber and Russell, hurling for the Sox, held the Tigers to three hits, but, even with this display of stinginess, were forced to go down to defeat. The score:
