Boyd of the First Presbyterian church; Dr. Joshua Stansfield of the First Methodist church; Rev. William G. Eliot, Jr., of the First Unitarian church; Dr. W. B. Hinson of the East Side Baptist church; Dr. F. Burgette Short of Wilbur Methodist church; Dr. Edward H. Pence of the Westminster Presbyterian church; Dr. William A. Waldo of the First Baptist church; Dr. J. J. Staub of the Sunnyside Methodist church.

CONSOLIDATION OF CHURCHES TO BE TOPIC SUNDAY

Pastors of City Plan to Talk Reunion of Christendom in Plain and Practical Manner.

ONE of the subjects demanding the attention today of the Protestant churches throughout the land is the suggestion of the reunion of Christendom and especially the reunion of the Christian churches throughout the world. This subject has attracted so much attention in Portland that many of the Portland clergy have announced their intention of preaching on the subject Sunday. The pastors plan to discuss the matter in a plain and practical manner Sunday and several of them have announced that discussion classes will be held at the close of the service to talk over the plan.

In talking of the plan, Rev. Edward Constant, pastor of the Highland Congregational church, said: "The things which used to stand in the way of the larger communions may now be overcome, thus showing that the day has arrived when the different Protestant bodies at least should make an honest attempt to get together."

Union Is Demanded

Dr. John H. Boyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, has issued a challenge "to every church in Oregon that believes in the Son of God, to join in some form of a union, federation, organization or to adopt the community church plan." Dr. Boyd said: "The Presbyterian church is willing to practice baptism under the form of immersion where the communicants so desire, and we will welcome to our sacrament all persons desiring to sit at the Lord's table." By this plan Dr. Boyd does not intend that anyone should give up his individual belief, but suggests that the churches might join in the essentials.

On Wednesday evening at 8:15 o'clock, the men of the First Christian church will be addressed by Dr. Boyd on "Church Unity as a War Time Measure." Dr. Boyd has a definite message on religious unity and all men of the city are cordially invited to this meeting. The address is to be followed by an open discussion with the privilege of asking questions.

Many Give Time to War Work

In a recent survey made by The Journal it was found that about one fourth of the Oregon clergy had either given up their pulpits entirely or else they were giving the six days of the week to war work. It is argued that if the church union plan were adopted, many more ministers would thus be liberated to work as army chaplains and camp pastors and thus assist the nation in the great struggle that it is making for the cause of freedom.

Rev. J. F. Ghormley, pastor of the Rodney Avenue Christian church, is to speak Sunday morning on "The Timely Challenge of the Presbyterian Church for a Union of Christian Forces to Meet the Needs of the Hour."

Sunday morning Rev. J. E. Thomas is to speak at Calvary Baptist church on "Two Ways of Trying to Secure Church Union. He says: "This is a timely topic in view of the fact that the bureau of census for 10 years ending December 31, 1916, reports 201 denominations in the United States, or an increase of 13 new denominations in 10 years."

At the First Christian church, Dr. Harold H. Griffis will speak Sunday morning on "God's Answer to Denominationalism."

"Chastened Church" Is Topic

"A Chastened Church" is the subject of the morning service at the Third United Brethren church Sunday. This is the second in a series on the seven churches of Asia. An evangelistic service will be conducted in the evening.

Noted Speaker to Talk Sunday at First Presbyterian and First Congregational on Sufferings of Tortured Armenians

For eight years a resident of Turkey, where he saw the atrocities upon the Armenians, is the experience of Rev. James L. Barton, D. D., who is in Portland to address several gatherings on the Armenian and Syrian relief work. It is expected that he will bring an interesting message to every audience which hears him.

Dr. Barton left America for Turkey in the fall of 1885 and went into the eastern part of the empire, where for seven years he was engaged in general missionary and educational work and was, toward the end of his service, made president of Euphrates college, an American college in Harpoot, Eastern Turkey, with a registration of about 600. After returning to this country, he was made foreign secretary of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions and he also became secretary of different American college corporations carrying on work in Turkey.

Sunday morning he will occupy the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church and Sunday evening he will address a union meeting of the 15 Congregational churches in the city at the First Congregational church. At these meetings it is expected that Dr. Barton will thank Portland and Oregon for the noble part taken in the last Armenian drive, when Oregon went over the top by giving more per capita than any other state in the union. It is planned to conduct another drive before the year closes and Dr. Barton may offer some suggestions at these meetings for carrying on the new campaign.

At First Methodist church at 10:30 in the morning, C. V. Vickrey will speak on "The Armenian Situation." Mr. Vickrey was in Portland with the speakers in the great laymen's missionary movement. He was one of the creators of that great movement and had a responsible part in it. He was elected chairman of the American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief and has a remarkable address on that subject which should insure a capacity house.

Every Eligible Is In Nation's Service

The East Side Baptist church announced Friday that every young man of draft age, who was a member of their congregation and who was eligible to go into the army or navy, had enlisted in the service of his country. Now that so many young men from this church have gone into the nation's service, the young people's union intends to do greater patriotic work. "A call to the colors" has been issued to every member remaining to be present at the Sunday night service, when new patriotic plans will be talked about. The young people are also planning to enter their new church building this coming fall with a live and large society. They have been giving special programs Sunday evenings during the summer months. Dr. S. J. Reid of Victoria, B. C., is to preach at both church services Sunday, during the absence of the pastor, Dr. W. B. Hinson.

Sunnyside Churches Hold Union Services

Encouraged by the success of former years, the churches of the Sunnyside district have again planned to hold union Sunday evening meetings during the month of August. This arrangement not only solves the problem of the scattered and depleted local audience, but answers the growing desire for more fellowship and cooperation among the various churches serving in the same district. The schedule adopted is as follows:

August 4—United Presbyterian church; speaker, Rev. J. J. Staub.

August 11—Congregational church; speaker, Rev. H. L. Cox.

August 18—Friends church; speaker, Rev. H. F. Given.

August 25—Methodist church; speaker, Rev. R. Elmer Smith.

Dr. J. J. Staub's subject for Sunday evening will be "The Mission of the Prophet of Today."

Rev. A. C. Moses to Preach Last Time

At Waverly Heights Congregational church Rev. A. C. Moses, just returned from Asilomar, Cal., will preach at 11 and at 8. Moses would like to see all members and friends of the church. Hereafter he will be at "Y" J. Camp Lewis, where he is director of religious work.

Dr. Powers Will Be Speaker on Sunday

"Camp Multnomah," the Christian Endeavor training station, which will be held at Jennings Lodge from August 15 to August 19, inclusive, will bring before the young people of this county all the phases of the Christian Endeavor movement. The speakers have been selected from among the best trained workers of the state, each of whom will have a very forceful message for the Endeavorers.

Miss Edna Whipple, president of the Oregon Endeavor union, will deliver the keynote address and conduct all the "watch" services. During the evening watches Miss Whipple will speak on "A Glimpse of Him," "Not My Will, but Thine," "The Zeal of the Master," "A Mirror of Christ" and "His Keeping Power."

The leader of the song services will be Harold Humbert, secretary of the Oregon Sunday School union. Mr. Humbert has already won the hearts of the Oregon Endeavorers by his active part in former conventions, especially in singing.

Bible study classes will be conducted each morning under Rev. Harold Griffis, one of the city's prominent pastors. The study consists of the factors constituting "The Gospel for a World at War."

Besides the officers of the Christian Endeavor union, who will conduct the conferences, other leaders will be W. J. Palmer, Y. M. C. A. secretary from the front, who will picture life "over there with the Red Triangle," and Miss Gladys Miller, director of the pageant to be held, entitled "Endeavorer, Carry On."

All prospective delegates should mail in registration cards at once, in order that the proper amount of accommodations be obtained. The total expenses of attending the convention, including 25c for registration, 25c for sleeping quarters for five days, and meals, will not amount to more than 80c per day. The fare to Jennings Lodge is 32c. All delegates are asked to bring their own bedding, as everything is to be conducted in camp style.

They have prepared an extensive program, and have chosen the local leaders in their own church as the main speakers. The program calls for religious sessions and conferences in the mornings, the afternoons and evenings being devoted to recreation. It is very probable that this conference will be held in true Quaker style.

This conference is planned to be an inspirational summer school, as well as an enjoyable vacation. It is planned for all ages, and every monthly meeting in the state has been invited to attend. Among the leading speakers announced are: Levi T. Pennington, Russell Lewis and Floyd Perisho, all of Pacific college; Rev. Homer L. Cox, pastor of the First church, Portland; Lurane M. Portland Crematorium

More Beautiful in Any Light

Cremation is time and time again the choice of people not on account of the scientific reasons for Cremation, but because from any viewpoint it is the most beautiful and satisfactory disposition of the bodies of the dead.

Nothing short of a visit can give you a true conception of what a plant such as this means. Your first impression will reflect our constant endeavor to make a trying hour of life, when the dead are called away, pass in a manner consistent with the finest sentiment.
