TODAY'S FORECASTS

Portland and Vicinity—Tonight and Tuesday fair; winds mostly easterly.
Oregon and Washington—Tonight and Tuesday fair; gentle winds, mostly easterly.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

Low pressure prevails from Manitoba to the North and Middle Atlantic coast, and over a small area in the extreme Southwest. The remainder of the country is covered by a great high pressure area, the highest readings being in Nebraska and Colorado. Precipitation has occurred over a broad area reaching from New Mexico and Texas to New York, and locally in Utah and Manitoba. The following heavy rainfall is reported, Chicago, Ill., 1.70; Buffalo, N. Y., 1.60; Memphis, Tenn., 1.06. The temperature is above normal along the immediate Pacific coast, in the extreme Northern Plains states, and over most of the country east of the Mississippi river, and is generally below normal in other sections. Killing frost is reported from Western Nebraska. Fair weather may be expected in Portland and its vicinity tonight and Tuesday, with easterly winds.

Relative humidity at Portland: 1 p. m. yesterday, 50 per cent; 6 p. m. yesterday, 75 per cent; 6 a. m. today, 91 per cent.

THRIFT STAMPS and WAR SAVINGS STAMPS On Sale at Business Office, The Journal.

Game Violators Punished—Deputy State Game Warden Tonkin, who recently returned to Portland from Douglas county, reports that four men had been apprehended and fined $25 each, their licenses forfeited and their guns confiscated. The guns were shipped to Game Warden Shoemaker. Five more complaints of violations in Douglas county are still in the hands of the warden, and arrests are looked for. Deputy Tonkin states that does and fawns are being ruthlessly slaughtered in many sections of the state.

State Department Promises Nothing—Several persons in Oregon who were interested in banana plantations in Mexico which were confiscated by the Carranza government, have presented complaints to the state department through Senator McNary. To these complaints William Phillips, assistant secretary of state, has replied that blanks will be furnished on which formal statements of losses may be set forth. The state department will then give consideration to the claims, though promising nothing as to the enforcement of the collection.

Goitre as a coincidence of heart disturbance is very common. The statistics of Schanz which were based on an investigation of two hundred sixty-four goitrous school children and one hundred seventeen goitrous adults and seven hundred post mortem examinations, show that after subtraction of the valvular defects, 23 per cent of the children and 49 per cent of the adults suffered from heart trouble. Goitre? R. M. Erwin, M. D., goitre specialist, 300-301 Journal bldg.—Adv.

Jewish Congregation Elects—At the annual meeting of the Congregation Neveh-Zadek-Talmud Torah, held Sunday, the following officers were elected for the year: D. Nemerosky, president; David Nudelman, vice president; J. Solomon, treasurer; Dr. George Rubenstein, recording secretary; L. M. Touken, financial secretaray, and the following trustees: M. Gale, life tenure; Morris Goldblatt, Charles Edelson, M. Abrams and James Bodder.

Club to Hear Johnson—The Rotary club has announced that it has abandoned its regular Tuesday noon meeting in order to give its members an opportunity to hear Senator Hiram Johnson of California at the Chamber of Commerce.

Pension Increases Remote—Increases for veterans of Oregon Indian wars are remote, in the opinion of Senator Chamberlain, who has so expressed himself in a recent letter to a constituent. Senators and members of congress from the Northwest have been receiving many letter of late from Indian war veterans complaining that their pensions were not adequate, but in view of the difficulties which had to be overcome in securing legislation that would benefit them at all, it has not been possible to make encouraging replies.

Thousands Visit Eagle Creek—Nearly 30,000 visitors signed the national forest travelers' register at the Eagle Creek camp grounds, 45 miles east of Portland, during the season just closed. As only about one visitor out of four registered, it is estimated that about 120,000 people found recreation at the resort this year. During the month of August alone 10,682 persons registered at the camp, and no arrests for disorderly conduct were made during the season.

Timber Survey Discontinued—The forest service timber survey in the Umpqua national forest has been discontinued for the year and C. J. Conover, who has been in charge, will return to Portland today. Forest Examiner Shirley Buck has announced. The mosaic aerial photograph of the township, which is to supplement the ground survey, has been delayed because of difficulty in securing the special camera necessary from the war department. Charles W. Boyce will have charge of the aerial photographic operations.

Former Portland Man Missing—Judgment by a jury in the superior court at Los Angeles last summer, finding George A. Fox, formerly of Portland, guilty of embezzling $5106.25 from Mrs. Anna G. Walters, a wealthy widow of Santa Ana, has been affirmed by a decision of the district court of appeals. He was sentenced to San Quentin, but is missing, and his bondsmen are strenuously trying to locate him. Fox has a wife and daughter still living in Portland.

Historic Deed Preserved—That future generations may have record of the transaction which deeded to them the historic Barlow road, by which the pioneers of the Willamette valley negotiated passes of the mountain range, the Oregon Historical society has caused to be spread upon its records a certified copy of the deed given by George W. and Bertha L. Joseph of Portland, transferring the Barlow road to the state of Oregon in perpetuity.

Lake May Be Bird Preserve—George W. Field, in charge of reservations for the department of agriculture, is in Oregon to promote the government plan to have Malheur lake retained as a bird preserve in a way that will not be prejudicial to agricultural interests, and to classify the lands about the lake according to their best uses. Field says the lake is one of the great natural curiosities of Oregon and one that ultimately will draw thousands of tourists, since it lies on the road to Crater lake.

Governor and Commission Thanked—Concurrent with closing the Oregon welcome headquarters in New York, W. L. Whittlesey, in charge of the work there, wrote a letter to Governor Olcott in which the executive was lauded for the interest he had manifested in receiving the Oregon soldiers from overseas. In another letter Mr. Whittlesey thanks the members of the commission for their valuable services.

Chisholm Comes to Portland—A. Austin Chisholm, manager of the Bligh hotel at Salem for the past year, has resigned his position and will be succeeded by F. W. Jobelman of Portland. Mr. Chisholm will remove to Portland, where he will make his home. He is well known throughout the state and has a wide acquaintance among the traveling public.

Morris Buys Bridge Bonds—Morris Brothers of Portland were the successful bidders for $115,000 bonds advertised for sale by Franklin county, Wash., to obtain funds with which to build the bridge across the Snake river between Pasco and Burbank. Their bid was par value plus accrued interest from date of issue to date of delivery and a bonus of $200.

Oswego Principal Resigns—The resignation of Chester A. Lyon, principal of the Oswego schools, has been accepted by the school board. Professor Lyon will take a position with the court of domestic relations in Portland. His work in conducting a farm for boys has won recognition throughout the state. The farm has been known as the "Big Brother farm."

Navy Soldier Returns—Among the Americans who returned to New York last week from Southampton was William McAdoo, son of I. G. McAdoo of Bend and formerly of Salem, who entered the Canadian army four years ago when he was 14 years old. Young McAdoo received 11 wounds in battle and received the distinguished service medal for extraordinary bravery.

Ancient Claim Is Revived—A bill providing for the payment of losses suffered by about 50 settlers in Southern Oregon by reason of the Rogue River Indian war in 1855 has been introduced in the senate by Senator McNary, and another attempt will be made to settle these long-standing claims against the government.

Youngsters Are Making Money—Many boys and girls of school age are still in the country districts engaged in work, according to school officials. Large numbers remained out of school during the hop picking season, then went to Hood River and other apple growing localities where they are picking apples at wages earned by grown people a few years ago.

Reclamation Funds Depleted—The reclamation service finds it impossible to consider the construction of the Owyhee irrigation project in Malheur county at this time on account of the depletion of the reclamation funds. This answer has been given to a petition from residents of that section of Eastern Oregon.

Would Hasten Work at Newport—Senators Chamberlain and McNary have urged the board of engineers for rivers and harbors to begin construction as early as possible on the north jetty at Newport.

Portland Y. M. C. A. Is Large—Portland has the largest Y. M. C. A. west of Chicago, according to the latest international year books, just received in Portland by H. W. Stone, general secretary of the local association. It has a membership of 4656, Los Angeles coming second with 4647, and San Francisco third with 4065. This city stands tenth in all North American municipalities having more than 1000 students in its schools and is second in rank of this class west of Chicago, with 1545, Los Angeles leading with 1737.

Timber Will Be Sold—Bids are being advertised by the forest service for a small sale of about 300,000 feet of timber on the Deep creek watershed of the Colville national forest. Prices named are $2 for Western yellow pine and $1 for Douglas fir, Western larch and other species.

Osteopathic Society to Meet—The Portland Osteopathic society will hold its first regular meeting in the assembly hall at 8 o'clock tonight, with Dr. C. A. Pengia, temporary chairman, presiding. Dr. George F. Whitehouse of Los Angeles will be one of the chief speakers.

Elks Band to Play—Members of Portland lodge of Elks and their families are anticipating a musical treat Tuesday night at the concert of the Elks band under the direction of H. M. Stoudemeyer. Special plans have been taken to make it attractive of all lovers of music.

Pensions Granted Oregonians—Pensions have been granted in Oregon recently as follows: Selina Loomis, Eugene, $25; Lydia H. Moores, Silverton, $12; Louis Tieskitter, Eugene, $25, and Edward J. Perkins, Sable, $8.

Baker to Have Ball Park and Natatorium

Baker, Oct. 6.—Baker taxpayers Saturday voted $135,000 for the construction of a natatorium, the purchase of land for recreation grounds and a ball park. A bond issue of $100,000 for street improvements and the purchase of machinery to be used by the street department was also passed. The purchase of land to be used for cemetery purposes was approved. The natatorium bond issue barely passed, with a majority of 122 votes out of 1200 cast.

Night School to Open

Astoria, Oct. 6.—The Knights of Columbus will start a night school in Astoria for ex-service men. The organization will rent the hall, furnish the equipment and textbooks and hire the teachers. Classes in gas engines, electricity, carpentry, plumbing, welding, telegraphy, both wire and radio, and common school subjects will be offered.

ODDS AND ENDS IN THE NEWS OF TRAVELERS AND HOMEFOLK

Childs Manages Barbecue

When Richard W. Childs, manager of the Portland, lived in Boise, Idaho, he was secretary of the Boise Commercial club. The idea was evolved among the business men of serving a free barbecue each year during the state fair. This year the Commercial club simply outdid itself. Five steers were slaughtered for the occasion and 10,000 sandwiches were given out to the hungry public. Childs assisted in superintending the event. The Idaho state fair was one of the biggest ever held, says Childs, and had one of the finest exhibitions of cattle ever shown in Southern Idaho. Not only was there native stock of the state, but prize animals were sent in from Washington, Colorado and other states. Business conditions are very good in Boise and Childs enjoyed meeting former associates and friends. Together with Mrs. Childs he returned to Portland Saturday evening after two weeks' vacation in Idaho.

They Flew to Portland

Major A. D. Smith, who has been in charge of the forest airplane patrol project during the summer, accompanied by Sergeant R. E. Blanton, also of the air service, flew to Portland Sunday from Eugene. They will spend today attending the meeting of the standardization committee of the Western Forestry & Conservation association, at which the airplane patrol proposition is the subject of discussion this morning, and continue their flight to Spokane Tuesday. They are at the Multnomah.

• • •

Railroad Man Here

E. R. Budd, superintendent of the Ilwaco branch of the O-W. R. & N. Co., and an old time resident of Portland, arrived at the Imperial this morning to talk over old times with old cronies.

Shirt Materials Scarce

Shirts—that is, the nicer varieties—are going up, says J. B. Harris, shirt specialist from Minneapolis, who is at the Multnomah. Harris attributes the rise to the scarcity of the better materials. "Fifteen or twenty different numbers we have marked off our list," said Harris, "simply because we can't get them any more." The inferior articles will remain about the same, said Harris.

At the Hotels

Mr. and Mrs. Harris West of Pendleton are spending a few days at the Benson.

O. D. Robertson, president of the Condon bank, and Lester Wade, merchant of the same city, are among the recent arrivals at the Imperial.

Judge H. H. Belt of Dallas is a guest at the Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Burford are Pendleton guests at the Seward.

O. D. Teel, who is at the head of the big irrigation project at Echo that will open up several thousand acres of farm land, is spending a few days at the Cornelius.

Mrs. J. E. Crow, whose husband is proprietor of the Summit House at Condon, is a visitor at the Imperial.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Jacobson and Miss Norma Snyder are guests at the Multnomah. Jacobson is forest supervisor of the Deschutes national forest and is one of the live wires of the community in assisting in the development of recreational and other resources of the country.

Russell Hawkins, lumberman from Kilches Point, is at the Portland.

Shad O. Krantz, a former Portland newspaper man who is now connected with the West Coast Lumbermen's association at Seattle, arrived at the Multnomah this morning to attend the lumbermen's convention being held this week.

J. S. Flint, who is in the lumber industry at Junction City, is at the Oregon.

Dr. J. D. Duback and J. H. Tackleberry left Sunday morning by automobile for Southern Oregon for a three weeks' hunting and fishing trip.

T. C. Carter and Roy B. Dement, prominent cattle-growers from Myrtle Point, one of the newly developed portions of the state, are at the Imperial.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Markham, proprietors of the hotel at Government Springs, are at the Seward.

J. E. Chilberg of Seattle, who is connected with the Skandinavian bank and also the Washington hotel, motored to Portland Sunday with a party consisting of B. Fotheringham, Captain T. H. Werdin and George Ritchie. They are all staying at the Multnomah.

John Hampshire, road contractor from Grants Pass, is a guest at the Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Loveley of Arlington are at the Multnomah. Loveley is a druggist.

A. H. Cox of the Oregon Lumber company at Pendleton is a guest at the Multnomah.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Fulton of Astoria are visiting at the Portland. Fulton is a prominent attorney of Astoria.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hurlburt of Moscow, Idaho, are at the Multnomah. Hurlburt is a mining man.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Northrup and Mrs. J. F. Wall and children of Boise, Idaho, are at the Portland, on their way home from the beach, where they have been spending several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Eakin are at the Multnomah from The Dalles, where Eakin is a prominent attorney.

Whale Catch Large

Aberdeen, Wash., Oct. 6.—So far the catch of whales at the Bay City station amounts to 160. This year four steamers have been operating. One of the whales caught measured 70 feet.

Birkett Hearing Postponed

Trial of Charles L. Birkett on a charge of violation of the traffic law was postponed until October 8, at Saturday's session of the municipal court. Birkett and J. M. Atterbury, 311 Dekum avenue, had an automobile accident at Broadway and Davis streets Friday night, in which Mrs. M. E. Atterbury, 749 East Twenty-eighth street, was badly injured. According to Officer Harry Stanton, Birkett refused to render aid to the woman. He was released under $250 bail.

Opticians for 25 years
When a firm has done one thing for 10 years it usually does it pretty well. If it does that one thing well for a quarter of a century and is just as progressive as when it was a good deal younger, then it has learned a lot of lessons that make its service more than ordinarily valuable to its customers.

Added to the Columbian's quarter of a century of experience as opticians is its progressiveness as evidenced by Columbian stores in seven cities.
