*Afternoon report of preceding day.

Institution Must Wait—No money will be available for the construction of the state employment institution for adult blind in Portland until after January 1, 1922, according to an opinion transmitted to the state board of control by Attorney General Van Winkle. The new institution was authorized by the voters at the special election last May. The measure creating the institution, however, provided for a levy of one-sixth of a mill on the assessed valuation of the state, to be included in the 1921 tax levy. This levy will not be made until December, 1921, and will not be available until the January following.

Heavy Northwest Immigration—General Agricultural Development Director Leedy of the Great Northern railway states that in the 10 years of his regime his staff has settled more than 500,000 homeseekers in the West. Of these 150,000 were placed in Washington and 45,000 in Oregon. It required 26,346 box cars to carry the household effects of settlers from the Middle Western States to their new homes in the Northwest. Mr. Leedy says: "The day of free homestead land has passed, but we are exploiting the irrigated lands of this section throughout the East."

Prices of Harney Land Fixed—A maximum price on the 10,000 acres of Harney county land to be placed on the market by the Pacific Livestock company under the agreement made with the state a year ago has been agreed upon by J. W. Biggs of Burns, representing the state land board, and A. R. Olson of Burns, representing the livestock company. The land will be placed on the market as soon as the board approves the figures, which provide for a maximum price of $100 per acre for the best land, with proportionately lower prices for the poorer lands.

Fourth Liberty Bonds—Banks of Portland have received notice from the federal reserve bank at San Francisco not to send in Fourth Liberty loan temporary coupon bonds for exchange into permanent coupon bonds prior to February 1. Delays in printing the new bonds have caused the coupon bonds to be held up.

Forged Checks in Portland—Jerry Rand, a 21-year-old clerk, is held in the city jail at Seattle. It is stated that he has confessed to passing forged checks in Portland and Spokane. He states that he opened an account with the United States National bank in this city and forged 10 large checks, and passed about the same number in Spokane. He used a number of aliases and it is thought his operations will run into hundreds of dollars.

Auto Fees $2,041,042—Thus far this year there have been registered in Oregon a total of 102,427 motor vehicles, 3485 motorcycles, 751 dealers and 3264 chauffeurs, from which the state received fees aggregating $2,041,042.75, according to a report just issued by Secretary of State Kozer. Durin gthe same period in 1919 the fees from these registrations totaled $576,913. The increase in the aggregate fees is attributed to the advance in charges for licenses effective January 1, 1920.

Shephard's Auto Bus Lines—Portland-Multnomah Falls division—Leave Portland, 9:30 a. m., 10:30 a. m., 4 p. m.; arrive Multnomah, 11:15 a. m., 12:15 p. m., 5:45 p. m.. Work on Tourist Hotel—Crews will soon be through with excavation for the large three-story tourist hotel being erected on the site of the old Wau Guin Guin summer resort on the Columbia River highway, just west of Hood River. Materials are already on the ground for constructing the concrete holstery. The new hotel will be 90x185 feet, and it will be ready for the tourist traffic expected next spring. Simon Benson is financing the hotel.

Entitled to Cash Rebates—Industries contributing to the workmen's compensation fund are entitled to cash rebates under the recent dividend declared by the commission, according to an opinion prepared by Attorney General Van Winkle. In declaring the dividend, which was provided for under the provisions of the law of 1919, the commission placed each contributor's share of the rebate to its credit to be absorbed in subsequent contributions to the fund.

Season's Work in National Forests—One standing evidence of progress in the national forests during the past season is the extension and improvement of the whole system of trails leading to lookout stations. There were 28 miles constructed in the Cascade national forest, and a considerable number of miles in the Siuslaw forest. Among the principal projects undertaken was the trail from Foley Springs to Elk lake.

Dredge Has Started Work—The United States dredge Wahkiakum has started to clear out the channel of the river to Vancouver. Between now and December 1 four vessels are scheduled to load or unload cargoes at Vancouver. Two of these will carry lumber to England, and two will bring steel for the Standifer yards. It is expected Clarke county prunes will be carried on one of the four outgoing vessels.

Malheur County Leads—Malheur county stands without a peer in her lead over all other counties of the state in the number of new farms for the 10-year period from 1910 to 1920, according to the United States census report. In 1910 there were 801 farms in the county, and this number was increased to 1322 full-fledged farms in 1920, an increase of 65 per cent.

Suspects Are Arrested—Frank Lamma and Philip Varney, believed to be "wobblies," were arrested Sunday night, and, with Frank Jarvis and Alex Pertulla, arrested Saturday night, form a quartet to be investigated by the department of justice. Varney is said to be a walking delegate for a "wobbly" organization. Jarvis and Pertulla are Finns and have been in the country 11 years, but have not taken out naturalization papers.

Portland Man Suspected Murderer—Antone Fragos, a former restaurant man of Portland, and world war veteran, is under arrest at San Francisco charged with the murder of George Prattis in the lobby of a hotel in that city. Prattis was killed while in company with Mrs. Fragos. It is said that Fragos had contemplated taking his own life after Prattis had been shot, but discovered that he had no bullets left in his revolver.

Steptococus Is "It"—"All About Steptococus" is the headline of the Rotary club's luncheon announcement for Tuesday noon at the Benson hotel. Dr. Henry C.
