

The Oregonian

Published at the Post-office at Portland, Oregon, as the second-class matter.
TELEPHONE.
Editorial Rooms, 110 1/2 Business Office, 1007

REVENUE SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
By Mail (postpaid) in advance.
Daily, Sunday excepted, per year, $1.00
Daily, Sunday, per year, $1.50
Sunday, per year, $1.00

UNITED STATES, CANADA AND MEXICO.
50 to 10-page paper, 50 cents
10 to 20-page paper, 75 cents
Foreign rates double.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus.

ways with the laborer at the outset, against him. From whatever viewpoint the matter is regarded, the menace of a miners' strike is a disquieting one to all but political demagogues, who delight in the opportunity that it will furnish for blowing a coal between capital and labor, and to industrial meddlers, who are under pay in the same vocation. It may still be hoped that all means of peaceable adjustment of the differences between operators and miners have not been exhausted, and that the threatened strike will, in the interest of all concerned, be averted.

SEVERAL REASONS WHY.
The anti-imperialist letter that appeared in yesterday's issue of The Oregonian contained this passage:
We will always and every discussion of the Philippines, whether in its own right or as a reason for our present course, have answered: "Why did not America promise the Filipinos what it promised the Cubans?" "Why is the promise still withheld?"

GOVERNOR LEAHY'S WORK.
An interesting document recently issued from the Government printing office by order of the War Department is that of General Joseph Wheeler on the Island of Guam. This island, the largest of the Mariana Archipelago, was discovered by the United States in 1898, and was taken possession of by the United States in the summer of 1898.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

him back again from Canton to Peking. His strong hand saved the China dynasty in 1871, and it probably will save it again in conjunction with Prince Ching. Li Hung Chang is beloved by the people of Canton, by the common people, the middle classes and the nobility. He has done much for the progress of China. He has established military, naval, torpedo, telegraph, railway and medical schools within the empire. A hospital and dispensary on American lines exist in Canton, made possible by the generous gift of Li Hung Chang, and his wife—a woman of noble rank and high culture, who died about five years ago. When she was sick, Dr. Ferguson, an American missionary attached to a mission hospital, succeeded in getting Li's wife out of danger, but refused a fee of $5000 offered by the grateful husband. Thereupon the Viceroy and his wife gave large sums, fitted up the dispensary and provided for the training of native youths under English instructors to take hold of the work and carry it on.

GOVERNOR LEAHY'S WORK.
An interesting document recently issued from the Government printing office by order of the War Department is that of General Joseph Wheeler on the Island of Guam. This island, the largest of the Mariana Archipelago, was discovered by the United States in 1898, and was taken possession of by the United States in the summer of 1898.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

fished convictions he preferred to encounter the censure of his constituents, knowing that truth and justice would triumph at last. What finer example could he hold up to the contemplation of American youth today?

GOVERNOR LEAHY'S WORK.
An interesting document recently issued from the Government printing office by order of the War Department is that of General Joseph Wheeler on the Island of Guam. This island, the largest of the Mariana Archipelago, was discovered by the United States in 1898, and was taken possession of by the United States in the summer of 1898.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

THE CASE OF ABRAHAM.
Between Mr. Bryan's alarm at the awful havoc wrought by the truss and his conclusion that he should be elected President there is somewhat of a logical hiatus. At St. Louis he amplifies a promise with considerable skill, but he fails to point the exact connection.

NOTE AND COMMENT.
Remember the Maine—election.
Again the word "tardy" becomes fraught with direful meaning.

NOTE AND COMMENT.
Remember the Maine—election.
Again the word "tardy" becomes fraught with direful meaning.

NOTE AND COMMENT.
Remember the Maine—election.
Again the word "tardy" becomes fraught with direful meaning.

NOTE AND COMMENT.
Remember the Maine—election.
Again the word "tardy" becomes fraught with direful meaning.

NOTE AND COMMENT.
Remember the Maine—election.
Again the word "tardy" becomes fraught with direful meaning.

NOTE AND COMMENT.
Remember the Maine—election.
Again the word "tardy" becomes fraught with direful meaning.

NOTE AND COMMENT.
Remember the Maine—election.
Again the word "tardy" becomes fraught with direful meaning.

NOTE AND COMMENT.
Remember the Maine—election.
Again the word "tardy" becomes fraught with direful meaning.

NOTE AND COMMENT.
Remember the Maine—election.
Again the word "tardy" becomes fraught with direful meaning.

NOTE AND COMMENT.
Remember the Maine—election.
Again the word "tardy" becomes fraught with direful meaning.