

Kids & King

A Grand Three Days' Sale of Women's Jackets

$12.50 to $15.00 grades.. At $9.48 Each

Begins today. About 150 in the lot. All this season's newest styles, and variety sufficient to please all. Materials—Kersey, Covert, Vicuna, Cheviot and Camel-hair—Colors—Blues, browns, tan, castor, Oxford and medium gray, red and black. Every garment well tailored.

For fashionable winter coats

At an economical price they've not been equaled this season. Seeing them tell you better how much better they are than our descriptions. No woman wishing a smart Winter Coat should fail to see these at $9.48 each.

Closing Sale of Books

Our store is so crowded with Fall Goods that we have no room for our usual Winter Stock of Books; in consequence we will close out all we now have

WAY BELOW PRICE

A decided advance in the price of paper this season makes this offer of much importance. Nothing nicer for Christmas gifts. Judge others of these few:

Kipling's Short Stories.....15c ea
Shakespeare's Separate Plays.....15c ea
All Copyrighted Books.....50c ea

Dore's Illustrated Works, at 65c
and.....$1 ea
Child's Picture Books.....35c and 50c ea

FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLS

12 mo. cloth-bound books at.....15c ea
Testaments, limp covered, 25c to $1 ea

You cannot feel dressed if ill at ease, and you cannot be at ease if your shirt doesn't fit.

MOUNT HOOD Always fit

Negligee Shirts

That's one of their strong points. When a man puts on a Mount Hood Shirt he feels as if it were made for him. The neckband fits comfortably; the shirt sets well; it doesn't bind under the arms and the sleeves are the right length. Mount Hood Shirts in all the seasonable materials for Autumn and Winter are here. Fineness can be measured by the price you wish to pay. They begin at 50c; rise to $2.25 each.

Headquarters Here

FAVORS LANDSMEN

Sailors Do Not Make the Best Men-of-War's Men.

PLAN TO SUPPLANT NAVAL RESERVE

Captain R. E. Davis, of the Oregon Brigade, Not in Accord with Secretary Long's Suggestion.

Captain Robert E. Davis, of Portland, Commander of Oregon's Naval Brigade, does not agree entirely with Secretary Long's idea of supplanting the existing naval militia with men from the merchant service. Views of the Secretary of the Navy are given in the following press dispatch:

"Secretary Long, it is said in a special dispatch to the Tribune from Washington, will, in his report, urge the establishment of a naval reserve to supplant the existing naval militia, which is supposed to have outlived its usefulness, as shown by its rapid deterioration of making seafaring men available to go aboard fighting ships. It will be shown that in case of war the number of American warships now in service would require at least 100 officers and 10,000 men for fighting complements. With a National naval reserve enrolled, this force would be secured and made efficient in a few weeks, while the other hand the present naval militia system could not supply one-tenth the number in twice that time."

Captain Davis thinks the efficiency of the present militia could be very much enhanced by the use of other means and guns in training the recruits instead of the old wooden vessels used in these practice cruises.

"The training ships Adams and Ranger used on this coast," he said, in an interview last night, "are out of date, and do not give the men the most accurate ideas of what would be expected of them in case of real service." As for sailors from the merchant service making more effective man-of-war's men than landmen, Captain Davis differs with the Secretary. "No better fighting men can be found than those taken from land pursuits after they have been thoroughly trained on shipboard," the Captain said. "And the Oregon Naval Brigade compares favorably with any other company of its age and experience. With the exception of an occasional cruise on a wooden vessel, our men are compelled to rely on the training afforded by the appliances at the Armory. On our last practice trip on board the Philadelphia, in August, we went through all the details of seamanship, signaling and the use of guns, and although we have not heard from Washington in regard to results, we have received commendations from experienced men in regard to the efficiency of the brigade."

"The Naval Brigade costs the General Government very little, as only $30,000 a year is appropriated for its maintenance. Each company is allowed $25 per month, which does not go very far toward the actual expense, some of which are borne by the states themselves."

"With modern ships and guns and an appropriation to cover the expense, the present Naval Reserve can be made perfect in efficiency, and there will be no difficulty in obtaining all the young men needed. Even with the present obsolete type of appliances, our men have shown remarkable efficiency. I, for one, do not believe the service can be improved by confining the recruits to sailors from the merchant marine of the country, who are by no means the equals, as a class, of our young men taken from the pursuits at home. Experience has shown that the country can depend on these when the Nation needs efficient man-of-war's men."

Criminal Cases.

John Duffy pleaded guilty in the Crim-

Lipman, Wolff & Co.

The baby will be delighted with the perfumed BABY RIBBON. Sweet smelling and dainty

Men's Walking Gloves

Everybody knows Adlers $1.25 Walking Glove for men. You can buy them today for

98 Cents

SPECIAL.

At 50c A big lot of Men's Unlaundered White Shirts, linen bosoms and linen wristbands, perfect fitting; splendid values

SALE of Tailor-Made SUITS

Today and Tomorrow at $9.95

THESE Are jacket SUITS and Eton styles, in black and colors. Made of all-wool chevrons, broadcloth, homespuns, covert cloth and Venetians.

Regular Prices $16.50, $18.50, $20.

LAST DAY OF RIBBON SALE

At $3.95 New Trimmed Black Velvet Hats. Value $5 to $6

White Wool Blankets, special.....$3.00 pair
10-lb. Gray Oregon Wool Blankets, special $6.50 pair
White Fleece Blanket Sheets, special 85c, $1.25 pair

HELD UP BY FOOTPADS.

Pendleton Man Robbed of $70—One Suspect Under Arrest.

While going to the Union station at 8:30 last evening, M. Obyle, a railroad employee at Pendleton, was held up by three footpads and robbed of $70, and a silver watch. Obyle was unable to locate the place of attack definitely, but the robbery took place on the north end of Birch street, near the station. One of the men suspected of the robbery was arrested an hour later by Patrolman Bailey.

Obyle was walking down Sixth street when he was suddenly seized from behind by three men, thrown to the ground and held by two of them while his pockets were rifled by the third. A bundle of blue shirts the old man carried, his hat and handkerchief were also taken. The men then ran away, leaving Obyle lying on the ground. When he recovered his senses sufficiently he proceeded to the Union station and informed Patrolman Bailey of the robbery. The latter brought him to the police station, and the policemen in the vicinity were immediately notified.

Back on his beat an hour later, Patrolman Bailey saw a suspicious-looking man with a bundle under his arm. He stopped him, and examining the contents, found the shirts taken from the old man. The suspect was immediately placed under arrest, and given the name of J. W. Brown. He said he had just arrived from California, and accounted for his possession of the shirts and the handkerchief belonging to Obyle as having found them in the street. He was booked with a charge of highway robbery at the police station. Obyle is being held as a witness.

MAY BE OPENED TODAY.

Madison-Street Bridge Draw Complete Except the Asphalt Work.

The new draw on Madison-street bridge will be declared open for team traffic this afternoon—if the County Commissioners and City Engineer Chase decide that the daubing of hot asphaltum on the wood blocks has been done "according to Hoyle." The pavement was completed yesterday, and liquid asphalt brushed between the blocks, but the officials who went down to take a look at it thought there were too many chunks which had not yet been filled up, and the first shower of rain will proceed to fill these with water, which the Commissioners desire as much as possible to exclude. The wood blocks on the west end of the bridge have begun to swell here and there, in bunches like those on Fourth street, and several bumps are noticeable between the street-car tracks. The bridge officials attribute this swelling to hurried and imperfect treatment of the blocks, which were cut from green timber, just before they were put down, last Spring. The blocking of the draw, it is said, has been thoroughly seasoned and boiled in carbolineum, and no trouble from swelling or shrinkage is expected. The blocking on the east end of the bridge is under way, and the weather better, as more care was taken in preparing the timber before it was laid down.

ATROCIOUS VANDALISM.

Summer Houses Robbed, Contents Destroyed and Windows Broken.

The police department is investigating several cases of vandalism on the part of a crowd of young boys in Mountain View. The summer residences of D. M. Dunne, George Good and C. B. Williams were broken into recently, furniture and crockery destroyed, articles of value carried away, and the interior wrecked from top to bottom. Last Saturday they completed their work of destruction by smashing every window in C. B. Williams' residence, including the glass in the front door, and the entire pane of colored glass surrounding the center. Whips and harness were stolen and the boys did their work with thoroughness. Since Saturday evening the boys and their acts are more malicious than usual. The police are determined to punish the offenders. Half a dozen boys were brought in for examination yesterday but no arrests have yet been made.

COMFORT IN TRAVELING.

Comfort is the most necessary requisite in a trip across the Continent. Persons contemplating a trip to Chicago, St. Paul, Omaha, Kansas City or New York naturally take the line having the most modern and comfortable cars, smoothest roadbed and fastest time. The O. R. & N. Co.'s double daily train service fills all the requirements, being equipped with the latest types of Pullman palace and ordinary sleepers, electrically lighted engines, and makes hours better time to Chicago or Omaha than any other line. Call at the ticket office, 80 Third street, corner Oak, for folder showing through time, connections, etc.

Meier & Frank Co. Meier & Frank Co. Meier & Frank Co.

THANKSGIVING SALE OF SILVERWARE NOW IN PROGRESS (BASEMENT).

TOMORROW—THE 599TH

Friday Surprise Sale French Flannel Waists

Tomorrow for the 599th Friday Surprise Sale we offer 179 French Flannel waists in the best Fall styles, plain colors and striped effects, well made, brass buttons, all the leading shades. In plain or tucked front, sizes 32 to 42 inclusive. Remember, there's only 179 of them. Early comers will have the best variety to select from. (Second Floor.)

$2.48

Fancy Silks 89c

$1.10 to $1.50 quality, per yard

For Thursday and Friday—1100 yards of Fancy Taffeta Silks in embroidered stripes and figures, also Plisse effects. Best designs and colorings. The regular $1.10 to $1.50 quality reduced to 89c yard.

SILVERWARE

Rogers Bros. At Knives and Forks

Rogers Bros. "1847" At Dinner Knives and Forks. 6 knives and 6 forks, per set $3.25

Rogers Bros. At "1847" Teaspoons Assorted patterns 99c per set

Cut Glass Jelly Dish.....$1.73
Genuine Cut Glass Jelly Dish, with handle, for $1.73. (Basement.)

THANKSGIVING LINEN SALE

John S. Brown & Sons' well-known linens are being offered at exceptionally low prices during the Thanksgiving Linen Sale. Economical housewives should give their linen needs first attention.

$1.00 Damask $.86 a yard
$1.25 Damask $1.05 a yard
$1.50 Damask $1.26 a yard
3-4 Napkins to match $2.65, $3.30, $4.40 dozen.

Damask Sets Reduced
$11.50 sets Reduced to $ 9.40
$14.80 sets Reduced to $11.80
$18.00 sets Reduced to $14.70

Pattern Hats At Half Price

Our remaining stock of imported Pattern Hats to be closed out at half price. Handsome fall creations from many well-known foreign milliners.

$32.50 Hat Reduced to $16.25

$29.50 Hat Reduced to $14.75

$28.00 Hat.....at $14.00

28.50 Hat.....at 13.25

18.00 Hat.....at 9.00

16.00 Hat.....at 8.00

14.00 Hat.....at 7.00

12.00 Hat.....at 6.00 (Second Floor.)

Thanksgiving Sale of China-ware and Kitchen Utensils now in progress in the basement.

nights, November 19 and 20. The advance sale of seats opens Friday at 10 A. M.

MEIER & FRANK CO.

With the utmost attention to detail, this great success of a successful author is scheduled to be with us soon. The cast this season is composed of actors and actresses of known ability—absolute not a stick among 'em. This is a refreshing innovation when we consider that most farce-comedy companies traveling nowadays, as well as dramatic organizations and opera companies, carry some deadwood who make up in number what they lack in talent.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Thousands whom it has cured vouch for the value of Hoyle's Sarsaparilla as a cure for catarrh.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper. Of the play itself, it may be superfluous to speak, because it is so well known; and besides, like the reading of a book, one who is told much about it does not care to read it, no matter how interesting it may be, or how clever its author's reputation. Let it suffice that "A Day and a Night" abounds with the very funny situations made of a country deacon who visits New York for the purpose of getting some slingers for a village choir. There are novel specialties. All the songs and music are up to date. There are delicate surprises in store for the patrons of this play, which will be at the Metropolitan on Sunday, November 18, and for one week.

Hoyle's "A Day and a Night" company has for its members the pick of a well-known profession. The ladies are beautiful, graceful, talented. The men are dashing, brash and attractive. The tout ensemble results in a perfect performance. No detail is too small to be cared for. The result is the pen-wiper