OREGON LEGISLATURE.

A Good Account of a Heroic Girl---Trial of the Davis Will Case Began in Montana.

Still Industrously Hammering Away at Doing Nothing---Salem Wants Another Large Appropriation.

The pension appropriation that was taken when up. It appropriates for pensions for the year 1861 $133,173,085. At a meeting of the coinage committee today. The free coinage men were defeated in their attempt to obtain a hearing on the silver bill by a vote of 7, to 5.

During the remainder of the session. The house will meet at 11 A. M.

The president today nominated E. M. Rands post master at Oregon City.

The Post announces this morning that negotiations which have been in progress between the United States and Brazil resulted in signing the agreement (under recopricity clause, new tariff law) by Secretary Blaine and Senor Mendonica, Brazilian minister. The agreement has been approved by President Harrison and a proclamation announcing the fact will probably be made public without delay.

The free coinage republican senators have decided that they will not press the amendments offered yesterday to the pension appropriation bill by Senator Stewart in the shape of a free coinage provision.

The reason for this decision is the fear that sentimental considerations may cause the loss of votes in cases where senators and representatives have strong soldier constituency. It is probable an effort will be made to attach a free coinage rider to some other general appropriation bill where the same factors would not enter into the matter.

A HEROIC GIRL.

She Bravely Submits to Torture to Benefit a Friend.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—A remarkable case of friendship was exhibited at Bellevue hospital by a girl of 16, named Delia Eagan, who is willing to be scarred for life in the attempt to restore to health her friend, Minnie E. Wilcke. The latter was, about Christmas, caught in the belting of a laundry, of which her husband is proprietor. She had a head of long, luxuriant hair, and the belting glued her to the ceiling by her tresses. For a few seconds she hung there and then dropped to the floor. She had been scalped completely. Everything was done to adjust the torn flesh without avail. One ear had fallen off entirely, and the whole scalp had withered. By January 10 Mrs. Wilke was completely recovered otherwise, but her head was one big sore. Her husband offered to give flesh from his own body for grafting. Preparations were made for the operation last Wednesday, but by that time the husband was so broken down in health by constant watching at his wife's bedside that the doctor refused to take him as a subject. Then it was that Delia Eagan came to the rescue. The doctor placed her under the influence of ether, bared her limbs, and cut a strip of skin a foot long and nearly three inches wide from each of them. The two strips of skin that were taken from Delia were then adroitly adjusted to the fleshless head of Minnie. The surgeons glued one of them into the front of the skull and down on the side, and the other they neatly affixed to the cranium just above it. Once more Mrs. Wilcke was swathed in bandages, and the slow, tedious healing process was begun. Today Delia was told that more skin would be needed to cover her friend's skull, and she said she might as well spare some more. "I hope, though," she said, "the doctors will take the rest off my back somewhere. I can sleep on my face, and the sores won't hurt so much then."

A LONG FIGHT EXPECTED.

Argument in the Davis Will Case Soon to be Commenced.

HELENA, Feb. 3.—Argument on the writ of prohibition and writof mandamus in the Davis estate case will be heard in the supreme court in the morning. The alleged Davis will was called up for probate in the district court of Silver Bow county yesterday, when contesting heirs applied to the supreme court for the writs which were issued and made returnable tomorrow. H. A. Root, nephew of the deceased millionaire, who represents the heirs who are endeavoring to prove the Iowa will of 1866 a forgery, made affidavit to the effect that the will is a forged instrument, and was never executed by A. J. Davis; that the jury is illegally drawn; that jurors in attendance are biased. He makes the further strong assertion that the judge of the district court of Silver Bow county is prejudiced against the interests of the contestants. Another affidavit filed for consideration of the supreme court is that three hundred names were not drawn by a jury commission as provided by law. Colonel R. G. Ingersoll is in the city, being retained as counsel for contestants H. A. Root and others. Judge Trimble, of Iowa, Judge Woolworth, of Omaha, and Congressman Dixon, of this state, will defend the interests of John A. Davis, who is named as sole legatee in the will. The fight will be a long and bitter one, and it will be a long time before any of the heirs to this vast estate receive any portion of it.

MAUINE DISASTERS.

Inhuman Conduct of Chinese Near a Burning Steamer.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—By the steamer Gaelic, which arrived this evening from Hong Kong and Yokohama, it is learned that at the court of inquiry into the loss of the steamer Shanghai, reported in these dispatches last Thursday night, the chief engineer in his testimony stated that at the time of the fire a number of native craft were in sight, but rendered no assistance. Men in boats dragged some of the passengers off the paddle wheels to which they had floated, robbed them of all they had, and then dropped them into the water. There was a Chinese steam launch flying the imperial flag and gunboat under sail, but neither of them offered assistance to the drowning people or those still on the burning ship. The court found that Captain Martin, his officers and the crew made every possible effort to save the passengers, and that no blame was attributable to them.

Making Arrangements for the LaBlanche-Mitchell Fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3.—The California Athletic Club board of directors held a meeting last night, but no business of ultra-importance was transacted. Progress was reported in the matter of arrangements for the coming contest between George LaBlanche and Young Mitchell, and it was decided to issue circulars to members in connection with the new conditions of membership. As the matter stands now every person desirous of becoming a member is required to subscribe for a share of capital stock, valued at $50. In addition, the initiation fee is $25 and monthly dues $2 50 membership to be limited to 1000. It is stated that the club books show that $25,000 is owing for dues by members, while the club owes in the neighborhood of $4000.

Idaho Senate Passes the High License Bill.

BOISE CITY, Idaho, Feb. 3.—The senate passed the memorial praying for the allotment to Indians in severalty the lands at Fort Hall and Cœur d'Alene reservations. The high license bill has passed by a vote of 10 to 6, was slightly amended and the house will probably concur. The democrats opposed it strenuously, but only intensified the determination of the republicans to carry it.

California's Liberality.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 3.—When the bill providing for the appropriation of $300,000 for California's exhibits at the world's fair came up in the assembly today, an amendment was offered cutting the appropriation down to $100,000. This was promptly rejected, but the amendment restricting the expenses of California's commissioner's to $2000 each was adopted, and the bill passed the third reading.

Ingalls Indulges in a Personal Statement.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—In the senate today Ingalls made a personal statement as to his attitude on the cloture rule and election bill, which subjected him to severe comment. He was unalterably opposed to the adoption of this cloture for many reasons. The election bill appeared to him to be cumberous complicated, obscure, and difficult of application.

A Valuable Horse Dies.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Steamer Richmond Hill, which arrived here today from London brings several valuable horses. Among them was the celebrated St. Magnus Ossian, winner of the St. Ledger race of 1881. The horse died aboard from the result of tempestuous weather experienced on the trip.

How a Man Paralyzed His Arm.

C. Hagermann, a resident of Morrisville, has lost the use of his right hand in a singular manner. He went to bed as usual one night a week ago, and fell asleep with his right hand under his head. On awakening in the morning he could not raise his arm. It was paralyzed, and all efforts thus far to put the blood in circulation have failed. It is thought it will be months before he will be able to use his hand again.—Philadelphia Record.

An increase of 296 national banks in the United States is shown by the annual report of the comptroller of the currency during the twelve months which ended Sept. 30. This is the largest number in a single year since 1865. The aggregate capitalization of these new institutions is mostly in the growing regions of the northwest and southwest.

Hannibal Hamlin's extreme age has but slightly bent his tall form, and he still walks down the street with a swinging stride. He is usually attired in the old black swallow tail of ante-bellum style, and he has never discarded the stock and dicky of the old time statesman. His hat is the regulation silk article.

A prominent physician and old army surgeon in eastern Iowa, was called away from home for a few days; during his absence one of the children contracted a severe cold and his wife bought a bottle of Chamberlin's Cough Remedy for it. They were so much pleased that they afterwards used several bottles at various times. He said, from experience with it, he regarded it as the most reliable preparation in use for colds and that it came the nearest being a specific of any medicine he had ever seen. "Where's the proprietor?" asked a man as he entered a down town resaurant. "He's gone home to dinner, sir," replied a waiter.
