COUNTERFEIT DOLLARS. Street-car conductors report that a great many counter-feit dollars are in circulation. Hardly a day passes that some conductor is not victimized by the passing of the worth-less coins. They rarely get caught more than once, however, A Washington street-car conductor related the following ex-perience: "I received a dollar the other evening from a received as fellow. evening from a rough-looking fellow, dressed in working clothes, while going through the car. I noticed that after receiving the change he stepped to the front platform, and, after a few blocks, dropped off. I grew suspicious, dug out the dollar and saw it was counterfelt. I belled the car and chased after him a belled' the car and chased after him a couple of blocks, caught him and compelled him to give up the money I had given him in change. If I had not been in a burry I should have turned him over to a policeman. The other day, too, while going through the car collecting fares, I noticed a nice-looking young woman fumbiling in her purse, and saw she had a lot of small change. I wondered then why she did not hand out her fare, but when I came back to collect, she gave me a dollar. My suspictors having been aroused, I examined it carefully, and saw it was a fair specimen of bogus money. it was a fair specimen of bogus money. I returned it, to her discomfiture, with the statement that we did not take bad money. You should have seen her blush and hand me over a good dime."

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT. - The concert given last night at the First Methodist Church by the church choir, under W. H. Boyer, assisted by an orchestra, drew a large audience, and proved to be one of the musical successes of the season.

About 50 voices took part, and the chorus work was distinguished by intelligent, finely shaded singing. The best number in the first part was Handel's "For Unto Us," the contraits section carrying off the palm by it mellow, sympathetic tone, Miss May Dearborne, the possessor of a clear, May Dearborne, the possessor of a clear, velvety, prime-soprano voice, was the principal soloist, and was heartily encored. The second part of the concert was taken up with a rendition of Max Bruch's cantara, "Pair Ellen," a tuneful, melodious setting of a theme describing the relier of Lucknow by the British troops during the Indian mutiny. The choir sang this number, and their work was entirely eatisfactors. Mrs. Will Bushong tirely satisfactory. Mrs. Will Bushong, contraite, and Paul Wessinger, barifone, were well received, and the orchestral work was creditable. The good vocal work of the choir suggests material for what musical Portland needs—a large vocal society, for oratorio.

LABOR MORE PLENTIPUL - Laboring mer Labor More Flentiful in Portland at present than at any time within the past three years, according to sawmill men and employment agents. The millmen report quite a number of daily applications for work, while the employment agencies find no difficulty in filling orders for male help. "After a few weeks, however," an agent said, yestorday, "the logging camps will be running in full blast again, and this industry alone will take up all the idde men new in Portland. Besides this, I look for considerable railroad building I look for considerable railroad building in the Northwest this Summer and Fall, and if half the work goes on that is now laid out, men will be scarce as they were a year ago last Summer, Wages have not fallen this Winter, and the ruling price next season will be about $1.50 a day and board."

GAMBLING MEN TO PROTEST .- The gam blers who have lost their positions are displeased with certain gambling-house proprietors because the latter did not see the Police Commissioners when the min isters met them last week, and present their side of the story. A Third-street cigar-dealer suid yesterday: "Several business men to whom I have spoken complained that they have little or no trade in clears and tobaccos since the police order against gambling devices went into effect. You can say that in the course of a few days certain business men who be-

EXTRA CARS NEXT WEEK,—Arrange-ments have been concluded with the Port-land & East Side Rallroad Company, also the Portland & Vancouver Railroad, for extra service during next week, so as to enable those who reside in Oregon City and Vancouver to attend the evening performances at the Marquam without any annoyance. Both lines have promised to run special cars on Wednesdays and Saturdays. This service will probably be augmented by another evening, announcements of which will be given later. So many inquiries have been made concern-ing the transportation facilities that many of the out-of-town people are expected to OVERED THE HAT .- "Spot, otherwise called "Hobo," is the dog that superintends matters at the police station. On a recent occasion, when the patrol wagon was sent out with policemen to ar-rest a man who had imbibed too freely. "Spot" went with them. On the return trip the wind carried away the drunken man's hat, but the horses never stopped. The dag jumped out, and two minutes after the wagon arrived at the police sta-tion, "Spot" trotted in with the missing hat in his mouth. His eyes seemed to say: "See what I've brought you," and he barked joyously. he barked joyously.

PUT THUR TRUST IN REVOLVERS.-J. W. Murray, John Dunning, Frank Mace and George Murphy were each held yesterday in $1000 ball on the charge of robbing E. Janotleki's store, 206 Front street, last Monday. Detectives Snow and Kerrigan, who made the arrest, discovered last night who made the arrest, discovered last night that the prisoners, who had owned two 44-callber revolvers, had tried to buy a third revolver of the same pattern in a Third-street store, last Monday, but the proprietor would not "trust" them.

COMMERCIAL CLUB WON.—The pool tour-

Commercial Club Won.—The pool tour-nament between the teams of the Mult-nomah and Commercial Clubs was con-cluded last evening, and won by the Commercial Club. The series had stood three to three in the number of games won by each club, and last night's play-was necessary to decide the result. Nor-man Elisworth, of the Commercial Club, defeated all three of the Multnomah play-ers, Wels, McMillan and Prince, winning the tournament.

STOLE PRUIT.-Bill Henley, 58 years old. was lodged in the city prison last even-ing, on a charge of larceny. He had been helping himself to fruit from va-rious stands in the vicinity of South First street, and the vendors got thred of it.
Bill is a chronic drunk, and an old offender in small ways. He has promised to leave town several times, and was let off lightly on that account, but the police think he is now good for a term in the County Jail.

VICTORIA MEMORIAL SERVICE.-Members of British societies are reminded that they may obtain lickets for the Queen's memorial service, at the Armory, Sunday afternoon, from the following: British Benevolent, John Latta, Concord building: St. Andrews, K. FANTAN MEN ARRESTED .- The first raid of the season against gamblers took place last night, on Second street, near Oak, when Captain Houre and Policeman Buiger arrested five Chinamen charged with playing fantan. Chips and cards were se-cured. The Chinamen were afterward re-leased on the payment of $100 ball each. DENTAL work free, at college, corner Fifteenth and Couch streets, except a small fee to cover cost of material, for those in moderate circumstances.

IMPROPER USE OF MAILS.—Deputy United States Marshal Roberts returned yesterday from arresting E. Broszio, at Wilbur, on a charge of improperly using the United States mails. Broszio had sent half a dozen postal cards to a debtor, in which he applied various epithets, such as "thief," "scoundrei," and "swindler" to his demands for the money due him. These he sent out in numbers, usually taking the simple form: "You thief, when will you send my money?" Broszio was arrested on a United States warrant, and gave bonds of 1500 to appear before the court at the proper time.

INCORPORATIONS.—Supplemental articles

INCORPORATIONS.—Supplemental articles of incorporation of T. M. Stevens & Co. were filed yesterday in the office of the County Clerk, showing that the capital stock has been increased from $0000 to $30,000. Articles of incorporation of the Good Hope Mining Company were filed. The incorporators age: H. H. Shorey, J. L. Mitchell and W. W. Terry; capital stock, $100,000.

WANTS HER NAME CHANGED.—Ellizabeth
E. Slatten yesterday petitioned the County Court for leave to change her name to Elizabeth E. Mayo. The petitioner states that she was married to Warren Slatten

CANDIDATE FOR SCHOOL DIRECTOR.

This is one of the rare cases where "the office has sought the 'man," It is believed by those who best know Mrs. Sitton that her former connection with the public schools as teacher, her long residence in Portland, her public spirit, her known and tested executive capacity and her seal and energy in work for the public good, give her peculiar fitness for the resition. play until a si had been made. "When the first and second part of the programme had been finished, the hox office agent, Mr. Pangle, came to the stage and asked if I held the concert on account of the uncompleted statement. I account of the uncompleted statement. I told him such was my intention. Pulling his watch, in a commanding tone, he said to me: I give you two minutes for deciding to play, otherwise I will dismiss this audience instantly. As it seemed unfair to have the audience dismissed without knowing the true cause of this abrupt box-office decision. I thought I was justified in making a brief statement of the trouble to the house. I had no intention of giving any offense to the audience. If any was given, I will beg pardon on the ground that it was the first time in my life I appeared before a cultured audience as a speaker."

my boy, Milne, as I call him, sang in the surpliced choir, which is composed of boys and men. Last Sunday night, the choir and clergy moved out of the chancel, singing a recessional hymn, and in the passage-way leading from the church to the choir vestry, where the disrobing takes place, my little boy accidentally dropped the hymn book he was carrying. It made a slight noise, and Janitor End immediately struck my boy on the hend with such force that he almost fell. When the last verse of the hymn was expected. plis of Portland public schools, as the teachers have not yet made known their decisions as to promotion. Almost every boy and girl likes to be sent up a grade higher, at the close of the term, but a certain percentage are liable to fall, no matter how hard they think they have worked. Their fates will be made known to them all within a few days.

WHY CONCERT WAS STOPPED

this collect was said by one of the clergymen present: 'Almighty and everlasting God, mercifully in the pool our infirmittes, and in all our usangers and necessities stretch forth thy right nand to help and defend us, through Jesus Christ, our Lord.' That prayer was actually said immediately after my boy was struck. His 'infirmittes' were not looked on 'mercifully.' When he told me that be had been assaulted, I asked him if he had been fooling or monkeying, and he said been assaulted, I asked him it he had been foolling or monkeying, and he said that his only offenso was that he had dropped the hymn book, accidentally. He stated that Rector Morrison told him this In regard to the dismissal of the audience at the Schramm concert at the Marquam Grand Thenier Tuesday night. C. F. W. Schramm, the father of the two children, made the following statement last evening:

"The grievance against me, as stated by Mr. Laugenour, former manager of Paloma, is entirely incorrect. When a manager of any enterprise neglects to do his duty, it devolves on the party of the first part to take control of the misguided affairs. It was not a question of handsome profits for the children at the concert, but one of honesty, and the fulfilling of my agreement. A 15 house will be just as well played to by the children as a $500 house. It is always the rule, and the contract written by Mr. Laugenour shows that a statement has:

"The Desholm below the vestry: 'If you do that again, sir, you must not come back.' On Monday I went to End and asked him who have the said he had struck my boy. He said he had struck my boy, and that his action had the sanction of the rector. I maked him what right he had to strike my boy, and I suggested that End trace it out of me,' but he did not take the hint. I asked: 'Will you apologize, or be arrested?' He said he would not apologize. The fanitor also claimed that Rector Morrison had given him authority to correct the choir hoys. I complained to the organist, and he wall not allow the junifor to medile with any of the choir boys."

In the Municipal Court yesterday, when the case was called, Rev. Dr. Morrison addressed the court in part:

"The Desholm be you do that again, str, you must not come back.' On Monday I went to End and asked him who had struck my boy, and that his action had struck my boy, and the him struck my boy, and the hind struck my boy, and the had struck my boy, and the had struck my boy, and the him struck my boy, and the him struck my boy, and the had struck my boy, and the had struck my boy, and the him action had the said he had struck my boy, and the him struck my boy, and the had struck my boy, and the him struck my boy, and the him death him

William A. Brady's Superb Production.

"Way Down East," which comes to the Marquam Grand all next week, is another "Old Homestead" and, like that famous play, is blended with a series of New England types with rustic surroundings, quaint characters and a heart interest that cannot fail to be appreciated. With a story as clear as day, with characters as picturesque as the stage can show them, Mrs. Parker has put forward in her play that which is refreshing to the theater. that which is refreshing to the theater-goers and idealized by those who look to New England for their typical characters, "Way Down East" is a true story of the country gentlemen, and its serious incidents are intermingled with the comedy side of life, which makes it entirely whole-some. Manager William A. Brady has surrounded "Way Down East" with one of the strongest companies of players traveling. The scenic effects will be en-tirely new and very beautiful and very elaborate. The farm pictures and the snow scene lend themselves well to stage realism. The sale of reats opens this morning at 9 o'clock.

"The Star Boarder" at Cordray's. "The Star Boarder," one of the best and brightest of modern farce-comedies, will be the attraction at Cordray's Theater next week, beginning Sunday. The fun supplied by this amusing skit is infectious and is scattered so plentifully through the three acts that there is never a dull moment during the evening. The choruses are strong and effective, the music catchy are strong and effective, the music catchy, the jokes new and the dancing excellent. The company is headed by Charles H. Boyle, a comedian of wide reputation, who in the name part sets a lively pace for the actors to follow. There is a real plot to the play, and the fun does not depend wholly upon specialties. It will come to Portland after a most successful Eastern tour and promises to be one of the featour, and promises to be one of the features of the theatrical season.

"Kidnaped," Next Week, Commencing Sunday next, the patrons of the Metropolitan will have an opportunity of witnessing a real novelty in melodrama. The play will be "Kidnaped," by that versatile author, D. K. Higgins, author of "The Vendetta," A more clubo-rate production of its kind has never been rate production of its kind has never been offered to a Portiand audience. It has an atmosphere of its own, and holds its audience intensely interested until the final drop of the curtain. The scenes of the play are isld in and around New York City, and the characters are all well drawn and consistent. The play is rather sensational in construction, but, like all successful drawns, the compute depend to uccessful dramas, the comedy element is argely in evidence, there being some of he most original comedy situations con-civable. Special scenery is carried for the entire production, and extreme cars is taken with details, which means so much to a successful presentation. Seat sale opens Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.
