LONDON SPECTACLE

Programme of the Queen's Funeral Procession.

THROUGH THE CITY SATURDAY

The Body Will Arrive at 11 in the Morning, and Will Be Taken Abourd the Train for Windsor Two Hours Later.

LONDON, Jan. 31.-The Barl Marshal (the Duke of Norfolk) gave out the fol-lowing programme this evening, subject to a change of weather, which may nesitute some of the royalty using carriages:

Saturday, February I a guard of honor will be mounted at the London stations, Victoria and Paddington, and at Buck-ingham Palace. At 9 o'clock, precisely, the royal coffin will be started from Pertamouth for London, arriving at Victoria at 11 o'clock. On its arrival in London, the royal coffin will be removed from the carriage by an officer and 12 from the carriage by an officer and 12 men of the Grenndler Guards, placed on gun carriage, and the crown and tushion will be laid thereon. The pro-ression will then move in the following

The Earl Marshal regrets extremely ast, owing to the enormous number of pplications and the pressure of time, has been found impossible to reply to many communications.

Yesterday the rallroad company began the erection at Victoria Station, Lundon, of the pavilion in which King Edward will receive the various foreign representatives in the interval of waiting for the removal of the coffin from the train the carriage, the Crown Prince of Roumania and Crown Prince of Denmark arrived in London late this evening.

Up to 4 o'clock this o'fernoon the occupants of the houses along the route of the procession had done little in the way of displaying draperies or other signs of mourning. In Buckingham Palace road, where a crowd of idlers was in front of the entrance of the royal stable taking keen interest in the constant going and coming of royal carriages, some shops were instefully draped with purple and black purple and white or purple and sil-cer. Almost every store advertised seats to let. Wherever a few feet of space are syalicible, stands are in course of erection. Preparations are everywhere being made to cover the stands with purple cloth and this will go a long way towards dving the effect of general mourning. fames Palace, which, when filled, will hide the palace from the Mall. Even on the outbuildings of the palace, on the bal-sony whence King Edward's accession was proclaimed and in the gardens of was proclaimed and in the gardens of Mariborough House, similar provisions for pectators are being made. Carpenters and joiners are everywhere building stands and shoring up balconies. The same condition of things prevails in Pic-cadilly. Seating accommodations are being prepared in every possible nook, from Devonshire House to the balcony of Aps-ley House. Lamp posts in the middle of the rondways are being removed. In Hyde Park, of course, neither decoration people eagerly pay £3 or £4 for seats on them, while windows in the houses in the rear of the stands, with trees between them and the roadways, are considered cheap at £30.

The royal arrivals in the metropolis today included the Crown Prince of Nor-way and Sweden and the Duke and Duch-ess of Aceta, the King of Wurtemburg and Prince Mahommed All. Their respective Embassies or Legations and repre-sentatives of King Edward met the vissentatives of King Edward met the vis-tions and conducted them to piaces of residence. The French, Turkish and Bul-garian missions have also arrived. The United States Embassy will send to Windsor Castle three magnificent floral wreaths from President McKinley and Mrs. Garfield, and a cross from Ambas-sador Choate. The President's wreath is eight feet in diameter.

Members of King Bdward's suite tell their friends that His Majesty appears overwhemed by the sense of the responsibilities of Kingship. Whereas, formetly, he was genial, but exacting and irritable regarding official matters, he has become profoundly grave and exceedingly considerate to those about him in small as onsiderate to those about him in small as well as in important matters. He has worked many hours daily since the Queen's death, disposing of two or three weeks' arrears of public business which she had not been able to attend to.

Society expects that King Edward will make St. James the most brilliant court in Europe, hold night drawing-rooms, instead of the somewhat dreary afternoon functions of the past quarter of a cen-tury, and provide refreshments instead of leaving the guests to eat sandwiches in their carriages, under the eyes of the crowd. Those who have been presented to Queen Victoria will be entitled to attend King Edward's drawing-rooms after sub-mitting their names to the Lord Cham-berlain. It is hoped the King will revive the custom of the monarch visiting the castles of the nobility, and also revive the holding of drawing-rooms at Holy Rood Palace. Whether he will adopt the prerogative of kissing the cheeks of the ladies presented, followed by the Viceroys of India and Ireland, is one of the topics under arms. Three thousand men will march in the procession, and the re-mainder will line the route. The detach-ments of troops in the procession will represent every branch of the army, navy, yeomanry and volunteers. The military display, however, will not not be spec-tacular. All the men will wear overcouts, except the Irish Footguards on duty at ckingham Palace. Twenty thous soldiers are pouring into London from the country. School buildings will, be util-ized as barracks. An army of workmen today is preparing Victoria Station for the arrival of the funeral cortege. The placards have been torn down, the wood and iron works have been repainted, and the stores in the vicinity display the royal monogram on a black and purple back monogram on a black and purple back-ground. All the possible details of the ceremonies are being rehearsed. It has been arranged that any of the Kings not on horseback in the proces-sion shall drive in company with the Princesses, while the Princes not desir-ing to ride shall not participate in the procession, but will drive by a shorter route to Paddington and a wait its arrival procession, but will drive by a shorter route to Paddington and await its arrival there. In all the ceremonies connected with the funeral, the Crown Princs of Germany, Frederick William, will take many, Frederick William, will take cedence next to and after the crowned heads. In view of the Duke of Corn wall and York being unable to attend, his oldest son is expected to take the place the procession originally allotted to the heir apparent.

The programme of the Earl Marshal, the Duke of Norfolk, does not deal with purple.

It is now generally accepted that the wording of the proclamation in Pretoria describing Edward VII as "Supreme Lord of and over the Transvana" was deliberately designed to promote conciliation. Special significance is attached to the fact that the Times prints a letter from the diplomat declares it is difficult to exaggerate the importance of this wise and beneficient step. The title, he says, is likelier than any other that could be devised to lead to pacification. It establishes the supremacy of the British sov-Duke of Norfolk, does not deal with Windsor ceremony, in connection which much still remains to be of the Transvaal, keeps it separate from the Duke of Nurseamony, in connection with which much still remains to be of the Transvaal, keeps it separate from the Duke of Norfolk and his staff have been extremely busy and do not expect much respite before mindight. who will carry the coffin in the proceshall bear it to the mausoleum at Frog-more Monday.

The managers of the London afternoon apers have decided unanimously to sus-end publication Saturday, so that those who are not able to witness the funeral scenes will have to wait until Sunday for the descriptions. Such a suspension, except on Good Friday, is almost without precedent. It will serve to emphasize the solemnity of a great occasion.

The Daily Mail recalls that on the occasion of the funeral of Queen Elizabeth no foreigner followed the bier, with the exception of the French Ambassador, and adds that "now all Europe will acnpany the bler of the mother of sov-

In the Windsor ceremony, few beyond the immediate members of the family will see much after the procession has entered St. George's Chapel, which will be divided by a carved screen, back of which the services will be conducted in-visible to most of the nonroyal invited guests on the other side.

It appears that after her death, Queen Victoria was arrayed in her royal robes, with all her foreign orders and decora-tions. Over these and across her breas; was laid the ribbon and order of the garter. Her bridal veil was then placed over her head and face.

WANT NO NEW COUNTY.

Two-Thirds of Yakima Voters Sign

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Jan. II.-The local committees in charge of the matter of prevention of division of Yakima Counin the proposed county of Riverside, which were to be taken from Yakima County. The voting population of the entire territory, November 6, was approximately 450. The actual voting population now, includ-ing residents who will be voters within five or six months, is probably 600. gain has been mainly in Sunnyside precinct. The signers on the remonstrances, which will be forwarded to Senator Baker tomorrow, number over 400.

It will thus be seen that the reports sent out that there is practically no opposition to division in the proposed new county itself are wholly incorrect.

It is believed here that the project to divide the county is dead. The statement is made that Representative Rich, of this county, will not exert himself for it, and that it is doubtful if a bill for division is introduced in the Legislature.

Patrick Henry Scullin and John McLean, of Seattle, were in town this week, making collections, to be used, they said, in lobbying a bill through the Legislature providing for a State Board of Arbitra-tion. At their instance a public meeting was held last night, and resolutions famerchants and others interested. who contributed were somewhat disquieted this morning by a letter from Spokane, sent to the Postmaster, in which serious charges against the good faith and in-tentions of Mr. Scullin respecting the Candidates for Postmaster. G. J. Hill, chairman of the Republican County Central Committee; George S. Hough, secretary: Lieutenant W. L. Lemon, an ex-Philippine soldier; F. C. Hall, ex-County Auditor; A. S. Paul. Colonel L. S. Howlett and Colonel W. F. Prosser, are the candidates in the field thus far for the vacancy left by the death of Postmaster Sperry, of this city. The office pays $2000 a year. The appointment is to be made, it is said, by Congressman W. L. Jones, whose residence is here. It is expected that he will name the new Postmaster within the next 30

Land Office to Be Moved The United States land office, which has en domiciled in the First National Bank building for the last three years, will be removed to the quarters which it for-merly occupied in the Howlett block. In-spector Burke, who has been here for 10 days, has recommended the change, and it will be made March 1.

Commercial Club Officers. Officers of the Commercial Club for the ensuing year were elected at the club's annual meeting last night, as follows: President, George Donald: first vice-presint, I. H. Dilis; second vice-pre A. Graham; treasurer, Frank tholet; new members of the governing board, O. A. Fechter, Phil Ditter, Edward Whitson, J. D. Medill, A. E. Larson; trus-tees, J. D. Cornett, R. K. special meeting of the Commercial Club yesterday to consider the manufacturing propositions submitted some time ago, the Columbia Fruit Canning Company of-fered, if the city would furnish a suitable site, to erect a building and operate a fruit cannery, with a capacity of 25,000 cases the first season, the capacity to be increased annually to meet the demand. The cost of building and operating exan outlay of about $30,000. The site selected is a portion of the city levee, at the foot of West C street. The propo-sition will be submitted to the City Council at once, and it is highly probable that the use of the ground asked for will be given for a term of years. E. L. Canby, cashier of the First National Bank, reported that encouraging progress was being made in the matter of complying with the proposition for the establishment of a condensed milk factory. The man back of the project is R. Beutikoffer, of Portland, who repreits a company of Swiss cheese and to establish and operate a condensed milk factory, with a capacity, at the start, of 3000 pounds of milk daily, provided the 2000 pounds of milk daily, provided the citizens will furnish a suitable building free of cost to the company for the first five years. Mr. Beutikoffer stated that five years. Mr. Beutikoffer stated that the machinery for the plant is already here, and that the work of putting it in place will begin immediately, upon a suit-able site being obtained. Negotiations are being made for the Fore pork packing establishment, which has been idle for several years, and the prospects are that it will be secured. Another proposition which is being considered by the club is the building of a wagon road from this place to the Copper Creek and Canyon Creek mines, in Skamania County, Messrs. Ward and Colfelt, representing the Copper Creek Mining Company, addressed the club on the subject, stating that it is the intention of that co and that before any ores can be shipped out considerable road-building will have The citizens of Washougal have offered to assist in building a road to the Columbia at that place, but it is desired by the Copper Creek Company, as well as by others engaged in developing mines in that vicinity, to get an outlet at Vancouver, and they ask the citizens here to assist in the construction of the road. The matter was referred to a committee, of which W. W. McCredle is chairman

Spring Meeting at Aqueduct. NEW YORK, Jan. M.—The Queen's county Jockey Club has announced a list of eight stakes for the Spring meeting at the Aqueduct track, all to close Monday, February 18. The chief feature opened is a renewal of the Carter handl-cap, about seven furiongs, for 3-year-olds and upward, with $1200 added, the weights to be announced on March 14. The other stakes are the Flushing handicap and Rockaway stakes for 3-year-olds and upin seats is going on in the street, which gives the appearance of a busy market. Hazing of a Turk May Lead to Serious Trouble.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. S .- It is possi ble that the loss of a mustache, which until yesterday adorned the lip of John Loutifian, a student at the Medico Chirurgical College, may lead to the demand for an investigation of college hazing by the Turkish Minister. Loutifian is a Turk, 600 and it is said he was sent here by order of the Sultan. He is a great, big fellow and in addition to fondling the sligh growth of hair on his upper lip overmuch he treated his classmates rather disdainride, and about a dozen of them attacked him in the reading-room. After a scuffle, in which chairs, lamps and tables were overturned, they overpowered him, laid him on his back, with arms and legs pin-loned, and while two men held his head, another skillfully removed his mustache with a scaluel.

Loutifian said he did not mind the loss of his mustache because he valued it, but that his religion requires that it should not be removed. Because of the loss he sald he would not be able to go to see his friends, and would even have to stay away from the home of his sister, who

The proceeds and as I am informed that this impression is due to the agency of the newspapers. This gives a total average of $2192 as the father of the children I wish to correct it. On Sunday afternoon, January 13, be-tween 2 and 3 o'clock, my eldest daugh-ter, Frida, accompanied by her sister, Nettie, left home to make a visit to Mrs. Dorsey's, in order to reach whose house they had to cross Slide Creek on the ingging railway, there being no other way to cross the creek. Formerly there was a footbridge across this creek, but upon the construction of the railroad this bridge was removed and never has been replaced The length of track they had to walk was about 150 feet, and owing to a curve just above the creek they could not see the hand-car coming, and the creek being a flood the noise of the water drowned the sound of its approach. We did not know the men were working at the camp, as my boy was up there in the morning. and arriving at home reported no one at work. It appears that the men went to work in a cut in the afternoon and the handcar, heavily leaded with earth, without brakes to control its motion, came down the steep grade with the velocity of a shot from a gan, unfortunately catching the children on the piece of track that crosses the creek. My eldest girl is 16 years old, and the younger one that died from the effects of her injuries was 9 years of age, JOHN HEILMANN.

BOER PEACE ENVOYS SHOT

TWO MEN EXECUTED BY ORDER OF GENERAL DEWET.

Kitchener Reports the Dutch Leader Still in the Orange River Colony -Sweeping Eastern Transvanl.

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 31.—The Boer attack on the Boksburg mines resulted in damage amounting to £300,000.

The Commissioner at Kroonstadt re-ports that Andries Wessels, one of the Peace Envoys, was shot at Klipfontein, January 28, by order of General Dowet. Lord Kitchener reported from Pretoria, January 12, that three agents of the Boer Peace Commission were taken as prison-ers to General Dewet's laager, near Lindley, January 10, and that one, who was a subject, was flogged and then shot. The other two, burghers, were flogged by General Dewet's orders. The identity of Andries Wessels, reported to have been shot by General Dewet, at Klipfontein, January 28, cannot be definitely es-tablished. Lord Roberts, July 4 last, reported that General Methuen had cap-tured the commander of Dewet's sconts. two other prisoners and, according to the cable, Andries Wessels, the head of the Afrikander Bund, Morgan Dasi, who was another of the two Boer peace en-voys and who accompanied Andries Wessels, was shot near Lindley, January 10.

OTHER POREIGN NEWS. Debate on Associations Bill.

PARIS, Jan. 31.—In the Chamber of Dep-ities today the debate on the law of as-sociations was resumed. Entering on the russion of the first article of the meanure, the Ministerial majority remains solid, every counter-proposition or amend-ment opposed by the Premier, M. Wal-deck-Rousseau, being rejected by majorties of about 70, on which it appears fairly certain that the government will be able to carry the bill to final adoption. Two amendments this afternoon, tending mplete liberty of association thrown out, M. Waldeck-Rousseau declining to accept them.

After rejecting various amendments, the Chamber adopted, 552 to 35, the final article defining the nature of an association.

VAN WYCK AND THE QUEEN Explains Why He Did Not Half-Mast the Flag.

New York Commercial Advertiser. Mayor Van Wyck, for the third time during his administration, today broke his rule not to talk to newspaper men for ublication, the subject being his refusal o lower the flag over the City Hall in espect for Queen Victoria's memory. The reporters sent to him a request for an explanation, and he came out of his pri-vate office and addressed them as follows:

The flag was not ordered at had-mast over the City Hall yesterday in following out a precedent established by this and the former administration. The flag was not half-mast for President Carnot, of the Prench Republic, the Empress of Austria, or when the Caar of Russia died, nor when King Humbert was murdered, as I under-stand it. It is corroborated in a state-ment in the papers this morning that the President had not ordered the flag at halfmast at the White House when either one of these monarchs died. I followed the precedent established here.

"The papers say that the flag on the Waite House was half raised for the Queen," said a reporter.

"Then they have established a new precedent," answered the Mayor, and he continued: "You must bear in mind that people come here all the time about such matters. When General Joubert, commander of the Boer Army, died. most every personal friennd I had in New York came here and wanted me to fly the flag at half-mast, and if I had followed the dictates of my heart I would have done it, because I thought England was murdering these people, and had robbed them of their land, and my personal feel-

OREGON SHOULD ACT.

The Geological Survey Opportunity Ought Not Longer Be Neglected.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.-For a number of years past the Geological Survey has been making examinations in various Western States of adaptable sites for res streams, with a view to converting it into irrigating canals, and thus developing the various arid sections of the states involved. These surveys are each year provided for by Congress, and are made in sections from which demands come, not only from the Congressional delega tions, but from the people direct. It is a remarkable fact that up to the present time. Oregon is the only Western state which has no applications on file for such examinations. Washington has a few, but not enough to make any impression, with the number presented from states like California, Colorado and Utah. Up to the present time, extensive surveys on these lines have been made in Wyoming, Coloredo, Utah and California, and reser-voirs have been constructed and thousands of acres of land thrown open to settle-ment which were previously practically worthless. The people of Eastern Oregon are losing an opportunity, and should hesitate no longer to interest themselves and send in requests for just such sur-veys as have been made in other states where there has been considerable pres-sure. There may not be any immediate results from these requests, but if in the future Congress should take some action looking to the construction of huge reser-voirs, preference would naturally be given to states where surveys have been made and where available sites have been lo-cated, Moreover, should private interests desire to go in and construct these reser-yoirs, they would need nothing more than the Government surveys in order to locate the most advantageous site in any particular locality. It costs the state and the people nothing to have the surveys
