DOCTORS AND EDITORS.

A New Brunswick physician having remarked that newspapers are run for revenue only, the Charleston Sentinel gets back at him in this fashion:

"The doctor from Algona says that nepspapers are run for revenue only. What in thunder do doctors run for, anyway? Do they run for glory? One good healthy doctor's bill would run this office for six months.

"If we got some glory out of it we would agree to take one of his pills, after first saying our prayers. If the editor makes a mistake he has to apologize for it, but if the doctor makes a mistake he buries it.

"If we make one there is a lawsuit, tall swearing and a smell of sulphur, but if the doctor makes one there is a funeral, cut flowers and a smell of varnish. The doctor can use a word a foot long, but if the editor uses it he has to spell it.

"If the doctor goes to see another man's wife he will charge the man for the visit. If the editor calls on another man's wife he gets a charge of buckshot. Any medical college can make a doctor. You can't make an editor. He has to be born one.

"The editor works to keep from starving, while the doctor works to ward off the gout. The editor helps men to live better, and the doctor assists them to die easy.

"The doctor pulls a sick man's leg. The editor is glad if he can collect his bills at all. Revenue only? We are living for fun and to spite the doctors."

VALUE OF HOSPITALS.

The hospital, says an esteemed exchange, has taken its place among the institutions of the land, and will beyond doubt hold that place permanently. Whereas, not many years ago it was regarded as almost a disgrace to be taken to a hospital, nowadays people look upon it in a different light. They are learning slowly but surely that in cases of sickness it is wise to take advantage of the facilities offered by such institutions, rather than do without them and get along with inadequate means at hand at home.

Every argument favors the patient being taken to the hospital that the most approved scientific appliances and methods of treatment may be utilized for the handling of patients afflicted by any malady. There one finds perfect sanitary conditions, scientific knowledge intelligently applied, with skillful attention by trained nurses whose rigid course of training enables them to supplant the physician's treatment and properly to carry out their instructions.

Before another decade has passed, if present tendencies are a criterion from which to judge, no case of sickness will be treated at home, but the vastly better facilities of the hospital will be called into requisition in every instance.

An Eastern Oregon editor felt chillily tremulous when he saw that he had used the phrase, "the suspicious circumstances surrounding the wedding," when he wrote "auspicious"; but when the Blue mountain groom came around, not with a gun, but with a goldpiece, and subscribed for the paper, and told the editor to keep the change, and thanked him for being so considerate, he felt quite proud and courageous.

The man who enjoyed pointing to the revenue stamp on his check as an evidence of oppression, will now miss a familiar topic, suggests the Washington Star.

Dated this 16th day of July, 1901.

A. E. LAKE, County Clerk.

NOTICE TO THE PEOPLE.

Which Will be For Their Own Benefit if Heeded.

Before buying any tombstones or any cemetery work come and see Mr. Comini. Don't let any one bluff you with their stick talk. They know nothing about the business and run down the poor mechanic. They try to make you believe that their work is durable. Before you give your order let Mr. Comini take you out to the cemetery and show you what kind of work he puts up and give you his prices for similar work. Don't be in a hurry to give your order, but first give Mr. Comini a chance to figure on your work. You will find by asking any one who has had business dealings with Mr. Comini that all of his work is of first-class quality, just as he represents it to be, and that his prices for such work are very low.

It is not necessary to send for stone from other places, there is stone here in The Dalles that will stand until the judgment day. Sandstone crumbles.

NOLAN'S Profit-Sharing Association

still goes on. Weekly presents continue as last month, but before announcing presents to be given away August 3rd I desire to correct an error. The impression prevails that because I do not keep a poor brute standing at my door 16 hours a day to do 2 or 3 hours work that I do not deliver goods. The fact is I deliver goods in my line to more people every day than all other dealers in the same line combined, and any person who feels inclined to secure some of the bargains I offer can rest assured that the order will be attended to carefully and promptly delivered by some one of the numerous expressmen who pay a license for delivering goods in the city and deserve to be patronized.
