Kitsap County Searching For Brutal Slayer

SEATTLE, Kitsap county authorities tonight were searching for clues to the slayer of John Diber, 60, a slab sawyer who was found dead in his room at Port Gamble, Wash., yesterday, with his skull crushed. Cash or currency to the amount of $2400 known to have been in Diber's possession had not been recovered up to tonight, according to reports from Port Gamble.

Four men are held in the Kitsap county jail pending the report of a coroner's jury.

Revolution Against Carranza Spreading

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Mexican advices here today continued to note a rapid spread of the revolution movement among the Carranza government, particularly in the close vicinity of Mexico City itself. Government officials here, however, said they saw nothing in these incidents more critical in the situation faced by the federal authorities.

The best available information it was added, indicated that the rival forces under arms were nearly equal in number.

General Alvarado, representative of the Sonora government here, but who has returned to the border temporarily, has sent to Postmaster General Burleson a suggestion for a reciprocal arrangement regarding the movement of mails to and from rebel territory.

Under recent rulings of the postmaster general all mail directed to Mexicans in Sonora and Sinaloa must be passed through El Paso or some other government controlled port of entry.

Government Asks Reopening of Late Steel Trust Suit

WASHINGTON, April 28. — The supreme court was asked today by the government to reopen the anti-trust suit against the United States Steel corporation, dismissed on March 1 by a four to three decision.

The government's argument was based largely on the court decision last Monday ordering the dissolution of the Reading company and its subsidaries.

The government declared that the steel case would seem to fall within the Reading case and that "the holding of the steel corporation Eto be a legal corporation under the anti-trust act would appear to conflict with the conclusions expressed in that and other decisions."

Trainload of Undesirable Aliens at Salem

PORTLAND, Or., April 28.—A car containing seven aliens from Portland and Salem was added to a train carrying a car with 25 aliens from California on their way to New York and deportation today.

The deportation train is gathering cars from each state on its way east.

Five of the foreigners taken from Portland have been in the Salem hospital for the insane. By the time the train reaches New York it was expected that the aggregation of criminals, insane and undesirables will have reached over 100.
