Fine Band Concert Is Arranged for Tonight

Whether or not a band concert will be given in Willson park tonight depends upon the weather, but Oscar Steelhammer, director, has arranged a fine program for the occasion, including "Grand Selection Songs From the Old Folks," by request. Oscar B. Gingrich will sing two selections.

The program for tonight is as follows:

1. Col. Stuart March, Weldon.
2. Overture Light Calvalry, Souppe.
3. "Murmuring Waters," Waltz, Hall.
4. Popular numbers.
5. Vocal solos, "Gypsy Love Song," Victor Herbert; "Thru the Night," Logan, Oscar B. Gingrich.
6. Fantasia Creme de a Creme, Moses-Tobani.
7. "Dance of the Hours," Ponchielli.
8. Grand Selection Songs from the Old Folks, Lake. (By request.)
9. Robinson's Grand Entree March, King.
10. Star Spangled Banner.

HENRY JAQUET WENT TO TOP

In a Crowd of 42 He Made the Difficult Ascent

Henry Jaquet of Silverton joined the Mazamas club on their Mt. Adams climb. He was one of a party of 42 who started to climb Mt. Adams last Saturday morning at 4 o'clock. Thirty-seven completed the trip. Mr. Jaquet was the only member of the party who had not made the trip before. There were eight women in the party.

On Friday night the party went up to the timber line, went to bed, arose at 3 o'clock, got breakfast and started at 4 o'clock. The first peak was reached at 12 o'clock, where they took lunch, and at 2 o'clock they reached the highest peak where they found two young forest rangers who had stayed there the entire summer looking for fires. After resting a short time they started the descent, which was made without adventure.

Mr. Jaquet said that the last few miles of the upward trip were made entirely above the clouds. They could look down and see a heavy mass of clouds while the sun was shining brightly where they were. Upon their return they found that it was raining below.

The ascent was difficult. There were crevasses 30 feet deep that had to be negotiated, and sometimes the weaker ones were near to falling, but only five fell out, one of which was one of the group leaders.

Mt. Adams is barer of snow now than it has been in many years. John Lee of Portland, who has climbed mountains for 20 years, said he saw less snow this time than any time in his life. He had seen the snow there 20 feet deep where it is now bare.

Upon the return of the party the leader made special mention of Mr. Jaquet because it was his first trip, and he stood it like a seasoned soldier. He was called upon for a speech. Mr. Jaquet said he had watched that mountain for 30 years and wanted to climb it, and this was the first time he had had a chance. He expressed himself as much delighted with the trip and said that ever after every time he would look at Mt. Adams he would have a softer and kinder feeling for the peak itself, and a pleasant memory of the wonderful company of men and women who accompanied him on the trip.

Eagles Causes Trouble In Telephone Service

RENO, Nev., Aug. 18.—Because an Eagle built her nest on the transcontinental telephone line between San Francisco and New York at a point near Elko, Nev., telephone conversation between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts was stopped the early part of this week and Associated Press wires for a few hours were found pieces of wire and automobile parts which caused a short circuit.

A report to the Reno office of the telephone company was made by the wire chief today. Fred Wear, the emergency man who found the trouble, said the nest had everything in it from sagebrush to survey stakes.

Movie "Props" are Used By Los Angeles Bandit

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18.—A false moustache, a 22 caliber automatic pistol equipped with a home made wooden silencer and a phial of clear water were the "props" used here at noon today by F. P. Hall, 25, said by police to be a movie "extra," in an unsuccessful attempt to rob the Citizens' National bank.

According to police, Hall entered the bank during the noonday rush while hundreds of customers surged about the windows. He aimed the gun at a teller, who shoved over $480—and pressed a button. The movie "extra" made a dash for the door but was overpowered by guards, answering the alarm button.

Fresh Prune Shipments Get Setback From Rain

Fresh prune shipments have received a set-back from the rain and instead of the peak of the season being reached Monday as was expected, nearly all of the packing plants in the district were idle. No damage has been done to the fruit yet and the prunes will not be harmed unless the rain is protracted, that is, for at least a week. This is the concensus of opinion of a number of growers.

Twenty-five carloads of the fresh prunes have been shipped from Salem so far, while Denney & Co. have sent out 115 carloads from other points in the valley. It is estimated that around 150 carloads have been shipped from the prune sections of Oregon so far this year.

Salem Elks Take First In Trapshooting Tourney

Four Salem men, representing the Salem Elks club, took first place in the trap shooting contest staged as a feature of the state convention at Tillamook Saturday. The quartet was John Herren, Clifford Evans, George Palmer and Harold Looney. Teams competing in the contest were from Salem, Portland, Corvallis and Tillamook.

Mr. Herren was high man of the tournament, breaking 24 of a possible 25 clay pigeons. Palmer scored 23 and the other two 22 each. The four man scored 91 of a possible 100 with Portland and Corvallis registering 90 each. Mr. Herren was also high man for the Friday and Saturday shoots, breaking 95 the first day and 93 the second day. One hundred clay pigeons were used in these events.

Evergreens Going Into Packs at Local Canneries

Canneries in the Salem district are actively engaged in putting up evergreen blackberries and pears, with green prunes coming on in another 10 days or two weeks. Hunt Brothers are employing nearly 500 women at present on pears, and a fine run is reported on the fruit.

Some local pears are being received at the Producers' Canning & Packing company plant, but the run will be comparatively light. Evergreen blackberries are being handled, but as at other canneries will be short this season. Evergreens are also being handled at the Starr Fruit Products plant.

Though a 5 cent price is being paid for evergreens, comparatively little of the fruit is being picked, this being the chief expense of placing the fruit on the market as there are large acreages of the wild fruit in the district. The canners are paying around $20 a ton for green prunes.

TILLAMOOK TO HAVE NEW SPORT FISHING

That Tillamook nimrods will be able to enjoy a brand of angling that has heretofore been practically unknown in this county is now assured. The local fish club has just received communication from A. E. Burghduff, state game warden, that makes this addition to our angling: "Mr. Eugene Crosby, president Tillamook county game protective association, Tillamook: During the latter part of this week we will be shipping some bass, crappies and catfish into that section for Ocean lake and Lake Lytle. It is my intention to send several shipments as the bass and catfish are coming a little better than usual at the present time."

In some sections these fish are the only species caught, and Tillamook sportsmen are indeed fortunate in having this opportunity for additional angling in lakes and the still fresh water streams.—Tillamook Headlight.

DRIED PRUNES SOLD

Considerable activity has been cropping out in the prune situation in the Dallas-Salem district and several sales of dried prunes have been made within the past few days at Salem, Yamhill county together with the general prune outlook, the clean-up of the 1924 crop, and green prune shipping, is giving the prune men more encouragement than they have had for many a day.

Two large sales have been made in Dallas recently. C. L. Crider contracted 50 tons to the Drager Fruit company of Salem. His sale was on an 8-cent basis for 30-35s, 7½ for 35-40s, 6½ for 40-45s, 6 for 45-50s.

L. D. Brown has contracted 25 tons to Mason-Ehrman for 8 cents for 35-35s and a 1-cent drop on the next two grades, and a quarter [illegible] tract is for half of Mr. Brown's crop.

Sales are reported to have been more brisk in the Yamhill and Salem districts.—Dallas Observer.
