American Legion Auxiliary to Sponsor Attractive Bridge Tea

Particularly delightful among the affairs scheduled for the coming week will be the benefit bridge tea which the American Legion Auxiliary will sponsor on Monday afternoon in the Legion Hall. Reservations are already being made for the afternoon and those wishing tables are asked to call Mrs. Jesse George at 1050-J. Mrs. George, as chairman of the affair, will be ably assisted by Mrs. Cyril Nadon and Mrs. Cyril Nadon.

Plans for the tea were made at the business meeting of the auxiliary on Monday evening preceding the initiation at the Armory which the Auxiliary members attended en masse. The evening was particularly enjoyable to all present.

Mrs. J. C. Currie Entertains YWCA Girls at Hibbard Farm

The group of girls who are residents of the city YWCA were the honor guests at a delightful affair of Monday evening when Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Currie entertained for their pleasure at dinner at the Currie country home, Hibbard Farm.

The rooms were attractively decorated with masses of dogwood and a profusion of garden flowers. A bowl of lovely pink and yellow blossoms centered the dinner table. Yellow candles were used in silver holders.

Place cards marked covers for Miss Isabel Bartlett, Miss Florence Lake, Miss Gladys Paul, Miss Clara Heater, Miss Mizpah Palmerton, Miss Julia Currie, Mrs. Pearl Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lorenz and son Robert, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Currie.

Following the dinner Mr. and Mrs. David Ramseyer and little son, David Jr., who are neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Currie, joined the group as additional guests. Five hundred at three tables was the diversion of the evening with David Ramseyer winning the high score. Miss Mizpah Palmerton won the consolation award.

Guests at Neskowin

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Mase and Mr. and Mrs. A. Mickel motored to Neskowin where they were guests over the week-end.

Business and Professional Women's Club

A particularly interesting meeting of the Salem Business and Professional Women's club will take place at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

Five members of the club, who are prominent in professional work in the city, will give short, interesting talks covering the scope of their individual type of work.

In the group of those contributing talks will be Dr. Mary B. Purvine, physician; Miss Grace Elizabeth Smith, assistant attorney general; Mrs. Lola Belle Bellinger, high school librarian; Miss Grace Taylor, public health nurse, and Miss Lillian Shroeder, special teacher at Parrish junior high school.

YWCA News Is Received in Salem

The city YWCA, of which Miss Marian Wyman is secretary, is frequently in receipt of interesting news items concerning the work in its international scope. The following is an example:

Many business houses in Constantinople are opening on Sundays following the example of the banks which have adopted seven day office hours at government request. This means less lisure for the young women employed in the city, according to Miss Dorothy Brown. Miss Brown is a secretary at the Pera service center of the YWCA in Constantinople.

"Public opinion and dark streets make it difficult for even our older girls to come out in the evenings," writes Miss Brown. "We have 581 girls enrolled in day classes, all deeply in earnest and ambitious. Our library is all too small for the girls who wish to come and study there.

"As for recreation, dancing has been very popular. 'This is the only honorable place we have to dance,' one enthusiastic girl said to me. The spirit of youth is strong in our girls here, and yet tradition, slow to give way, still denies them the free outlet that girls have almost everywhere. So we are thankful that the service center can give them opportunities for healthful self-expression."

Miss Brown, who went to Constantinople in November, 1925, is from London.

Bethel Dorcas Club

Mrs. Harry Boles and Mrs. Art Johnson will be hostesses Thursday afternoon for members of the Bethel Dorcas club, entertaining at Mrs. Johnson's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Squier Are Guests at Reception

Mr. and Mrs. J. Miles Squier, whose marriage was an event of recent date, were honored at an attractive reception on Saturday evening, April 17, when Mrs. Alma Harmer and Mrs. F. A. McCall were hostesses. The rooms were profusely decorated with roses, iris, white carnations, snowballs, and columbine. Readings and musical numbers entertained the guests during the evening, with delicious refreshments following at a late hour. The honor guests were made the recipients of a number of gifts. Mrs. Squier was Goldie Shaffer before her marriage.

In the group for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Rideout, Miss Reta Rideout, Miss Lorraine Rideout, Prof. and Mrs. Vendon, Arthur and Rex Hartley, William Darling, Miss Neva Sundin, Miss Lillian Wyman, Miss Ruby Morehead, Miss Carol Irans, Lawrence Veaton, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Veaton, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sproed, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Madison, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ashby, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Free, Clyde Madison, Miss Helen Hutchins, Elmer and Kenneth Hutchins, Fred Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Ernston, Miss Doris Haley, Miss Ruby Kennedy, Miss Lois Reed, Miss Virginia Shand, Miss F. A. McCalvin, Mrs. Alma Huddleston, Mrs. F. A. McCall, Mr. and Mrs. J. Brown, Mrs. Alma Harmer, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Schoffer, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. McCall and family, and the hostesses and honor guests.

Happy Dozen Club Is Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. Art J. Johnson entertained the Happy Dozen 500 club with a novelty hayseed party at their home last Saturday night. The guests came dressed in old-fashioned, hard-times costumes which afforded much merriment. The prize for the most ridiculously dressed couple went to Mr. Harry Young and Miss McIntyre.

Several stunts were played, in addition to the four tables of 500. High scores in cards were won by Mrs. P. Stevens and Mr. Forgard, while Mrs. Bryant and Mr. Boles won the consolations.

In addition to regular members of the club, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Forgard, Miss Anna McIntyre and Ruth Kitchen were guests. Refreshments were served at a late hour, and the club adjourned until the fall season.

Young Married People's Class

The Young Married People's class of the First Baptist church will hold their regular meeting this evening in the church parlors, with a pot-luck supper at 6:30 o'clock. A social hour will follow. All members are invited to be present.

April 25 to May 1 will be observed this year as Better Homes week, with the Salem Woman's club in charge of the plans for the open homes. Mrs. John E. Brophy is acting as general chairman for the project.

Among the beautiful homes which will be opened during the week will be the Curtis Cross home on Lincoln Hill.

The Standard Bearers of the First Methodist church will meet at 7:30 o'clock this evening at the home of Mrs. J. O. Goltra, 725 Court street. Assisting hostesses will be Maxine Maxwell, Eugenia Savage and Lois Taylor. Miss Neva Stolsheise will have charge of the devotions, while Mrs. Geo. H. Alden will conduct the study hour.
