Offers Radio as Hobby to Keep Children From Crime

LONDON.—Hobbies for wayward children are being sought by the British home office on the theory that boys and girls who have an interest in radio, sport or other recreation rarely drift into crime.

The theory of the officials is that detection of psycho-analysis of the criminal tendencies of the bad boy may prevent him from drifting hopelessly toward the reformatory.

Governor Wood Against Pensioning Able Bodied

MANILA, P. I.—Hopes of several thousand government employes for retirement on pension at an early age were blasted by a ruling of Governor General Wood that none may retire unless unfit for further service.

General Wood said that by virtue of the discretion permitted him in the Retirement Act he would hold that Filipinos who are able, physically and otherwise o continue at work will not be permitted to retire on pay although service and age requirements of the law's provisions may have been met.

Newspaper of VBR Years Ago Had Its Crime News

INDIANAPOLIS—Original copies of the Greenfield Gazette, printed in Greenfied, Mass., one hundred and twenty-eight years ago, are in possession of Wallace Cruger of this city.

Yellowed with time, but in a remarkable state of preservation, each page is legible. The newspaper advertised an issue that it was "an impartial register of the times," and was published every Monday.

A perusal showed that the early Americans were as much interested in crime news, the church question, national congress and in foreign activities as they are today. All foreign news was printed under one heading. News of the various states also was given prominence.

Garibaldi—New type engine and other machine additions will increase Whitney mill capacity 1,000,000 feet a month.
