MELLON BOOSTS TAX ANTE ANOTHER NOTCH

the entire surplus be applied to retirement of the debt.

Mr. Mellon replied he didn't feel it would be fair to take the surplus created largely by income tax payers and apply it on reduction of the excise taxes, including the automobile and admission dues. It would be difficult, also, he said, to give the smaller tax payers greater credit because their payments now were so small. This plan, he added, also would be prejudicial to the other tax payers.

The secretary did not deny however, that he would just as soon use the surplus toward retirement of the public debt, but added that the debt, which now stands at about $19,600,000,000, would be cut by well over $500,000,000 this year, and he considered this sufficient.

With a surplus of more than $300,000,000 in sight for this year and business conditions continuing sound, the suggestion was offered that it would be safe to make a permanent reduction in taxes. But Mr. Mellon replied that it was unwise to count on certain continuance of prosperity, declaring if there was any diminuation it would wipe out the surplus and might necessitate a consequent increase in tax rates.

Dentists Favor Opening Free Clinic in Salem

The regular monthly meeting of the Marion-Polk-Yamhill County Dental society was held Friday at The Spa. Following the dinner, Dr. Walter H. Brown gave a very instructive talk on "The Health of the Dentist."

An important business meeting followed. After a short discussion on the establishment of a free clinic, a motion was made and carried that the clinic be located at the headquarters of the Marion County Child Health Demonstration, under the supervision of Dr. Brunk. It was decided that a social meeting be held next month and that the wives be invited.

stooped to the regular grandstanding methods to acquire office; that as a district judge he had been fair, considerate, sympathetic, and held the love, respect and esteem of every lawyer with whom he had come in contact.

Others present were Dr. Morris of Salem, a nephew of Judge McBride; Clyde Huntley, internal revenue collector, Portland; Tom Tongue, also of Hillsboro; Governor-elect Patterson, Senator Louis Lachmund of Salem, George Putnam of Salem, editor of the Capital Journal; William Walton, a banker of Salem; Ed Bryson, lawyer of Eugene; Arthur Clarke, Ralph Bosworth and Claude Ingalls of Corvallis.

After all had spoken briefly in praise of the judge and Mr. Pierce, the judge himself spoke a few words. He said in his younger days there were no roads here but Indian trails. His father was a doctor, and there were only three doctors in the state then. He had accumulated no riches as ordinarily understood, but, he added, "I have acquired a wealth of friends that I wouldn't exchange for all the wealth you could pile up on this table." He pulled from his pocket a letter just received from the Masonic lodge at St. Helens, congratulating him upon his birthday. He has been a member of the lodge 54 years. Most interesting, however, was a letter from an Indian guide with whom the judge has fished and hunted. It was in the Indian language, and the judge read and interpreted it to the rest of the guests. It expressed an humble Indian love and appreciation for his friend.

The tables were handsomely decorated, the centerpiece being a real fish pond with real fish and miniature fishermen sitting on the bank.

On the judge's 80th birthday there will be two parties to which those present were invited, George Putnam urging them to come to Salem as his guests, and Al Pierce renewing his invitation for 1927.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY, BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

the rector. Once when she had described the pain she was suffering, she wrote: "Hold me close. Nothing will cure me but that."

"How friendly our Easton Avenue road looks," she said after writing "I get a new message of love every time you take off your hat." Later she declared she was "so happy I could dance wildly."

"No one understands me but you," she wrote. "Of course I have never shown my true self to others."

"Babykins" was a word appearing again and again as the reading went on. "What a muddle we are in," was a plaintive note sounded. "You are a true priest and I am your physical inspiration," one letter read. "You see in me what you teach."

Disavowal of claims to beauty was made in a letter where she said: "I know I am not pretty," referring in the same letter to my "scrawny skin."

A reference to material things read: "If I am not blessed with material things, I have the greatest gift of all, my babykins."

Mrs. Elsie Barnhardt, a sister of Mrs. Mills testified before the letters were read into the record that the choir singer in reply to a protest that she was unwise in openly showing her affection for the minister, told her that she did not care who knew it.

Mrs. Barnhardt said also that Mrs. Mills declared she cared "more for Mr. Hall's little finger than for Jim's whole body." This statement was repeated she said, in the presence of James Mills, the husband.

THREE CONVICTS HIDE IN CAVERN

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 15.—(AP)—Three of California's noted burglars and robbers under the leadershiup of Lee Brennan, eluded guards today at Folsom prison, of which they are inmates, and are believed to be hiding in the underground caverns in the lower prison quarry, where they were at work. Warden . F. Smith is matching the craft of Brennan by doubling the guards at every possible exit from the quarry.

Brennan, it is believed, is the hope of the trio in breaking the jinx attending "quarry holdouts" who have been invariably recaptured, usually after untold hardships and exposure, as they were attempting a desperate dash from their hiding places.

Brennan was received at Folsom in 1922 after he had successfully escaped from San Quentin prison and in 1924 he hid in the quarry and was scaling the walls in the nearest to a successful attempt at escape ever made by quarry workers when recaptured.

Included in the trio is Thomas Griffin, known as "The Owl", held by contemporaries as the most notorious bank robber in California history. He is serving a term of from five years to life and was received from Fresno county March 1, 1925. William O'Brien, the third member of the squad is serving a similar term for first degree robbery and was received from San Francisco county February 5, 1925.

Brennan was serving a fifteen year term for burglary in Alameda county and was first received at San Quentin, February 15, 1921.

Druggist's Daughter Gained 6 lbs. in 30 Days

Only 7 Years Old He Writes

After sickness and when children are run down, pale and weak, nothing seems to help so much as the vitalizing vitamins in McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

Mr. E. H. Alvey, pharmacist, of Clinton, Ill., writes as follows:

"Gentlemen: Enclosed find check to balance account to date. Also order for 12 dozen McCOY'S TABLETS. My little girl (7 years old), has the measles and was very much run down. We started her on McCOY'S and she has gained 6 pounds in thirty days. The other morning she and her mother overslept and Betty did not have time to eat breakfast before going to school. She came home at noon starving and said to her mother, 'Mother, you will have to get me up in time for breakfast or stop feeding me McCOY'S'."

Sixty sugar coated tablets for sixty cents at J. C. Perry, D. J. Fry and druggists everywhere. Try them for 30 days and if they do not help your ailing child, money back. Ask for McCoy's.—Adv.
