RANDALL OUT FOR COUNCIL

Salem Attorney Seeks Seat Vacated by Resignation of Thompson

Kenneth L. Randall, attorney who has offices in the Bank of Commerce building and who lives in the Hollywood district, is mentioned for election to the place on the city council vacated by the surprise resignation of George W. Thompson, alderman for the fifth ward, and a number of petitions are now being circulated.

Questioned Friday afternoon, Mr. Randall admitted that the petitions were circulated with his knowledge and consent, and said that several councilmen are pledged to support him when the vacancy is considered at the next meeting, which will be held on Tuesday, September 4.

A number of the councilmen stated Friday that they had been interviewed in Mr. Randall's behalf, and indicated that to date, the attorney is apparently without opposition for the office.

O'Hara Undecided

From another source it was learned that David O'Hara, one of the nominees for the two year term in the fifth ward who will be voted on in November, has the question of running for the vacancy under consideration, but has not reached a decision.

While Mr. Thompson's resignation came as a complete surprise to the other members of the council and to the general public, it was learned Friday that his plans were known to a considerable number of his constituents, and that the matter of a successor had been discussed with the result that a petition for the election of Mr. Randall was in the council chamber on the night of the meeting, but could not be presented for the reason that Mr. Thompson did not tender his resignation until a motion to adjourn was already before that body.

Although resigning until the end of the year, Mr. Thompson will accept his election and resume his seat when the council is reorganized in January, he has announced.

Heard In The Capitol

Assembling of supplies required for the general election to be held in Oregon November 6 is now underway, according to announcement made at the office of the secretary of state. There also will be a special election this year to elect a representative in congress for the second congressional district. He will succeed N. J. Sinnott, who resigned recently to accept the judgeship of the federal court of claims. Candidates to succeed Mr. Sinnott include R. R. Butler of The Dalles, republican and Walter M. Pierce of LaGrande, democrat. The special election also will be held November 6.

Mr. Seymour returned to Oregon recently from the east where he attended a conference of state club leaders. Mr. Seymour said the boys and girls of Oregon will have an outstanding exhibit at this year's state fair.

W. C. Culbertson of Portland, chairman of the democratic state central committee and democratic nominee for the office of representative in congress for the third congressional district, spent Wednesday in Salem attending a meeting of the state bonus board. Mr. Culbertson has been a member of the commission since early in the administration of ex-Governor Pierce.

Rhea Luper, state engineer, has returned here after a few days spent at Aberdeen and other Washington cities. He made the trip by automobile.

James Stewart, special investigator for the state land board, is now at Bend, according to letters received at the offices of George G. Brown, clerk of the state land board. He is inspecting a number of farms on which the state holds mortgages.

Robert S. Farrell, of Portland, former member of the state senate, spent yesterday in Salem attending a meeting of the state reclamation commission. He also conferred with Governor Patterson and other state officials.

H. D. Norton, Grants Pass attorney, spent yesterday in Salem on business. He was a visitor at the executive department. Mr. Norton previously served as a member of the state senate from Josephine county.

The average of 20 leading industrial issues, compiled by the Associated Press, advanced nearly 3 points to within 1-10 of 1 point of the record high level established last spring. Total sales of 3,825,000 shares were the largest of any session since June 4 when the 4,000,000 share mark was crossed.

Army Flyer Has Close Call When Machine Wrecks

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Captain H. C. French, of of Pearson field, Vancouver Washarmy pilot credited with locating the Lost Batallion in the Argonne forest, had a narrow escape from death today while flying a new plane in company with Lieutenant Otto Hossack, a fellow officer. The motor stopped dead at an altitude of 500 feet and the ship crashed on the rocky sides of mountain crags near Swim. Apparently only minor bruises were sustained.

The two officers had made a perfect landing at the new summit field at government camp on the Mt. Hood loop highway and almost immediately had taken off again. The motor stalled a few minutes later. Both officers are veterans of the A. E. F. Captain French not only located the lost command of Major Whittlesly, according to the familiar story, but afterward flew at low altitudes and dropped food for them.
