Salem, Monmouth, Silverton, West Linn Lead Tourney

CURT COMMENTS by CURTIS

The Church league championship has been decided in Fruitland's favor, and now we can turn our attention to the minor matter of the state tournament. But seriously speaking, after getting our first glimpse of the Church league in action Friday night, we are here to state that those teams play basketball, nothing but.

Big crowds have been turning out, too; but it's a good thing Salem doesn't thoroughly appreciate how good it is, or the whole town might turn out for the games twice a week and be so fed up on basketball by the time the season was over, that it wouldn't have the heart to go to the state tournament.

We doubt, too, whether the people of Salem appreciate how much activity there is at the Y. M. C. A. most any night, with the gymnasium constantly in use and a crowd in the balcony watching the games; on Friday nights the lobby is packed with people attending the weekly program; another crowd of boys in the junior department lobby, another downstairs in the tank and the handball courts upstairs in use to capacity; to say nothing of various classes and committee meetings tucked in here and there.

Another sign of spring; the appearance of the Sporting News record book. We haven't had time to look through it thoroughly; but we note that Le Roy Mahaffey of Portland was the champion iron arm pitcher of the world last season, pitching 370 innings.

Apparently it pays to work hard in baseball, for Mahaffey goes up to the Athletics, and most of the other labor fields who pitched more than 300 innings—there were only 12 of them—also received proper recognition.

It's quite a handy little book for a forgetful "sport expert." Didn't find out whether it tells which pitchers wear glasses.

WRESTLING MEET SLATED IN APRIL

The city amateur wrestling tournament will be held at the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening, April 4. A large number of entries is expected.

Plans were made at a meeting Thursday night. George King was elected chairman and Des Anderson official referee. Carl Williams and Roy Mink are on the promotion committee. Other committees are as follows: Spec Keene, Curtis Reed, Fred Zimmerman, Leslie Sparks and Hollis Huntington on the detail committee which included judges, arrangement of meet, point system, etc.

There will be seven weights, including 112 pounds, 118, 126, 135, 147, 160, 175 and heavyweight. Gold medals will be given the winners. The tournament is open to all amateur wrestlers in the city.

Last year the meet was a success, with 18 bone crushers taking part. This year it is expected there will be a larger number entered. Intercollegiate rules will be used.

Another meeting will be held Monday evening at which time detailed arrangements will be made.

SILVERTON, March 7—(Special)—Success of Silverton's first invitational high school basketball tournament was assured when large crowds turned out for the first round of games Friday and some excellent basketball was played. Nearly all of the teams were accompanied by large delegations of rooters.

Salem, West Linn, Monmouth and Silverton appeared to be contenders for the final victory, although all of the teams are still in the race excepting Gervais, which was defeated twice today. The double elimination system is being used.

Salem high defeated Bethel more or less decisively in the opening game today, but the Polk county boys surprised the red and black with their strength. Monmouth had little trouble in beating Gervais.

West Linn showed promise of being in the finals by beating Mill City although the latter team was greatly improved over previous showings. Parrish gave Silverton a hard battle in the first half but was snowed under in the final periods. Bethel showed to greater advantage in the game with Gervais than it had against Salem.

GASTONIA WORKERS ARE FREED BY JURY

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 7 (AP) — Five Gastonia textile workers charged with second degree murder of Mrs. Ella May Wiggins, member of a reputedly communistic labor union, were acquitted in 35 minutes today by a Mecklenburg county superior court jury.

The men on trial were Horace Wheelus, Troy Jones, Lowery Davis, Fred Morow and O. H. Lunsford. They were accused of causing the death of the woman in a Gaston county allegedly anti-communistic demonstration last September.

The trial, which opened a week ago last Monday, was brought here on a change of venue. Public feeling in Gaston county, torn in the last year by bitter labor strife, was declared too agitated to permit a "just and fair" verdict there.

SALEM PEOPLE MAKE CALL TO ZENA HOME

ZENA, March 7 —Mrs. Joe Card of Winema and her daughter, Mrs. Jack Hansen of Woodburn, were visitors Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Card's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James A. French of Zena. Mrs. Card spent Tuesday night in Salem and returned to Zena Wednesday where she spent the day with the French family.

Mrs. Card was Miss Effie Judson of Salem before her marriage. She was a teacher in the schools south of Salem. Mrs. Hansen, who was Lucia Card, is a graduate of Willamette university.

Mrs. Jesse Walling, who was Mabel Jerman of Zena, and a pupil under Mrs. Card when she taught the Sunnyside school, visited her former teacher while she was in Zena Wednesday.

Championship Decided in Church Hoop League

Here are the more than 60 basketball players who participated in the Church league season at the Y. M. C. A., which reached its climax Friday night in a championship for the Fruitland quintet, members of which are in the row at the extreme top center of the picture. The South Salem Friends players, runners-up, are in a more or less pyramid formation at the reader's extreme left.

TITLE IS WON BY FRUITLAND

South Salem Friends Beaten In Church League in Final Game

The Fruitland basketball team was crowned champion in the Church league Friday night when it won the final game of the titular series from the South Salem Friends quintet, 26 to 14.

Fruitland got the jump on the Quakers, scoring ten points in the first period and holding the Friends scoreless. Sharpshooting on the part of Girod and a breakdown of the Friends' four man defense were responsible.

In the second period the Friends came back almost as strong, Huth scoring seven points before Fruitland found the hoop again. The period ended with Fruitland ahead 13 to 7. In the second half, oddly enough, each team scored exactly as many points as it had in the first half.

Calvary Baptist nosed out a victory, 21 to 18, over First Methodist in a consolation series game although the Methodists played with only four men. Jason Lee defeated the Presbyterians 28 to 22.

Silverton and Dallas to Play On Local Floor

The Willamette university gymnasium has been selected as the scene for the Silverton-Dallas high school basketball game Monday night, one of the semi-final contests for the district No. 7 championship. Silverton won the Marion county title this week and Dallas had previously won in Polk county.

The same night Molalla, Clackamas county champion, will play the Multnomah county winner on a neutral floor. The final district game will be played Friday night, March 14, on a floor to be selected by the district executive board.

AGGIES WIN 14 OF 27 GAMES PLAYED

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, March 6 — Oregon State has just concluded the 1930 basketball season with a record of 14 games won out of 27 played. The Beaver squad ran up a total of 802 points as compared to 800 counters scored by their opponents.

Individual scoring honors for the season went to Rod Ballard, who hit the hoop for a total of 175 points. Buck Brayson, flashy Orange guard, gave Ballard a close race for the honors, netting 163 points.

Other Beaver scorers were Callahan, 111; Fagans 93; Lyman, 91; Whitlock, 72; Torson, 49; Merrill, 20; Duffy, 19; and Drager 9. Grayson broke loose for the highest individual score in any single contest, registering 18 points against the Stanford Cardinals.

Oregon State played in and out ball most of the season. Sometimes the boys looked like the best in the world while at other times they looked listless and unorganized. The Orangemen turned in wins over every team in the conference and at the same time grabbed three of the four games from the University of Washington.

Orange prospects for next year are promising. Only two lettermen, Mush Torson and Cotton Whitlock, will be lost to the team by graduation whereas eight lettermen will be available. Coach Roy Lamb's rook hoop quintet also produced several men who will be in line for berths on the varsity squad next season.

SCRATCH DOUBLES TOURNEY IS SLATED

A scratch doubles tournament will be rolled off on the Winter Garden bowling alleys tonight starting at 8:30 p.m. Twelve two-man teams are entered, with a promise of keen competition for first place.

Hain's Body Shop bowlers rolled in hard luck in the Statesman league competition Friday night, losing the first game by one pin and thereby losing two out of three to Sunfreze. Day and Niles were consistent, shooting scores of 755, 752 and 750 but losing two to the Carson Pharmacy. Fulops Clothing won two from Cenbad start. Sunfreze is now leading the league.

In the Owl league, Salem Maid won three games from Chevrolet Shop and Miles Linen Mills won two from the Butternut Doughboys.

Will Feats Match Feet?

By HARDIN BURNLEY

EVER since that day not so long ago when an entertaining press broadcast the news that Gene Tunney had marveled at the size of Primo Carnera's feet (the retired champion chanced to meet the latter upon his arrival in America) those size 21 shoes of the Italian giant have been as much in the public eye, so to speak, as Charley Chaplin's used to be.

Carnera was promptly dubbed "Fiddle Feet" by Jackie Farrell, the writing restaurant man from Jersey City. Other wits rang many changes on the acre-covering footwear of the gondola-shod Venetian until he has become "The One-Man Circus of Sock," pugilism's premier pusher-over, and positively the best moneymaking side show attraction the ring racket has yet known.

Primo's Trilbys fit brogans that measure 9 inches across the sole, and slightly more than 18 inches from heel to toe! From the feet up he is built in proportion, weighs in condition about 275 pounds, and is only 6-foot-6, four or five inches short of the height attributed to him by early and circus-like exploitation.

Most sport bugs are anxious to see Carnera fight a fairly good man. He may surprise skeptics when he does by winning, but this particular Sport Bug pictures what cynics think will happen when he does. And "The Sport Bug" gives gratis an idea of how "Fiddle Feet" can add more to his fortune when that occurs by renting as advertising space the most celebrated of soles!

Besides boxing's greatest feet, baseball's are rather modest in the conspicuous dogs of Vernon Gomez, 19-year-old Yankee pitching recruit recently purchased from the San Francisco Seals in a $50,000 deal. Precise statistics have not been released concerning that rookie's ramblers but, if as represented, they may help him conceal his delivery, while putting him "in the bucket" while at bat! This 6-foot southpaw was the Pacific Coast League ace in 1929 (won 18, lost 11, yielded 3.43 runs per game).

Both Gomez and Carnera have likeable personalities. We hope that they become as famous for their respective diamond and ring feats as they are already for their feet! Capitalized FEET indeed !)

Washington Quintet Loses First Game of Series to Southern California Team

LOS ANGELES, March 7. — (AP) — Baffled by a superior passing attack the University of Washington basketball quintet dropped the first game of the Pacific coast conference championship series tonight to the University of Southern California Trojans 46 to 31.

The combination Ellensburg-Yakima team won a hard fought victory from the Olympia Ramblers 31 to 28 with a last minute rally. Druse was the heavy basket shooter for the winning combination.

Coach Sam Barry's cagers took the lead from the initial tip off and although tied in the early moments of the first period they never were headed by the Washington five. U. S. C. led 24 to 16 at the half.

The Trojans played a slow breaking offense, waiting for an opening to start the accurate passing attack which spelled the doom of the Huskies.

Going into the second half the U. S. C. quintet played a defensive game forcing Coach Hec Edmundson's players to come out of their defensive positions in an effort to gain possession of the ball. This disrupted their protection of the basket and enabled the Trojans to sift through and score with comparative ease.

Jess Mortensen, U. S. C. center, although dwarfed by the six feet six inches of height of his opponent, Al McClary, consistently took the tip off and was the center of the pivoting passing offense that regularly led to field goals.

Stanley Jaloff, midget husky forward, was off his game as were the other Washington forwards, missing apparently easy shots repeatedly.

The Trojans, on the other hand, were uncanny in basket tossing, having no difficulty in finding the hoop from odd positions.
