Paper Company Drops Plans to Erect Building

The Oregon Pulp & Paper company has no money to build a warehouse at this time, and when it does, it will build on its own property on the north side. The portion of Trade street vacated by the city for the proposed warehouse will be deeded back to the city. This was the decision of the directors at a meeting Friday in answer to the city's notice that the paper company start building a warehouse within 90 days or relinquish the deed, President F. W. Leadbetter announced.

The portion of Trade street deeded the paper company is a strip 40 feet wide now used largely as a parking place of automobiles, and as a switch track to serve the company.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE IS STARTED

Fight on Tuberculosis Will Be Aided; County Head Sends out Stamps

The Christmas seal sale is on with a will. All about the city will be seen posters in brilliant color and suggestive of the good work to be accomplished by the funds obtained from the sale of the familiar oblong seal with its red symbol of the banner of health.

Just finished is the Red Cross roll call, the funds for which will go to relieve present needs for soul and body as well as health. The Christmas seal sale funds will go to "prevent" illness as well as aid that which is now already contracted.

Tuberculosis, the pernicious disease against which war is being waged with the money taken in from the seal sale, is costing the state many thousands of dollars which could be saved in time if further development of the curse may be prevented. Proper treatment, thorough and frequent examinations and such precautions are necessary but in order to protect the public with such precautions there must be finances. The seal sale aids materially in furnishing the needed money.

Stamps are being sent out by the committee in charge which is headed by Mrs. J. E. Blinkhorn, county seal sale chairman, and Mrs. Ivan Martin, city chairman.

Booths will be established in prominent places in the city and from these prominent women will offer seals for sale. Among the organizations taking part in the establishment of booths are the Eastern Star, Salem Woman's club, American Legion auxiliary, and several others which will be announced later.

Mrs. Clifton Mudd has charge of the Hollywood district publicity and Mrs. H. C. Sinks has charge of the city publicity.
