VISITOR

We don't know whether this smiling seaman, Herbert Batsiaff, of the German cruiser Karlsruhe, is using those earmuffs to shut out political speeches, or to hear better the welcomes of American friends, but he certainly seems happy about something. The Karlsruhe, with a crew of 531 officers and men, recently arrived at Philadelphia. It is the first German warship to visit these shores since the World War.

LAMBS, HOGS SELLING AT PORTLAND

HOPS REACH 17½, OPTIONS AT 20c

Deschutes Potatoes are Most in Demand; Eggs Steady

PORTLAND, Nov. 8—(AP)—There was no change in the local egg situation for the day and general conditions throughout the country were steady. This applies to average trade. There is a fairly strong tone for fresh stock, but storage goods are showing less trade.

Live chicken trade was generally unchanged for the day. Hen prices were steady to firm for all weights but there remains a very sluggish tone in springers even at the record low mark.

Steadiness is reflected in the market for country killed meats generally although the market for calves is not any good. Hogs are moving out well but within the late range. Lambs too.

In the market for potatoes, Deschutes stock continues to receive the great bulk of demand but offerings from there are decreasing somewhat, creating a steadier tone. Yakima appears to be awaiting until Deschutes get scarce here and then flood this market with its gems.

PIES SELL WELL

ABIQUA, Nov. 8.—In spite of the stormy weather Friday night a good sized crowd turned out for the pie social at McLaughlin school and over $6 was cleared. The funds will be used for general club expenses. Otto A. Dahl, president of the McLoughlin Parent-Teacher association, which sponsored the social, also acted as auctioneer.

Growers Still Hold At Highest Price Of Season

With sales of hops at 17½ cents and options at 20 cents, the best market of the season was recorded on the eve of the national election. Sloper sold 335 bales to Horst company at 17½ cents, the season's high. Contracts were in evidence for two years at 17 cents.

Even at the high of 17½c, it is expected growers will continue to hold pretty tightly, as there has been prediction that the price will reach 25 cents before spring on basis of consumption on the continent. Growers hold the 25 cent figure a foregone conclusion if the democrats sweep the election.

Twenty-cent options on hops were said to be more or less election bets, with the option to be taken up as soon as the vote was evident, if at all.

SAVINGS LOST, OLD MAN LANDS IN JAIL

Past his best working years, jobless and distracted with loss of his life's savings, Alford Piro, elderly Italian laborer from Portland landed in Salem via freight train yesterday morning and ran smack into hands of the police. They charged him with no crime, only held him for investigation of his strange actions.

Confiding in the desk sergeant later, Piro said he had labored hard for many years, saved up $4000 and invested it in one of the Insull enterprises. Now, he said, it seems he probably has lost most of the money. He exhibited a letter from the company stating he might retrieve some of his, to him, a sizeable fortune.

Asked why he came to Salem, Piro told the sergeant:

"I'd go crazy hanging around Portland."

Given breakfast and a kind word, however, he was sent on his way back home.

SILVERTON HILLS AGAINST ROAD TAX

The Silverton Hills road district, No. 14, turned down a $1030 special road tax by a 32 to 19 vote, it was reported here this week at the county clerk's office. The tax had it been levied would have placed two mills additional on assessed property in the district.

Road district No. 115 at Elkhorn voted a $2500 special millage for road work. The levy will be five mills. The vote there was 10 yes; 3 no.

Districts No. 12 at Detroit and No. 26 at Crooked Finger are yet to vote, the former November 12 and the latter November 26.

In previous years a score of districts have voted special levies for road work. This year only four are or have voted.

MONEY MAGNATE IN MERRY MOOD

One of the rare smiles of J. Pierpont Morgan, international financier and head of the great banking house that bears his name, is pictured here as the money magnate was "spotted" by the camera at Waterloo Station, London, where he had been seeing a friend off to the United States. Mr. Morgan is on an extended visit to England.
