Mr. Peterson is president of the Oregon Methodist Conference Layman's association and recently went to New York city to represent Northwest Methodism at the annual meeting of the Methodist board of foreign missions. In his capacity as religious editor for nearly 15 years of the Portland daily. Mr. Peterson keeps in close touch almost every week with the general religious situation, as hardly a week passes but some internationally known religious figure visits Portland, whom Mr. Peterson interviews.

Mr. Peterson has advised Rev. Humphrey that he will take the audience on a "religious trip around the world," spending two or three minutes in each country reviewing religious conditions as they actually are today.

Owing to the nature of the meeting Jason Lee church is inviting Methodists in Marion county who want to hear this talk, and the general public, to the service. Rev. Humphrey experienced some difficulty in getting Mr. Peterson for this service, as he had previous engagements which fill every Sunday until March.
