Bishop Scores 19 Points to Lead Husky Team to 40-26 Win

SEATTLE, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Washington's undefeated Huskies snatched their second straight game from the University of Oregon basketball team 40 to 26 here tonight and tightened their grip on first place in the northern division of the Pacific Coast conference.

The score at half-time was Washington 21, Oregon 13.

Ralph Bishop, Husky center, hit a furious pace and accounted for 19 points—seven field goals and five free throws — before Coach Hec Edmundson sent in his entire second team to finish the last four minutes. The iron-men had piled up a 35-to-21 lead when Edmundson entrusted the battle to the substitutes.

Oregon's Webfeet jumped into a 6-to-2 lead at the start, giving 7500 spectators the impression the game was likely to parallel last night's session when the Huskies had to strain to win, 36 to 28, in the fading moments.

Washington's sharpshooters swung into action and brought their team into the lead, 9 to 8, after six minutes of play. From then on, the Huskies were out in front.

Subzero Weather To Resume Today

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Along the Canadian border, the elements mobilized tonight for a new subzero assault on the northern states.

A brief respite from the most frigid blasts of the century vouchsafed midwestern and Atlantic states during the day, was due to be snapped off during the night with temperatures from 10 to 20 degrees below from Minnesota to Indiana and sub-zero weather as far east as Ohio.

Additional deaths continued to augment the cold wave's list of victims throughout the day bringing the total for the country to at least 164 for the 72-hour period of extreme cold.

Snow was falling in Nebraska, Wyoming and Colorado and more was forecast for New York state where highway traffic struggled for the fourth successive day against fast forming drifts in the upstate region. It was only a few degrees above zero there.

Victory Disputed In Biggest Fight

(By The Associated Press)

The biggest and bloodiest battle of the young African war has just been fought in the rugged passes of northern Ethiopia, with thousands reported slain. Both Italy and Ethiopia claimed victory.

In Addis Ababa the government said Makale, advance point of the Italians in the north, had been encircled. Two fascist divisions sent to relieve Makale were wiped out, officials added.

The battle, a communique stated, "finally ended in victory for Ethiopia with two important Italian fronts taken."

In Rome, the opposite was claimed. An official communique said the fascists had smashed Ethiopian forces planning an attack upon the northern army.

The Ethiopian dead were placed at 5000 and Italy's at 743.

Stronger Defense Promised Oregon

ASTORIA, Ore., Jan. 25.—(AP)—Senator Frederick Steiwer said he was advised by Colonel H. T. Burgin, acting chief of the coast artillery, that Columbia river defenses will be strengthened in the near future.

The personnel at Fort Stevens was expected to be increased from 100 to 200 in the near future.

High on the priority list for west coast defense, Colonel Burgin wrote the senator, are orders which would dispatch to the fort of more railroad artillery, including both mortars and long range rifles; complete aircraft defense equipment, including batteries, machine guns and searchlights; and modernization of the mine laying system.

Meyer Has Only One Leg And That's Broken Now

SILVERTON, Jan. 25.—L. H. Meyer was taken to the Silverton hospital and placed in a cast this afternoon when a truck which he was cranking started, bumped into him and broke both bones in his leg below the knee. Mr. Meyer lost his own leg below the thigh in a wagon accident when he was 12 years old.

Mt. Vesuvius Scenes Striking

Those few intrepid spirits who have had the courage to penetrate to the interior of Vesuvius have been treated to an awe-inspiring sight. Dr. Antonio Longoria, Cleveland physician who made the trip, describes it as a bubbling inferno. Inside the crater, which is more than two miles across, a black mass of lava revolves like a huge mill wheel. The coolest spots on the crater floor are from 120 to 170 degrees Fahrenheit. One of the dangers to anyone who penetrates the crater interior comes from the sudden rains which turn into blinding steam when the water hits the hot lava, often blinding any person who might be within the crater.

Traglia Seeks Revenge on Portland Nemesis as Y. Boxers of Two Cities Clash on Amateur Card Wednesday

WHEN Webb Traglio, headliner middleweight, goes into the ring in the Salem Y. M. C. A.'s first amateur boxing card of the season Wednesday night, he will do so determined to turn the tables on the man who has administered two of the three knockouts Webb has suffered in four years of leather pushing, Gus Moore, Y physical director, announced last night.

Traglio will be matched against Jack Fruit, 155, outstanding Portland middleweight, who twice "took" Traglio by the technical kayo route. Fruit will be one of ten Portland boxing school fighters to be seen at Wednesday night's show.

Moore pointed out that Traglio had won 24 out of 30 ring battles, 19 by knockouts and five by the decision route. One of the knockout victories came in 12, another in 30 seconds. Webb has been training hard for his third bout with Fruit, Moore said.

The 38-round card will start at 8:30 p. m. in the Y gymnasium with Howard Maple refereeing and R. S. "Spec" Keene and Dr. R. Lee Wood serving as judges.

Other pairings in the top brackets of the card will bring Billy Burbank, Pacific northwest amateur champ in the 112-pound class, and Bob Quamme, clever Salem puncher, together. Peter Seltice, 135, the Salem Y star in footwork, will go in against Jerry Buckley, 135, while Champlain, 126, of Chemawa, will tangle with Ace Heintz. The four main events will be five-round affairs.

Clyde Quisenberry, the Portlanders' coach, has so far picked three of his men to compete in the six three-round opener bouts, as follows:

Jack Raudarmel, 90, Portland, vs. Clayton Vanderawarka, 90, Salem.

Frank Cerney, 139, Portland, vs. Daryl Donaldson, 135, Salem.

Dan Jarvis, 152, Portland, vs. Bill Caise, 155, Salem.

Opponents have yet to be named for Jim Daugherty, 126, Alvin Richardson, 118, and Cleveland, 126, of the Salem squad.

The Salem boxers are coached by Clyde Grewell, assisted by Webb Traglio.

AAA Substitute Hits More Snags

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Fresh attempts to construct a temporary AAA replacement program with subsidies for "economic" use of land today struck another wall of bi-partisan opposition that forecast further drastic revisions.

The Jones-Bankhead bill as modified by the agriculture department expanded rather than curtailed questioned powers sought for the secretary of agriculture under the original draft.

It was debated at a stormy closed session of the senate agriculture committee, and so loud was the cry of "unconstitutional" from the lips of both democrats and republicans that Chairman Smith (D-SC) deferred action until Secretary Wallace could appear Monday.

He will be asked for legal advice as to whether the redraft would stand up under the supreme court's AAA decision.

Senator Bankhead (D-Ala) cosponsor of the legislation, appeared to be virtually alone among committeemen in contending it was constitutional and feasible.

Glen Cunningham Boced For Action

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—(AP)—The mighty Glen Cunningham, the world's fastest miler, was roundly booed tonight when he pulled wide on the last turn and blocked the furious closing spurt of Joe Mangan, former Cornell intercollegiate champion. Cunningham blamed it on a turned ankle.

This mishap forced Mangan to trail the Kansas record-holder by less than six inches when he broke the tape in the K of C mile, feature of the Prout Memorial meet at the Boston Garden.

Cunningham, timed in 4:17.7 for his first mile start indoor season, heard the angry roars of many in the 10,000 crowd as he finished in front of this classic's small field for the second straight year.

Bruna Boner

3 cups small reddish brown beans
1 slice salt pork
½ cup dark syrup
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons potato flour

Soak beans overnight. Boil together with pork from 4 to 5 hours adding more water as needed. When well done, remove the pork and season with other ingredients. Stir potato flour smooth in a little cold water and add to beans and cook about 5 minutes. There should be quite a bit of liquid when flour is added. No true Scandinavian would think of eating his brown beans without the accompaniment of crisp fried salt pork, potatoes, boiled in their jackets, and brown bread. The story is told that Greta Garbo once invited her director to just such a dinner.

Formation Flying At Night Opposed

HONOLULU, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Unofficial sources today turned the spotlight on night formation flying as army authorities inviseigated the spectacular air collision which cost six lives and two big fighting planes here last night.

Aviators who refused to be quoted directly said night formation flights, familiar to Honolulu residents, probably were the most unpopular of any sort with military fliers.

The informants asserted officers and men often returned from night flights in high tension. They said also the planes usually employed were noted for their slowness and "laziness".
