Late Rally in Stocks Fails to Keep Losses From Records

Volume Bond Selling Great

Securities Turnover in All Reaches 35 Million; Most Since '20

NEW YORK, March 12—(AP)—Late recoveries helped to prop a wavering stock market today although declines of fractions to 3 or more points were in the majority at the close.

Trading forces were sobered, however, by the heaviest selling of U. S. government securities in many years. The downfall in the federal list was attributed largely to adjustments of bank portfolios to meet increased reserved requirements and to liquidations for income tax funds.

Bond Turnover Heavy

There was a turnover of nearly $35,000,000 in all bonds of which governments accounted for more than $23,000,000. It was the greatest volume of both government and corporates since 1920.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .4 of a point at 74.1. Transfers totaled 2,289,840 shares compared with 2,734,160 yesterday.

The weekend survey of Dun & Bradstreet was impressed with expanding retail spending, but store issues did little. Steel scrap at Pittsburgh was lifted another $1 a ton to the highest mark since 1923.

"Big Steel" Gains

U. S. Steel was given a late run-up and ended with a net gain of 1⅞ at 124.

Stocks on the declining end included American Can at 111⅝, Anaconda 67¼, Kennecott 66¾, J. C. Case 159½ and Standard Oil of N. J. 73¾.

8 Cars of Lumber Bought at Stayton

STAYTON, March 12 — With building activity already under way, sawmill owners in this district are also feeling the effects of spring construction operations.

This week the Wheeler Lumber, Bridge and Supply company, with headquarters in Des Moines, Iowa, and Minneapolis, through their Portland representative, John J. Hopp, purchased eight carloads of dimension fir lumber. This shipment is destined for middle west points and the orders were placed with Van Handel Bros., mill, Minden Bros. mill, Etzel and Frank mill, Sim Etzel mill, and the new Mill City mill.

Operations of several mills in the Silver Creek Falls area report their plants still buried under from two to three feet of snow. Several mills now in operation report a 30 per cent pay increase this week, indicating business is good in the lumber industry.

Boston Wool

BOSTON, March 12—(AP)—(USDA)—Spot domestic wools were mostly quiet today but buyers showed more interest in offerings.

Wheat Prices Fall 2¼ Cents

Chicago Cash Corn Market Down 1 to 4 Points; Rye Down Too

CHICAGO, March 12—(AP)—Pulled down by reports of rain, sleet and snow in Kansas and Nebraska, wheat prices fell 2⅛ cents a bushel maximum today.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were 1⅛-1⅞ under yesterday's finish, May $1.35⅝-⅞, July 1.18⅞-1.19, Sept. $1.16⅞-1.17, corn ⅝-2⅛ down, May $1.07⅞, July 1.03⅞, Sept. 98⅝, oats ⅝ to 1 cent off, May 46⅞-47, and rye showing ⅝-1⅛ setback. Provisions results varied from 17 cents decline to 5 cents advance.

Cash Corn Is Lower

The Chicago cash corn market was finally quoted today as 1 cent to 4 cents a bushel lower. Larger receipts, totaling 379,000 bushels at primary markets, were apparently too much for the demand. Rye and oats gave way with wheat and corn.

Provisions averaged lower, influenced by grains despite hog market upturns.

Additional Time On Hay Shipment

Eastern Oregon hay growers will have an additional month in which to ship alfalfa within the state from the weevil-quarantine areas, the state department of agriculture announced yesterday.

The time for such shipments was extended from March 15 to April 15. Shipments have been permitted now for nearly a month under varied conditions, the department stated.

Before shipping farmers must remove two feet of hay from the top of the stacks and must rake the sides as well as eliminate any discolored hay. The order applies to intra-state shipments only.

The special shipping permit was issued following a protest meeting here last winter when representative growers declared they were losing money because of the quarantine. They stated at that time the weevil was not as prevalent as reports indicated.

Oats and Vetch Fields Must Be Replanted at Pratum; Flowers Lost

PRATUM, March 12 — Some reseeding is being done here, but clover and wheat came through the winter in pretty good shape. Gray oats and vetch probably suffered worse. Many garden flowers such as carnations and chrysanthemums are especially damaged, also dahlias and gladiolus that were left in the ground are frozen.

Wallace, Kester Farms Have Best Showing of Crop

DALLAS, March 12 — It is interesting to note where the crops begin growth the earliest each spring. This year, County Agent Leth believes there are two farms in Polk county that are considerably ahead of all others.

For cover crop, probably none excells that found on the Paul Wallace farm near Brush College. The cover crop is very thick and about six inches in height.

Ralph Kester has the outstanding pasture for this season of the year. His 49-acre irrigated field of ladino clover is practically ready for pasturing. Nearly every irrigated pasture that received water late in the summer and fall is showing direct results now.

Mr. Kester is confident that late irrigation will materially increase the amount of feed he will secure this year. He began irrigation last spring earlier than most people. His success with ladino clover proves that insufficient irrigation is false economy.

Crops in general are appearing much better each week, according to W. C. Leth, and in some sections reseeding will not be general as was anticipated a week or two ago.

Marketing Receipts For Farm Products Increase 24 Per Cent, January

PORTLAND, March 12—(AP)—Marketing receipts for principal farm products in the west last January jumped 24 per cent above the corresponding period a year ago, the U. S. bureau of agricultural economics said today. The bureau traced the increase in Oregon and Washington chiefly to the apple and potato output.

Oregon crop receipts for January, 1936 totaled $944,000, compared with $1,496,000 this year. Livestock and livestock products receipts were $3,070,000 in January last year against $3,350,000 this year.

9 Cents Paid, Blackcap Pool

Jory Company of Salem and Spencer of Lebanon High Bidders

LEBANON, March 12—The Jory Canning company of Salem and C. B. Spencer of Lebanon were the successful bidders for the Lacomb blackcap berry crop, paying 9 cents a pound for the large acreage set to this fruit. Ground is being prepared for the setting of a large acreage of strawberries, gooseberries, red raspberries and blackcaps this year.

Clarence Miller of Lacomb was called Wednesday to the children's farm home near Corvallis by the critical illness of his eight-year-old daughter, Dorothy, who is suffering from acute Brights' disease. She has been removed to the Corvallis general hospital.

Following an address of welcome by Mayor J. C. Booth, problems of feeding, marketing, and financing will be discussed by leaders in this unit of poultry production. Turkey growers will be guests of the Lebanon commercial club at a noon dinner.

Williams' Farm Sold

The Jerome Williams farm at Knox Butte, west of Lebanon, has been sold to James Rina and family, recent comers from North Dakota which Mr. Rina says has suffered drought for 11 years and that last winter the temperature ranged from 25 to 45 degrees below zero for weeks. Mr. Rina and family just left their farm, the improvements of which had cost them many thousands of dollars, because the climate became so extreme they could not live in comfort.

Mrs. F. A. McKinney, who spent a week in the hospital following an operation on her foot, has returned home but will not walk alone for some time.

Mrs. J. L. Porter, who was removed from the church very ill Sunday, is making a slow recovery.

Shelburn Berries Sold For 7½ Cents

SHELBURN, March 12—The strawberry growers of this section have contracted the 1937 crop for 7½ cents to the California Packing Corporation.

The many friends of Sam Bass and Mrs. Stephenson are offering them congratulations on their recent marriage in Vancouver. They are now at the farm home east of Shelburn where they were greeted by a charivari party Friday night. The serenaders did not stop with good wishes at the Bass home but continued on to the two other recently married couple of the neighborhood, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Quinn and Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Berry.

Mrs. Amanda Plummer suffered a paralytic stroke at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Cole, in Turner. Her condition is grave.
