LONDON, May 12-The War Secretary Mr. Brodrick, in the House of Commons today, moved his army scheme, providing for six corps with 50,000 militia as a re-serve, and increasing the yeomanry from 12,000 to 25,000 men. The Liberal leader. Sir Henry Campbell-Banerman, moved as an amendment that while desiring to improve the efficiency of the army, the proposals largely increased the existing burdens without adding substantially to the military strength of Great Britain. The galleries of the House were trowded, many peers being present, in-cluding Eari Roberts, the Dirke of Marl-orrough and the Marquis of Lansdowne, as well as many peeresses and wives of the members of the House. The discus-sion was regarded as disappointing, and Mr. Brodick's proposals apparently failed to excite enthusiasm.

"As matters stand for Europe today, the struggle for existence demands that the exceptional position of the United States be abolished. The United States States be abolished. "The United States is a most dangerous competitor for Germany, and especially in iron manufac-tures and hardware. Germany's tariff policy must be arranged accordingly. An understanding with Russia offers ways and means to compel the United States to adapt itself to Europe's tariff system, by which German agriculture will by no means suffer disadvantage."
