Sport Sparks

By RON GEMMELL

Belated shot: Happy New Year to you-all. . . Didn't breeze back quite soon enough to slip you an HNY as little '41 dropkicked old '40 down the alley, so hope this tardy one will suffice. . . . Perhaps we can keep the chubby cherub happy back here in the sports section even though the firing continues to be fatal up front.

Front page potentates have an easy time of predicting the new year . . . All they have to say, with thumbs cocked at Bitler, Mussolini, Stalin and whoever is currently running the Japanese scrap iron pile, is: "War" . . . 'Tain't so simple back here.

Cinches (and I do mean cinches) for the new year include a Stanford victory over Nebraska in the Rose Bowl, a Boston college victory over Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl, a Texas Aggie victory over Fordham in the Cotton Bowl, a Mississippi State victory over Georgetown in the Orange Bowl, a Fresno State victory over Hawaii in the Pineapple Bowl, a west victory over the east in the Shrine Bowl and a north victory over the south in the Civil War Bowl . . . Beyond that, we're on our own.

New Tunes Brewing.

Some of the sports songs this corner believes to have a good chance of getting sung during the year (barring a barring by ASCAP) include: A second successive northern division hoop crown for Oregon State, a Northwest conference basketball pennant for Happy Howard Maple's Willamette maplemen . . . and not one loss for one Joseph Louis.

Plus: A third successive state high school basketball title for H. Hauk's Viks of Salem high, a second successive Northwest conference grid championship for Roy Servais Keene's 'Cats . . . and mighty few pars for one R. Gemmell.

Plus: A second successive Coast conference football championship for Stanford's T-troopers, a return to American league power by the Yankees, a continued domination of the National circuit by the Cincinnatis . . . and the usual asinine grunts from the AAU . . . Plus: A first division finish by the Salem Senators, the rise of Lou Nova as the biggest threat to Louis . . . and the never to be ducked barrages of bilge directed at the collegiate variety of professional football.

Viks Loom Tough.

Among longshots to keep a glimmer upon, methinks, are the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National, the Cleveland Indians in the American, the Oregon football team in the Coast conference, the Yakima Pippins in the WI, Billy "No Goose" Soose in the middleweight muddle and an Oregon-bred nag named Mioland for money honors on the nation's whirligigs . . . And also: The price of ham and eggs.

Reason for naming Oregon State to probably repeat in the northern division: Saw the Bevos bop Nebraska, and upon that night, at least, they looked better than did the titular 1940 quint at any time I saw it . . . And why a possible third straight championship for our Viks? Because, amigos, not only does this year's edition look tougher than did either the titular '39 or '40 teams at the same stage, but also the Viks again drew about as soft a tournament route as could be drawn.

So far the Viks, who take on the Grizzlies of McMinnville in a No Name bill here tonight, have averaged 47 points per game in defeating three opponents who averaged but 19¾ counters . . . Eddie Salstrom, the sureshot reserve of last season, has tossed in 50 points—lacking but nine of equaling the aggregate score of the three opponents.

Future Book Bets.

While it's a long, long road yet, and while anything of course can happen, a good future book bet would be that the Viks and Flying Finns of Astoria will meet in the finals of the state hoopree next March . . . The Astorians, with whom the Viks have a double date at Astoria this weekend, have won nine or ten straight so far . . . On paper they're the hottest prep outfit in the state right now, and probably will belt the Salem kids two straight this week . . . Next March it may be a different story.

Add to that future book bet: (1) That Salem will meet Ashland in the semi-final of the upper eight-team bracket of the state show and, (2) that Astoria will meet Baker in the lower eight-team bracket semi-final . . . Ashland, under Jerry "The Mule" Gastineau, rates along with Astoria and Salem as one of the top teams of the state at this writing.

On his way toward becoming one of the best all-around hoopers ever to wear the red-and-black of Salem high is Bud Coons, sturdy-stemmed younger brother of Don, who did a few football chores for Oregon State in a plenty sweet manner . . . Bud, a junior this year and the only remaining regular from last year's championship club, is fast adding scoring punch to the beautiful defensive play he exhibited last season.

Entertain Chemawa Quint in League Game; Meet U of O Frosh

DALLAS—Two games are on tap for the Dragons this week. Tuesday they take on the Chemawa Indians on the Dallas floor in the interests of district 11 league competition. Saturday afternoon they will take the floor at Eugene for a brush with the strong U of O Frosh team.

Tuesday night's game will be the first in league competition for the Dragons. Their luck has been compeltely out in four pre-season games as they have lost to the OCE freshman twice, 37-20 and 26-24, to Albany 30-20 and to the First Baptist team of Salem 39-33.

McMorris Is Out

Coach Hagan ran into more trouble Friday last when McMorris, a likely regular, was sent home from school suffering from the flu.

The probable starting lineup against Chemawa will be Boydston and Dunn, forwards, Kroeker, center and Richardson and Blackley guards.

Reserves include Woods, Abel, Jim Boydston, Hartman and Hiebert. B teams from both schools will play in a preliminary Tuesday.

The Vik hoopers of Salem high, undefeated in three starts and already a marked club in state prep play, meet the McMinnville Grizzlies in the second No Name league clash for each at 8 o'clock tonight at the Vik villa.

Coach Tommy Drynan's Jayvee quint plays the McMinnville Bees in a 6:45 preliminary.

In three games thus far, a No Name clash with Corvallis and two out-of-the-league games with Marshfield, Coach Harold Hauk's team has tripped hemp for a total of 141 points while holding opponents to a total of 59. The Vik average is 47 counters per clash.

Salstrom Top Tosser

Heading the Salem basket barrage is Eddie Salstrom, who has tanked an even 50 points in three games. Chief defensive gun is Bud Coons, husky guard who is also finding the range for his share of the points.

Bob Irish, 6-foot-4 youngster who worked with the Jayvees last season, has shown continued improvement and has almost cinched the pivot job.

Lithe Don Bower, also a Jayvee of a year ago, so far has received the starting call as Coons' running mate at the guards, while little Don Bowersox, a firebrand, quick shooting towhead, and Dutch Simmons, the fastest youngster on the squad, are currently fighting it out at the other forward slot.

Tonight's engagement is the last one at home for the Viks before they meet the challenge of the undefeated Astoria Fishermen at Astoria this Friday and Saturday nights.

Johnny Bulla Bags Los Angeles Open

By ROBERT MYERS

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6—(AP)—Johnny Bulla, a North Carolina boy who made good in the big city of Chicago, came from behind today and won his first tournament in four years of major competition—the $10,000 Los Angeles open.

The former Greensboro shotmaker blasted out a sub par round of 69, two under for the 7000-yard Riviera country club course, overhauled long-hitting Jimmy Thomson and outdistanced the rest of the field to post a 72-hole score of 71-66-75-69—281.

The victory, worth $3500 in cash to the 26-year-old Bulla, was cheered to the echo by a crowd of patrons who had installed him as the popular favorite after a two-stroke penalty for playing the wrong ball had set him behind Thomson in yesterday's third round of play.

Wood Is Second

Craig Wood, the big blond from Mamaroneck, NY, sneaked into second place and $1700 of the rich purse with a 68 today for 283, while the pace-setting Thomson faded with a 74 for 285—one stroke back of Clayton Haefner of Linville, NC, who had a 70, and Benny Hogan, White Plains, NY, who also had a 70.

Bulla, the "poor man's golfer"—he uses golf balls that cost 35 cents—went into the last round trailing Thomson by one stroke. Still irked by that two-stroke penalty imposed for playing McSpaden's ball yesterday, he toured the first nine holes in 34, one under, and clipped another stroke off par for 35 on the way home.

Thomson, Goggin Tie

Thomson needed 36 blows to get around the first nine, and six blows to get untrapped and down on the tenth. His game became uncertain as the weather, which turned from sunshine to rain and back to sunshine from noon on to dusk.

Willie Goggin of Miami, Fla., finished in a tie with Thomson, while another perennial gallery favorite, Horton Smith, of Oak Park, Ill., turned on the heat with his putter and posted a 69 for a 286.

Norbert Purchased By Portland Bevos

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Ted Norbert, the San Francisco Seals slugging outfielder who winters at New Freshwater Pond Road, NY, doesn't know it yet but he switched baseball jobs today. His sale at the Pacific Coast league waiver price of $3500 to Portland was announced by Frank "Lefty" O'Doul, Seals manager.

Norbert, chief power hitter of the Seals, joined the club in 1935 in the deal that sent Joe DiMaggio to the Yankees. He was sold to make room for Don White, youngster purchased from Tacoma of the WI league and from whom much is expected.

A righthander, Norbert led the Seals in runs batted in for three years and in home runs the last five seasons. His slugging ability is expected to fit in nicely with Portland's short left field.

'Cats Shift Date With Rubenstein's

Willamette U's hoop engagement with Rubenstein's Oregonians of Eugene has been shifted from Wednesday to Friday of this week, Coach Happy Howard Maple announced yesterday.

The 'Cats, who have lost their last five starts to such tough opposition as Montana U, Idaho Southern, Oregon State and Oregon, began preparations yesterday to meet the challenge of the star-studded Oregonians' lineup.

Included on the Oregonians' squad are such ex-college stars as Bobby Anet, Wally Johansen, Matt Pavalunas and John Dick, former members of the University of Oregon's national collegiate squad, and Jack Butterworth, former Oregon College of Education and George Washington university hooper.

Sportsmen Slate Year's 1st Meet

Hunters & Anglers to Hold Session Night Prior to Banquet

Salem sportsmen—members of the Salem Hunters and Anglers clubs and guests—get their feet under the table Thursday night in the Marion hotel for the club's annual banquet.

The banquet, which is scheduled for 6:30 p. m., is to be attended by Governor Charles A. Sprague, Secretary of State Earl Snell, State Treasurer Leslie Scott and members of the state game commission.

Speakers include Frank B. Wire, supervisor for the state game commission; Stanley Jewett, regional biologist of the US fish and wildlife service; and Dr. Milleson, president of the Multnomah Isaak Walton league.

Prior to Thursday night's banquet, the Hunters and Anglers club will hold its first 1941 regular session in the club quarters Wednesday night, beginning at 8 o'clock. The Willamette pollution picture, filmed by W. J. Smith, will be shown, according to the announcement of Verne E. Robb, club secretary.

Burned Grid Star Improves, Report

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 6—(AP)—David Allerdice, jr., 22, Princeton university football star, was reported "in good condition" and "improving nicely" tonight at Methodist hospital where he and his 53-year-old father are under treatment for burns suffered early yesterday in a fire which took the lives of Mrs. Allerdice, sr., and her youngest son.

The father, who captained the University of Michigan football team in 1909, was still in a serious condition, attendants said.

Mrs. Cornelia Keasbey Allerdice, 43, and Anthony Allerdice, 7, were suffocated in the blaze which swept their second-floor apartment.

City Hoop League Tilts Are Shifted to Leslie

The City-Y major and minor league games have been changed from Parrish to Leslie junior high school court beginning tonight, Carl Greider said yesterday. Tonight's games will be at 7 o'clock, Hollywood vs. Bear Cubs; at 8, Craigs vs. First National bank; at 9, Kelly-Farquhar vs. Postoffice.

Sales, Trades Pending Upon Trio of Senators

Helser, Brewer, Wilson May Move up to Coast Loop, Said

Outright sale of Pitcher Roy Helser, sale of Pitcher Bud Brewer on a "look" agreement and trade of Outfielder Eddie Wilson in deals with unnamed Pacific Coast league clubs—all subject to approval of Manager Bunny Griffiths—were announced here yesterday by Howard Maple, business manager of the Salem Senators, immediately upon his return from the Western International league meeting held at Spokane over last weekend.

"Closure of the deals," said Maple, "is pending authorization from Manager Bunny Griffiths. If Griffiths, whom I have written for approval, sanctions them I'm certain they will go through."

Seeks Pitcher, Catcher

Maple also revealed he is negotiating with the Portland Beavers, who have made it known to him that they would be willing to help the Salem club. Such assistance, said Maple, would come only if Skipper Griffiths desired it. Maple indicated it might be possible to obtain a pitcher and a catcher in a player trade with the Beavers.

Wilson, who was with Portland in 1939, hit .338 in his 119-game stand with the Solons last season. Although heading the batting order for most of the season, he batted home 67 runs. He made 282 catches in his centerfield position, fourth highest number in the league.

20-Game Winner

Brewer was one of the two 20-game winners the WI produced last season. He lost 10 for a .667 percentage. He also won two out-of-the-league starts, including a decision over the Portland Beavers.

Helser finished the season with 16 wins and 10 losses. His earned run average was 4.03, less than that of either Brewer or George Windsor, the two 20-game winners.

"Wenatchee is certain to remain in the league," reported Maple. "The Chiefs lacked but little of having their financial affairs in the shape desired by the league, and assured the league those afairs would be completely straightened out by January 9—the deadline set by the league."

The league opens May 1 in the eastern half—at Tacoma, Yakima and Spokane. Salem's home opener is tentatively set for sometime during the week of May 5 to 10.

'Mural League Sets Opening

Juniors Begin 6-Team Loop Thursday; Each Outfit Plays 15 Games

Start of the seventh annual City Intramural league basketball race is scheduled for Thursday of this week, it was announced yesterday by Director of Athletics Vern Gilmore, with the sophomore Greens tangling with the sophomore Yankees.

The six-team loop will play three complete rounds, 15 games for each team. The season is scheduled to finish February 28.

Early dope rates the Parrish Pioneers, under the veteran Frank Brown, as the team to beat. At Leslie, Coach Gurnee Flesher lost his entire titular team of last season and prospects thus far are none too bright.

WU Supplies Mentors

The sophomore teams will be coached by Willamette university physical education students, including Paul Cookingham, Orville Ragsdale, Gil Leiser and Bill Whittmore.

Harmon Grounded By Bad Weather

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 6—(AP)—Tom Harmon, University of Michigan's all-America halfback, finally made it out of Salt Lake City by airplane today, but there appeared little chance he could reach Washington tonight for a banquet planned mainly in his honor.

Three thousand persons were scheduled to attend that banquet, at which Harmon was to be presented the Walter A. Camp Memorial award, and Tom was more than a bit perturbed as he paced the municipal airport here wondering when the weather would clear sufficiently to allow his airliner to depart.

"Whew," he said. "There's going to be the dickens to pay, and I'm it."

Marble Is Winner In Her Pro Debut

NEW YORK, Jan. 6—(AP)—"Queen Alice" Marble bowed into professional tennis tonight by easily conquering Mary Hardwick, the English champion, 8-6, 8-6, before a good-sized crowd in Madison Square Garden.

Making the first appearance in a tour which will take her to more than 50 cities in the United States, Cuba, Canada and the Bahamas—and will net her at least $25,000—The blonde Californian got off to a ragged start, but went on without too much trouble.

Miss Hardwick, who had been defeated six times by Miss Marble in amateur tennis, fought doggedly to the finish, but just didn't have enough to do any more. She held a 4-0 lead in the first set, and staved off match point three times in the second before bowing out.

McCormack to Stay With Spokane Club

SPOKANE, Jan. 6—(AP)—Monty Montgomery, business manager of the Spokane Indians, said tonight that Levi McCormack, popular Indian left fielder, would play with the Western International league team again in 1941.

After the last season, Montgomery said he thought McCormack was good enough for a higher league, but he added today that offers were not sufficiently high and that Levi would be held in Spokane.

The announcement said Dempsey would "write on timely sports topics and will supervise other sports stories for the magazine."

Air Program Set For Donkey Games

Bartlett to Broadcast Today; Three Night Stand Slated

Judge Jack Bartlett, star of radio and movies, will be heard over KSLM from 5 to 5:15 p.m. today in the interest of the donkey basketball games slated to take place at the Salem armory Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of this week as benefit performances for the infantile paralysis fund.

This was the announcement yesterday from Charles W. Crary, president of the Salem Trades and Labor council, the organization sponsoring the games.

Bartlett will bring a string of 15 donkeys for the three-night benefit stand. Profits will be credited to Salem's contribution to the paralysis fund as a supplement to the annual President's birthday ball.

Bartlett's show consists of a two-hour program of stunts, donkeyback basketball, musical chairs, trick acts and polo, an Indian game resembling polo.

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Jan. 4—(Special)—The Oregon State basketball team made final preparations today to open defense of their northern division, Pacific Coast conference championship against the Washington State Cougars here Tuesday night.

Coach Slats Gill was certain of but two starters—both holdovers from the 1940 titular team. They are Paul Valenti, sparkplug guard, and Center John Mandic.

The other three starters, said Gill, will be selected from George McNutt, Jack Mulder and Sam Dement, forwards, and Don Durdan, Clayton Shaw and Don Stitt, guards.

The Staters will be giving away a height advantage to the Cougars, especially in the center slot where 6-foot-7 Paul Lindemann, key man of the WSC attack, holds forth.

PULLMAN, Jan. 6—(AP)—With a record of only one game lost so far this winter, the Washington State college basketball team left tonight for Corvallis, Ore., to open the Pacific Coast conference season tomorrow against the defending champions of Oregon State.

The Cougars will play two games at Corvallis and then move over to Eugene to meet the University of Oregon in a pair of tussles Friday and Saturday nights.

Last year, WSC and the two Oregon teams split both four-game series.

The only pre-conference game the Cougars dropped this winter was an early season match to Eastern Washington college, 37-30. Last week in a return game, WSC won, 73-39.
