Scale Tests Scheduled By Department

For the official testing of all scales used in hop yards, bean fields and similar harvests where payment is made to the picker on the basis of weight, the weights and measures division of the state department of agriculture will set one or two-day testing stands in several parts of the Willamette valley.

The schedule for checking scales is as follows.

Tuesday, July 18, for bean growers of the California Packing company plant at Eugene, at the plant in Eugene from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m.

Wednesday, July 19, also in Eugene at the plant of the Eugene Fruit Growers association; hours from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m.

Thursday and Friday, July 20 and 21, for all growers of Salem and surrounding areas, at the department's headquarters on 12th street in Salem.

Tuesday morning, July 25, at fire association offices in Donald, 9 to 11 o'clock.

Tuesday afternoon, July 25, at bank building in St. Paul, 1 to 3 o'clock.

Wednesday morning, July 26, Schwab warehouse in Mt. Angel, 9 to 11 a. m.

Wednesday afternoon, July 26, Valley Feed Store (formerly Conrad's) in Silverton from 1 to 3 p. m.

This schedule has been arranged as an accommodation to growers. The service is without cost to scale owners and is in line with provisions of the state laws relating to weights and measures.

Middlemen Buy Wheat

CHICAGO, July 15 —(AP)— It was a commission house trade in the wheat market today with some of the large firms buying the nearby futures, apparently for commercial interests. Hedging pressure was relatively light and the volume of trade was small.

A scattered demand for July oats apparently resulted from the belief that the July contract would not be affected by any change in ceiling prices.

Rye, after starting lower, recovered the loss and the deferred months were strong at the close.

Wheat closed ⅛ to 1⅛ higher than yesterday's finish, July $1.58¼-⅛. Oats were up ⅛ to ¾, July 78¼. Rye was unchanged to ¾ higher, July $1.13¼. Barley was ⅛ to ⅝ higher, July $1.27⅛.

Stock Shares Just Hold Own

NEW YORK, July 15 —(AP)— Stocks just about held their own in today's brief market after a week of indeterminate shuffling which put many favorites in the new high division and lowered quotations for numerous leaders.

Important development of the week was the president's disclosure that he would accept a fourth term. Markets, though, were little affected owing to the fact the announcement was in line with expectations. Some early liquidation was blamed on the Washington reconversion dispute but a subsequent compromise here failed to spur purchasers.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was unchanged at 56.3 and on the week was down only .1 of a point. Transfers of 420,640 shares compared with 855,360 last Saturday.

Malheur Labor Shortage Threatens Grain Harvest

VALE, July 15—(AP)—Shortage of help may result in grain and fodder crops being unharvested, Malheur county growers said today. Val Decker, Westfall, said he was able to hire only one worker to help harvest 1500 tons of hay and 200 acres of grain.

Allies Arrest Fascist Radio Broadcasters

ROME, July 15 —(AP)— George Nelson Page, former chief of the board of the fascist ministry of popular culture, has been arrested for questioning by allied authorities.

Page, member of a distinguished Virginia family, was born in France and has lived most of his life in Europe. He was an American citizen until the Ethiopian war, when he renounced his allegiance and became an Italian subject.

He was then seen about Rome wearing a fascist blackshirt uniform. He changed his first name to "Giorgio" and pronounced his last name the Italian way, "Pay-jay."

During the war he supervised English language propaganda broadcasts, including those to American troops in Italy.

Several others who broadcast fascist propaganda in English also are under arrest, including Prince Sandro Tasca Di Cuto, and the Prince of San Faustina, the husband of the former Mrs. Lydia Macy of New York.

The main reason they are being questioned, it was learned, is not the taunts they made about Americans over the air, but the messages which may have been intended for enemy agents.

Little Trade In Feed Grain

The market situation on feed grains at Portland was featured by continued light trading during the week ended July 13, according to reports to the war food administration. Offerings of both oats and barley were reported as negligible and reflected light remaining supplies of both of these grains in Pacific northwestern producing districts. Although some new crop barley has been harvested, trade reports indicate little or none has reached terminal markets.

The weather bureau summary of weather and crop conditions for Oregon for the week ended July 11, states that winter grain is ripening satisfactorily in most of the producing districts and some has been harvested along and near the mid-Columbia area. Harvest will be general in middle Columbia counties in a few days. Spring grain needs rain in most places. Growth of corn has been retarded by cool nights. Pastures are drying in western counties but show considerable improvement from June rains in many eastern localities.

The Portland barley market was very quiet during the period. There were no quotations posted on the exchange for the last two days of the week. However, on Tuesday, bid prices of $48.00 per ton were posted for No. 2 western barley, bulk, weighing 45 pounds per bushel, 15-day shipment, for coast delivery.

The oats market at Portland also showed but little activity which was reflected in receipts of only 5 cars at this market and 11 cars at Seattle for the week. Trade reports continued to indicate very scant offerings from the country which was said to reflect small supplies remaining in producing districts. There were no bid prices posted on the exchange at Portland for the past two days but on Tuesday, bid prices on No. 2 white oats weighing 38 pounds per bushel, in bulk, 15-day shipment, coast delivery, were on the basis of $50.00 per ton. Generally, the trade apeared to be marking time, pending announcement of the new ceiling price regulations expected within the next few days.

Moisture Lack Curtails Blue Mountain Pea Pack

PENDLETON, July 15—(AP)— Lack of moisture will curtail the Blue Mountain district pea pack 25 per cent this season, Umatilla county cannery officials predicted today.

The 1943 output was 6,000,000 cases. Lack of moisture during the growing season made it necessary to cut younger peas, causing the reduction. Canneries are expected to finish their runs about July 28.

The 350 Mexicans employed in the county during the harvest will be available for other work between pea harvest and the start of prune harvest about August 20.

Rogue River Pear Crop to Be Heavy

MEDFORD, Ore., July 15—(AP)— The Rogue river valley pear crop will be considerably larger than last year, growers predicted today. Bosos will be one of the heaviest crops, with good yields indicated in Bartletts, Winter Nelis and Comice.

The pears are developing rapidly and harvesting will start about August 15.

Harvesting of the barley and oat crop is nearly completed in this area, with good yields reported by County Agent Robert G. Fowler. Threshing of early wheat will start next week.

Five Acre Patch Of Strawberries Yields 5 Tons

SILVERTON HILLS—Mr. and Mrs. Lawson O. Hadley, their friends claim, hold some sort of record when it comes to strawberry harvesting.

On a five-acre strawberry patch the Hadleys have completed the harvest of 18 tons of fruit.

The Hadleys attribute the big crop to the fact that the berries were planted on ground where there formerly had been alfalfa. The alfalfa was ploughed under and the ground heavily limed before the berries were set out. The plating was done two years ago, and this is the first crop taken from the patch. The plants are of good size and the patch is exceptionally free of weeds.
