Drunk Driving Charges Net Heavy Fines

A total of $500 in fines was meted out in Marion county district court Monday to two men charged separately with driving while intoxicated.

David Elmer Carter, Mill City, and Jefferson Stanley Turenne Ogg, Portland, both pleaded guilty to the charges and were fined $250 each. Carter was arrested at Mehama by state police Saturday and Ogg by state police in Salem last week. Both men were given 30-day suspended jail sentences.

Norman O. Tokstad, 18, Silverton, was fined $100 by District Judge Joseph Felton after Tokstad pleaded guilty to a charge of malicious destruction of personal property. Tokstad, and a 17-year-old boy, also of Silverton, were charged with destroying the mail box of A. E. Hale near Silverton last week.

Road Program Drop Indicated For Next Year

Preliminary estimates indicated a slight drop in Marion county's oiled road program next year in comparison with the one just completed, Marion county court membrs have indicated.

A general estimate pointed to a maximum of about 20 miles to be oiled next summer. A record 29.39 miles were oiled this year.

Main reason for the cut will be additional expenditures needed to replace war-neglected roadways, ditching, bridges, culverts, grading and brush cutting. Bridges to be rebuilt or replaced include those at the base of Hubbard hill on the Salem-Wheatland road, on Lardon road east of Middle Grove, the Dunagan bridge over the Abiqua east of Silverton, Pudding river bridge at McKee and the Santiam river span at Stayton.
