Scribes Like Red Sox, Braves

NEW YORK, April 18—(AP)—The 1949 world series will be an all-Boston affair in the opinion of the nation's major league baseball writers.

In an annual pre-season poll conducted by the Associated Press, 70 out of 120 scribes picked the Red Sox to dethrone the Cleveland Indians in the American league. The world champions drew only 42 first place votes and trail Joe McCarthy's men in total points, 873 to 902.

The defending champions Braves of the National league drew fewer first place ballots than Brooklyn - - 44 to 52 - - but piled up enough seconds and thirds to nose out the Dodgers, 938 to 832 points.

In all, six National league teams drew top mention from the scribes.

Third place went to the Pittsburgh Pirates, who received 12 firsts. The St. Louis Cardinals, with seven first place ballots, placed fourth. Only other National league club to receive first place consideration was the New York Giants, who wound up fifth ahead of Philadelphia, Chicago and Cincinnati. The Reds were almost a solid cellar choice with 93 nominations for the bottom rung.

Only two American league clubs besides Boston and Cleveland were flattered by first place nomination. The New York Yankees, despite the absence of Joe Dimaggio from the lineup, were picked to win the flag by five experts. They ranked third with 666 points. Right on their heels were the Philadelphia Athletics, who received three first place ballots and 632 points. Detroit headed the second division, followed by St. Louis, Washington and Chicago.

Locke Tops 'Stran' In Cavalier Playoff

By Robert Moore

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va., April 18—(AP)—Bobby Locke of Johannesburg, South Africa, kept a promise today

The muffin-faced professional had vowed a week ago that "my golf game will come around again soon."

Cops Cavalier Laurels

"Soon" turned out to be today. Locke took advantage of amateur Frank Stranahan's wildness and his poor putting to beat the strong man from Toledo, Ohio, by two strokes in their 18-hole playoff for the Cavalier Specialists golf tournament.

Locke, the most consistent of the 20 top-drawer professionals to play in the Specialists tourney, toured the par 69, 6,065-yard Cavalier Country club course in 68. He played the front side in even par 35 and scored a one-under-par 33 coming back.

Stranahan, meantime, was out in 34 and back in 36 for a one-over-par 70.

The victory was little more than an honor for Locke. He already had pocketed the $1,500 top money by posting the low professional score yesterday.

Stranahan's downfall came on the par four, 392-yard fourteenth hole. He took a six. Frank's first tee shot landed out of bounds to the right. He sent a second down the fairway but could barely make the green with a five-iron shot. Then he laid a first putt to within 30 inches of the hole but couldn't get the next one to drop.

Locke, meanwhile, was on the velvet in two and holed out with two putts for a par four.

Major League Season Opens

A skimpy 9,195 crowd saw Lefty Ken Heintzleman Ruin Boston's first National league flag raising in 34 years by pitching the Phils to a shutout triumph over the Braves in wind-swept Braves field.

To make matters worse for the Tribesmen, Johnny Sain, their 24-game winning ace of last year, was the victim of Heintzelman's airtight pitching. It was only the fourth time the Phils had taken the measure of Boston's star right-hander, who owns 12 decisions over them.

A near capacity crowd of 26,000, including President Harry S. Truman saw the Senators snatch victory from defeat by scoring two runs in the last of the ninth to nip the A's. Two straight pinch-hit doubles by Sherry Robertson and Eddie Stewart knotted the score at 2-2.

Before the game, Mr. Truman, in addition to throwing out the first ball, predicted that Washington would win 5-4. He came mighty close.

Last year he guessed that the Yankees would whip the Nats, 8-4. New York won 12-4. It marked the first time Washington won an opener under Mr. Truman's regime. The Senators had lost five inaugurals in a row.

Cards Face Park Suit

ST. LOUIS, April 18—(AP)—The St. Louis Browns filed suit today to evict the Cardinals from Sportsman's park, but attorneys predicted legal delays would assure the National league club of a home throughout the 1949 baseball season.

The eviction action plus a request for $222,500 damages is not expected to go to trial before September. Fred M. Saigh, who recently bought the Cardinal club, expressed confidence his team will still be the Browns' tenant after the court battle ends.

In going to court, the Browns followed up their ultimatum to the Cardinals in February to vacate the park property. The park is owned by the Browns but under a leasing arrangement it has been used by the Cardinals since 1920.

The Cardinals contend their present lease has two more years to run, with option to renew for ten years. The club has been paying an annual rental of $35,000, plus one-half the cost of maintenance during the playing season. The Browns have tried unsuccessfully to increase the rental and maintenance costs.

Lads in Marathon Links Performance

Dean Heinricks, 15, and Don Kowitz, 17, set out to make a record for themselves on the links Monday. The two Salem high students weren't aiming to crack any scoring marks. They were marathon-minded; they were interested in finding just how many holes they could play in the space of a day.

Starting at 8 a.m. on the Oak Knoll course, the lads had trekked over 72 holes when they quit at 6:45 p.m.

No one seems to know whether the 72 holes constitutes a local record or not. Asked for their scores, the boys remained mum.
