Good Progress Shown on New Recreation Building at Stayton

STAYTON—Good progress is being made on the new civic recreation building which is being built on the grounds purchased last summer by the Santiam Bean Festival association. Roy Philippi is chairman of the building project.

Much credit was given Everett Ward, co-chairman Philippi for his work in recruiting volunteer labor for the building which will be built with a minimum of paid skill.

Those who have been unable to contribute their work on the building, have donated $12 or the equivalent of their days work.

The first concrete for footings was poured Monday afternoon and by Tuesday the inside forms were up and the steel reinforcing was set up Wednesday. Work of setting the steel with trowels was being done Thursday and was to be finished by night.

It is planned to begin pouring concrete by June 4 with about 100 yards to be poured. It will be of the ready-mix type which will be brought to the site in trucks. Trusses have been ordered and it is hoped to be ready to set them in place June 14.

D. M. Fitzgerald is building foreman and his crew is composed of Frank Carter, Victor Rice, S. J. Conley, Luther Nokolby, Chester Dearick and Henry Parrish.

Labor has been donated, according to Fitzgerald, by Tom Goodman for himself, Joe Kientzer for Kent's Richfield Service station, Ken Farwell for Farwell's Pharmacy, Lawrence Kerber for Wurm's Meat Market, Bob Jones and Ralph Bickel and Bob James service station, Bob Schachtsick for Gil Schachtsick, Charles Morgan jr., for Charles S. Morgan, Jack Stewart for Eleanor's Beauty shop, A. C. Van Nuys for himself.

Fritze Lau for Porter and Lau, Frank Lindeman for Albus Drug store, John Kurtz for Santiam Hardware and Implement company, Malcolm Long for Stayton Hardware and Furniture company, Lee Klecker for Stayton Food market, and Wayne Lierman for Frey's grocery.

Pre-Holiday Stocks Slow

NEW YORK, May 27—(AP)—Wall Street started out on an early holiday week end today.

Business in the stock exchange latched up to one of the smallest figures of the year. Prices declined some to the year's lowest levels, but the losses were due more to buying apathy than to large offerings. Only 890,000 shares of stock changed hands in just three other sessions this year has volume been smaller. Turnover Thursday amounted to 700,000 shares.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 2 of one point to 62.2, a new low for the year.

Grains Post Large Declines

CHICAGO, May 27—(AP)—Fairly large declines were posted by grains and soybeans on the board of trade today. Lard also moved lower, but its losses were relatively small.

The market opened easy following overnight news that the senate had voted down the bill to give the commodity credit corporation authority to provide grain storage space. Several selling flurries hit the pits during the day and recoveries between them were limited.

Wheat closed 1¼-2½ lower, corn was ⅞-1⅜ lower, rye was 1½ lower, soybeans were ¾-2¼ lower and lard was 10 to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower.
