Grain Market Ends Higher

CHICAGO, June 3 —(AP)— Grain ended higher on the Board of Trade today, recovering from a mid-day sinking spell which followed an optimistic private crop forecast. The late rally was tied in with advancing prices for wheat in the southwest.

Wheat closed ¼-¾ higher, corn was ½-⅞ higher, oats were ¼-½ higher, rye was 2 to 2½ higher, soybeans were 2 cents lower to 1 higher and lard was 3 to 8 cents a hundred pounds lower.

The late rally in wheat followed word that the cash grain at Kansas City was selling at 22½ cents a bushel over the July future there, a gain of 4½ cents in the trading basis since late yesterday. Farmers were said to be balking at selling new crop wheat at prices reportedly as low as $1.50 a bushel.

Lumber, New Industry Speeds Growth of Linn Town of Foster

SWEET HOME—Its just a few years back when the town of Foster, located on Wiley creek, three miles east of Sweet Home, on highway 20, had a post office, general store, blacksmith shop, grist mill, 2-man sawmill and a "little red schoolhouse" where one teacher tutored a dozen or more youngsters. Today, the little village of Foster, like many other Oregon villages, has grown into a busy little city with modern stores and schools and other businesses.

The old general store and post office operated 40 years ago by J. P. Harrang (who retired several years ago) is still being operated at the same old stand. However, the old grist mill and sawmill, the blacksmith shop and the "little red school house" disappeared years ago. But instead of these, today we find modern machine shops, garages, filling stations, cafes, grocery store, general stores and one of the larger sawmills of the Pacific northwest, the Willamette National, where hundreds of men are employed.

No census of the modern Foster has been taken, but the population has increased by the hundreds in the past three years. More than 400 residents get their mail at the local post office. Many who live nearby are served by rural route and the star route that passes through the town. The prospect for further growth of the place is very good and citizens are very jubilant over what they think the future holds for them.

Instead of the "little red school house" and its one teacher, today Foster has two modern school houses and a gymnasium, but these were not sufficient to accommodate the 260 students enrolled for the 1948-49 term. Classes had to be held in the community hall and the church. Twelve instructors make up the faculty with Sam Cairnes, veteran Linn county school teacher, as principal.

The commencement for the 16 8th graders was held in the gymnasium Thursday evening, May 26, with a program as follows: Processional, Mary Lois Yunkers; invocation, Rev. Sam Kimball; class history, Sidney Walters; class poem, Leroy Hagle; class prophesy, Keith Teem; class will, Robert Brendle; class song, girls of the class; instrumental trio, Betty Murry, Twila Tabler, David Boyd; presentation of diplomas, Orvil Nye; benediction, Rev. Kimball; recessional, Mary Lois Yunker. Rev. Carl B. Mason, pastor of the Lebanon Methodist church, made the class address. Class motto: Not Evening by Dawn. Class flower: Roses. Class colors: Scarlet and Gold.

Friday, Principal Cairness with the school bus, took the graduating class to the coast for an outing at several points.

JEFFERSON — Varion Goin, fruit and dairy farmer north of town, this week announced picking would begin around June 15 in his nine acre cherry orchard. Prospects are for one of the best yields in recent years, and as Goin says, he's due for a good crop.

Forty percent of last year's cherry crop was lost and two years ago it was rained out. Two-thirds of Goin's orchard is planted to Royal Anns and a third to Lamberts. He has several acres planted to sour two years. He is asking pickers to cherries which will bear in about register now to begin picking June 15.
